MOTHERS MARCH BRINGS $9,812.13 TO POLIO FUND

Further Events Expected to Swell Total to Goal of $30,000.00

The Mother's March on Polio last Monday night throughout Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach, brought in $9,812.13 the money raised thus far in the current drive here, it was announced by a spokesman for the fund raising campaign.

Although drive officials have not reported a complete total of funds collected to date, receipts from various fund raising activities have been reported.

The Mother's March was conducted by members of the Junior Women's Club of Princess Anne County, Mrs. V. Alfred Etheridge and Mrs. Stanley C. Walker served as co-chairmen.

Funds were collected in the different schools in Virginia Beach and the following totals were reported: Virginia Beach High School, $11,071; W. T. Cooke, $27,141; Barclay School, $46.88; and Everett School, $67.63.

It was reported that $390.50 was raised through the parade on January 8. Of the total, $90 was collected by the children who posed as clowns.

It was announced that money realized from the merchants who are participating by donating a percentage of their profits has not been tabulated but that the information will be made public at a later date.

General Drive Chairman E. Ashley Haycox expressed satisfaction of the progress of the drive and noted that several future events are scheduled to aid the fund campaign.

Mary Kosloski, Polio Poster Girl, Visits Va. Beach

With a broad smile and twinkling eyes, the poster girl for the March of Dimes, the little Miss Mary Kosloski of Collierville, Tenn., 1948 Poster Girl for the March of Dimes, paid a short visit to Virginia Beach Wednesday morning. She was accompanied by her mother and Rear Admiral Jesse Johnson, USN, ret., Executive Secretary of the Norfolk Chapter for the March of Dimes.

Mary Kosloski and her mother have been on the eleven-week tour of the country making appearances on behalf of the 1948 March of Dimes Drive. Virginia Beach was not included in their itinerary. They were making an appearance in Norfolk and their time was very limited, however, both expressed themselves as being very anxious to see Virginia Beach. The trip and transportation were arranged by Rear Admiral Jesse Johnson, USN, ret. The party was met at the Cavalier Hotel by Mrs. Chief E. B. "Buddy" Bayne, Mrs. J. D. Canale and Mrs. George T. Mullen, who escorted them around the town making stops at Joe Phelps' (Continued on Page Five)

BIRDNECK POINT SHOW COMMITTEE

Rotarians to Observe Anniversary; Other Clubs to Join Honoring Day

Other civic clubs will join with the Virginia Beach Rotary Club to honor the fifteenth anniversary of the founding of Rotary International at a special meeting to be held on Thursday, February 17, it has been announced by Harold E. Kellum, chairman of the local Rotary Club's golden anniversary committee.

The joint meeting of Virginia Beach clubs is scheduled to open the beginning of service clubs, of which Rotary was the first to be organized on a national and then international basis. The meeting will be held in the Virginia Beach High School.

Speaker for the special meeting will be Admiral Rufus E. Rose, USN, of the Little Creek Amphibious Base. Subject of Admiral Rose's talk has not been announced.

While Rotary International is 50 years old, the local club observes its 28th birthday, having been formed in 1927. The club, at present, has 65 members. Herbert A. Holt, Jr., is president of the local club.

The original founder of Rotary in February, 1905, was the late Paul Harris, who was a young attorney in the city of Chicago at the time. Harris hit upon the idea of businessmen meeting together from a business standpoint and from loneliness.

In the early days the "get-togethers" were held in a different office each week in rotation. It was from this rotation idea that the organization eventually found its name—Rotary.

The golden anniversary international convention of Rotary will be held in Chicago this summer with the organization's number one club serving as host.

Joint Luncheon of DAR Chapters On February 22

Five chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution will celebrate George Washington's Birthday with a joint luncheon meeting on February 22 at 1 p. m. at the Norfolk Yacht and Country Club. Guest speaker will be Rear Admiral H. J. Wright, retired. The musical portion of the program will be under the direction of Mrs. J. Bryan Dudley of the Princess Anne Chapter.

The following chapters will be represented: Old Donation Chapter, Mrs. Lewis Littlepage, Sr., regent; Great Bridge Chapter, Mrs. Benjamin A. Dorett, regent; Borough of Norfolk Chapter, Mrs. David George, regent; Port Nelson Chapter, Portsmouth, Miss Mary E. Mills, regent; and Princess Anne County Chapter, Mrs. Robert Tynes, regent.

Reservations for the luncheon can be made through any chapter regent and must be in by February 15.

Murder Victim Found in County

The body of Elie Woodville Edwards, 45, a traveling salesman, was found on a lonely road near the eastern branch of the Long River in Princess Anne County. He had been riddled with bullets.

The murder victim had left his mother's home in Norfolk less than an hour before he met death. His body had been dumped from a car onto the road. Where the actual shooting took place has not been determined.

Virginia State Police and Princess Anne County authorities are looking for a young man with a high forehead. This is the only description available to police officials at this time. It was hoped that further information would come to light as a result of an autopsy.

The slain man's automobile was found by Special Investigator C. W. Logan just inside the Norfolk city limits on Broad Creek Road a few hours after the crime.

Edward's body was dumped from a car just 100 feet from Hurd's Restaurant in the county.

Local Girls Get Degrees in June

The Misses Audrey Lee Morse and Margaret Ann Felton, both of Virginia Beach, will complete the requirements for degrees at Longwood College, Farmville, at the end of the first semester, and will be awarded B.S. Degrees in Elementary Education at the commencement exercises in June.

Miss Morse has served as president of Delta Sigma Epsilon, social sorority, and as publicity advisor of Association of Childhood Education. She is also a member of Future Teachers of America.

Miss Felton is a member of the Colorado staff, student literary magazine, and Zeta Tau Alpha, social sorority.

Beach Composer On Air Friday

Warner Teyford will present on his weekly Sunday Night, February 6, radio program (WGH and WGH-FM at 8:45 p.m.) the three piano sketches by the Virginia Beach Composer Johan Franco, which were honored by the Piano Teachers Information Service of New York by their inclusion on the "List of the ten best teaching pieces published in 1954."

The composer will perform these himself.

Merchants Planning Sale

Progressive merchants of Virginia Beach are planning a "Washington's Birthday Sale" on Tuesday, February 22. It has been announced by a spokesman for the group who are participating in the promotion.

A special committee of merchants has been formed to coordinate the sale. The committee advises that any merchant who has not been contacted or who is not included in the group may join by contacting Sam Melnick, at the Outlet Store at 2018 Atlantic avenue.

A special newspaper about the sale will be mailed to all citizens of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County for delivery on Monday, February 21, and other publicity will be given on the sale. Each merchant is paying $24 to the committee and anyone wishing to be included in the sale promotion should make out a "check to Virginia Beach Merchants Association" and attach it to advertising copy desired in the special issue.

Arthur Rollins, Jr. Will Speak at School Feb. 9th

Arthur Rollins, Jr., a gifted decorator from Norfolk, has been chosen as speaker by the Virginia Beach Art Association for its 3rd lecture of the season to be held at the Virginia Beach High School Library, February 9.

His subject for the evening, scheduled to start at 8:15 o'clock, will be "Decorating—Traditional and Contemporary, with the general interchanging of both." Mr. Rollins, well-known in the Tidewater area, has demonstrated his decorating ability as a member of the staff of Gernher's, Inc., of Norfolk. Prior to that he was associated with the Willis Furniture Company.

Youth Bureau Nears Reality In PA County

A dream of many years is nearing the stage of reality in Princess Anne County with the establishment of a youth bureau expected within the next few weeks, according to Jim Ed Moore, chief of the county's police department. The idea of such a bureau to aid the youth of the county in those years where guidance is needed most has been fostered by Moore for several years. Heretofore, the establishment of such an adjunct to the police department has been delayed because of lack of office space to carry on the work required.

With the new building for the police department nearing completion and actual occupancy expected sometime next week, Moore is enthused over the prospect of getting a youth bureau underway.

"We realize our dream of a youth bureau when we move into our new building," Moore said. "While juvenile delinquency in Princess Anne County has not been a serious problem, we have felt for some time that the establishment of a youth bureau properly administered would aid us in helping juveniles and in maintaining our good record. 'The police chief said."

Moore stated that the idea of a youth bureau had been under consideration for some time and that officials had been waiting for the completion of the new building in order to move into the house the necessary files and records coincident with such a department.

The County Police Chief indicated that Fred W. Strunescu, a member of the Princess Anne County Department, would supervise the work of the bureau. Strunescu has served with the Virginia Beach Police Department prior to joining the county force. While with the Virginia Beach Department (Continued on Page Six)

Charges Vicious Smear Against Self and Family

R. R. "Buddy" McChesney, who announced last month that he would seek the office of Sheriff for Princess Anne County in next July's election, issued a statement Tuesday withdrawing from the race.

McChesney's statement caught many political observers by surprise, although the move had been rumored in some quarters for several days.

In his statement, McChesney referred to "a vicious whispering campaign, designed to cast reflections on my character and integrity, even to the extent of involving my family."

McChesney also stated that when he announced he said "I would fight fair and square and meet all of the issues as they came up."

The full text of McChesney's statement follows:

"When I announced my candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Princess Anne County, I made the statement that it was time for the Sheriff's office to be conducted in a manner that would reflect credit on the people of Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach; and that I would fight fair and square and meet all of the issues as they came up."

Since that time I have been the victim of a vicious whispering campaign, designed to cast reflections on my character and integrity, even to the extent of involving my family."

The facts are: When I was twenty-two years of age I learned that there was a vacant seat on Mr. William K. Ryan's plane going to Florida and I rode down there on this plane. I left the plane at the airport in Florida and did not spend any time with any member of this group while in Florida. After spending a few days there I returned to Virginia Beach by bus at my own expense.

This incident has been exaggerated and distorted out of all proportions to the true facts.

The people of the City of Virginia Beach where I have lived all of my life, know my character and reputation, and realize that I am not a politically motivated and therefore resent it.

Because I feel that this deliberate smear has already aroused suspicion about me in the minds of those voters of Princess Anne County who do not know me to the point where I may not be able to overcome it during the course (Continued on Page Five)

Businessman, Civic Leader, In July Primary

John E. Marr, well known businessman and civic leader of Dorset Corner in Princess Anne County, announced Tuesday night that he would be a candidate for sheriff with the backing of the dominant Democratic organization. His announcement followed by a few hours the withdrawal of R. R. "Buddy" McChesney from the race.

Marr replaced McChesney after the latter decided to withdraw from the political arena because a "vicious whispering campaign" had been launched against him by his opponent. McChesney stated that a distortion of facts were aimed at smearing his character and family.

The newest candidate is 39 years old and is secretary and treasurer of the Princess Anne Livestock Market. He immediately announced his candidacy as soon as McChesney's withdrawal was made known.

Marr issued the following statement:

"The position of county Sheriff is a public trust and the Sheriff should not only observe the law, but should enforce it," Marr said. "This I promise to do, by and with the cooperation of other law enforcement agencies to the fullest extent, in an impartial and fair manner."

"Between now and the election, I shall conduct an active campaign. If elected, I shall devote my full time and utmost efforts to the office of Sheriff."

Marr's office is in Dorset Corner and he has been a member of the county government. For Marr, a community leader and senior member of the board of trustees of the Kempsville Hospital, this is his initial entry into the often red hot Princess Anne political arena.

It means also that Marr will take on incumbent Sheriff G. Roger Malbon, who broke with the organization and is trying his political future with a ticket of anti-organization candidates. A third candidate in the race is J. Hugh Barnes, who announced as an independent.

GRAND JURY IS NAMED

A five-man grand jury for Princess Anne County has been announced. The jury will serve for 1955.

Named to the jury were W. W. Parsons, Frank A. Duchs, George C. Lyon, Mrs. Adelia Dudley and Robert L. Gordon.

Solution of Three Key Problems Is Sought by Heart Researchers

By E. COWLES ANDRUS, M. D., President, American Heart Association

The fate of millions of Americans, now living and yet unborn, depends upon the speed with which research scientists find the answers to these three questions:

1. What causes the arteries to become thickened, roughened and narrowed by the entry of the blood flow and nourishment of the tissues, and setting the stage for heart attack?

2. What are the exact mechanisms responsible for the abnormal constriction of the tiny ends of the arteries, causing high blood pressure?

3. What are the exact mechanisms through which step infection leads to rheumatic fever, and consequently to rheumatic heart disease?

These three conditions—hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, and rheumatic fever—came more than ninety percent of all heart disease.

The basic causes of these disorders are unknown. Until they are found, the likelihood of relieving them and control is lessened accordingly.

The importance of our finding the answers to these three problems is emphasized by the fact that the disease of the heart now causes more than 750,000 deaths annually.

In their quest for new knowledge about these three conditions, heart researchers have developed a great many promising ideas which are being intensively followed up.

Moreover, they have made possible great progress in the diagnosis, prevention, and treatment of the heart disease.

Let us consider just a few of the more dramatic advances which are saving hearts today.

Initial and recurrent attacks of rheumatic fever are being prevented through penicillin and effective use of antibiotics.

Antibiotics have made possible a recovery rate of better than 90 percent of moderate bacterial endocarditis, a heart infection once almost invariably fatal.

In many thousands of cases, it has been demonstrated that surgery can often repair heart valves damaged as a result of rheumatic fever prevent certain abnormalities present at birth (as in "blue babies"), and repair (Continued on Page Three)

Safety Poster Urges Pedestrians 'Look Both Ways Before Crossing'

A whimsical, eye-catching poster urging children to "Look Both Ways Before Crossing" is being distributed by the Tidewater Automobile Association of Virginia, Inc., to schools in this area.

The poster slogan is the theme of the February traffic safety lesson that will be stressed in elementary classrooms this month.

John H. Day, vice president of the Tidewater Automobile Association, urged parents to discuss the same message with their children so that the slogan will have a "double impact." He pointed out that "Look Both Ways Before Crossing" is a cardinal rule of pedestrian traffic safety, and no matter whether a child is crossing under the guidance of a school safety patrol member, a policeman, or with the green light, it is still of the utmost importance to check traffic conditions.

The poster that bears the slogan was drawn by Mary Ann McConnell, a student at Potomac Junior High School, Potomac, Pa. Her poster won first prize in its division in the 19th Annual Traffic Safety Poster Contest under sponsorship of the American Automobile Association.

Mr. Day said that he wished very much that more adults also would heed the safety slogan of "Look Both Ways Before Crossing." "You are never completely safe when you are walking in the same area that must also be shared by automobiles. Your best protection is to cross where you are supposed to," he said, "and even if you have the right of way, you should always look both ways."

Radar Ship USS Guardian Called Essential Factor in National Defense

The newly named ocean station radar ship USS Guardian (YAGR-1) was declared to be "an essential factor in our national defense" by Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas, in a recent letter to the ship's prospective commanding officer.

In a letter received in January by Lieut. Robert E. Euliss, USN, prospective commanding officer of the Guardian, the secretary extended his "best wishes" to the lieutenant and his crew. He said: "The USS YAGR-1 is the first in a recently established class of ocean radar station ships designed to strengthen our continental air defenses, an essential factor in our national defense."

The secretary continued: "The great import of your task and mission should be a challenge to you and the officers and men under your command, to establish and continue in the USS YAGR-1 these high standards and traditions of our Navy."

The Skywatcher is undergoing conversion at Portsmouth, while the Lookout and Searcher are at Charleston, S. C.

Lieutenant Euliss, who assumed command of the Guardian Tuesday is a veteran of 25 years Naval service.

He entered the Navy in 1930, and after serving on various ships and stations, worked his way to the top enlisted grade, chief petty officer (quartermaster). In early 1943 Euliss was appointed to the rank of warrant officer. Later the same year, he received his commission as ensign.

In 1944 he was given a spot promotion to lieutenant and was assigned command of the LST 875, a post he held throughout the Philippines and Okinawa campaigns.

In 1947 Lieutenant Euliss reported for shore duty on the East coast and in 1949 assumed command of the USS LST 519.

In 1952 he reported to Fifth Naval District Headquarters for duty in the office of the Reserve coordinator. He was recently selected for promotion to Lieutenant Commander.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Euliss, the former Miss Mary K. Reynolds of Jacksonville, Fla., and their son, Robert, Jr., 19, reside at 116 Burleigh Avenue, Norfolk.

SOCIALIST MAYORS
Three American cities had Socialist mayors last year. The cities, according to the American Peoples Encyclopedia, are Milwaukee, Wis., Bridgeport and Newark, Conn. At one time the American Socialists were a strong party, but now their membership is only about 33,000, according to the encyclopedia.

The biggest denomination of regular currency Uncle Sam makes is the $10,000 bill. There are said to be 770 of them in circulation.

State Calendar Planned for '56

The board of directors of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce has authorized the publication of a Virginia calendar for 1956, which will carry an invitation to visit the Old Dominion during the Jamestown anniversary celebration in 1957.

Announcement of the board's decision came from Hollister V. Schenck, of Richmond, president of the State Chamber.

Schenck said the calendars will serve to promote Virginia and to focus attention on the coming Jamestown festival.

He said the Chamber calendars will feature photographs by Phil Flournoy, director of the photographic department with the State Chamber, who has won recognition throughout Virginia and nationally for his work.

The illustrations on the calendars will all be on Virginia subjects, according to Schenck. The calendars will be available in several forms, he stated.

EASY DOES IT
It's much easier to remove soiled spots and stain if you "lock in" the spot by using embroidery hoops on the material. Brushing, sponging or pouring boiling water over the stain is simpler when the material is taut.

Plastic draperies which are faded make wonderful bags or slipcovers in which to store clothing as well as linens. Just fold the draperies together and sew the two sides together.

Old sheer curtains make into wonderful diabolos. Simply sew several thicknesses together and stitch the edges together with bias tape.

Trying covering both hands with a pair of old wool socks. You can then do a wonderful polishing and buffing job on furniture with both hands working at the same time.

When windows require putty, mix together putty and paint and you will not have to putty first and then paint around the windows.

CP Directors Hear Reports On Clinic Work

Directors of the United Cerebral Palsy of Virginia met Tuesday at the Downtown Club, Raleigh Hotel, Richmond, recently were given a report of progress on another cerebral palsy diagnosis and evaluation clinic officially opened on January 3 at the University of Virginia Hospital, Charlottesville. The report was given by Robert M. Sibley, director in charge of program services for UCP of Virginia.

Dr. Lambert Moynaux, Charlottesville, presided and accepted the interesting, factual report.

Mr. Sibley declared that the clinic, under the supervision of Dr. J. Hamilton Allan, is operated on a donation of $13,348.00 from UCP of Virginia. This money is partly derived from a percentage of funds donated by the public during the annual cerebral palsy campaign in the month of May, conducted by UCP affiliates in Richmond, Portsmouth, Peninsula, Norfolk, Fairfax County and Prince George County. Supplemental funds were from the Community Chest of Charlottesville and other Virginia communities.

"Similar clinics," declared Mr. Sibley, "have been sponsored and operated by UCP affiliates in Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News and Richmond. The University of Virginia Hospital clinic is the only clinic which is jointly sponsored by all seven affiliates of UCP associations in Virginia."

Dr. Louise Galvin, chief of the Virginia Crippled Children's Bureau, is cooperating by assigning Mrs. Virginia Keith, field secretary for the bureau, in locating children in Virginia who are afflicted with cerebral palsy. Mr. Sibley disclosed.

He continued, "Dr. Mariano Cooper, orthopedist, Miss Sally Hubbard, occupational therapist, and Miss Ruth Brown physiotherapist, studied at the Children's Rehabilitation Institute for Cerebral Palsy, Reisterstown, Md., under Dr. Winthrop Phelps. The cost of their tuition was paid by UCP of Virginia."

He points to a recent outbreak of VE in a Virginia farm where garbage cooking was done. Investigation showed that during the cooking process some parts of the garbage were not being brought to the proper temperature.

This indicates that all garbage fed to hogs should be kept at 212° for 30 minutes if the disease is to be controlled. "Any relaxation, even temporary, can result in an outbreak that could cause large financial losses," he warned.

Constant Care May Prevent VE
Constant vigilance is necessary to control vesicular exanthema or VE disease in hogs, cautions Dr. S. L. Kallson, veterinarian at the VPI Extension Service.

He points to a recent outbreak of VE in a Virginia farm where garbage cooking was done. Investigation showed that during the cooking process some parts of the garbage were not being brought to the proper temperature.

This indicates that all garbage fed to hogs should be kept at 212° for 30 minutes if the disease is to be controlled. "Any relaxation, even temporary, can result in an outbreak that could cause large financial losses," he warned.

Crackdown Threatened On Those Feeding Hogs Half-Done Garbage

The new year will bring a crackdown on the few garbage-feeding farmers who are half-hearted about cooking their garbage to prevent the spread of vesicular exanthema, Dr. W. L. Bendix, State Veterinarian, promised this week.

With hog shipments from the state of South Carolina already shut off because of the highly contagious disease, Dr. Bendix declared he would take no more chances of similar Virginia outbreaks.

For the first six months under Virginia's new law requiring the cooking of all commercial garbage fed to swine, State Department of Agriculture inspectors have been showing garbage feeders how to get the job done.

Now, Dr. Bendix said, it is time to get after the few who have taken the whole thing too lightly. There is a good reason, he said, why the law says that all garbage fed to swine commercially must be boiled for at least 30 minutes. Garbage is the principal source of "VE." Pork scraps from infected carcasses pass the disease on to healthy hogs.

But the VE virus is hard to kill. A few germs hiding in the center of a big pork bone are enough to infect a herd feeding on the garbage unless the heat penetrates to the center of the bone and kills them.

In several Virginia outbreaks on farms where they were cooking garbage, inspectors have found that all of the garbage in the vat was not getting boiled.

Department inspectors now carry specially designed thermometers to take temperatures in all portions of garbage cooking vats to make sure that no VE germs survive.

Beginning the first of this year these inspectors are keeping a record of all temperatures taken in each vat, Dr. Bendix said. Two consecutive temperature reports indicating the garbage is not being properly cooked will mean the department will take steps toward prosecution.

Convictions under the garbage cooking law carry a fine of $100 to $500, and each day can mean a separate offense and an added fine, Dr. Bendix said.

Most of Virginia's 260-odd commercial feeders are doing a good job of cooking and finding that it more than pays for itself. The cooking also destroys the germs of trichinosis, hog cholera, erysipelas, and other hog diseases, and cuts death losses down.

In addition, shoats can be started on pure garbage earlier, and will make better utilization of the feed, it was stated.

Advantages in Artificial Insemination

Artificial breeding of dairy cattle has many advantages—chief among them prevention of genital diseases—says Dr. S. L. Kallson, veterinarian at VPI Agricultural Extension Service.

Of this group of diseases, trichomoniasis and vibriosis are spread primarily by natural service. Adding antibiotics to semen, particularly streptomycin, makes it incapable of spreading vibriosis. The technique of insemination reduces the possibility of spreading trichomoniasis to a minimum.

Breeding the entire dairy herd artificially with semen from bulls free of trichomoniasis to which antibiotics have been added eliminates these two diseases as possible causes of reproductive failure. Semen that meets these requirements is available to dairymen in most areas of Virginia, Dr. Kallson points out.

More familiar to dairymen is the improvement in production and type that results from the use of artificial insemination. This is a proved fact, and indications are that it may even exceed original expectations, Dr. Kallson declares.

TB Problem Far From Solution Says Expert

"Nothing could be farther from the truth than the impression which seems to be going around that the problem of tuberculosis has been largely solved and it is now possible to turn our attention to other matters." This is the theme of an editorial by Dr. E. C. Drash, Chief of Thoracic (chest) Surgery at the University of Virginia Hospital, Charlottesville, in the January, 1955, issue of the Virginia Medical Monthly. "Great advances have been made," said Drash, "but tuberculosis is still the first cause of death in certain age groups."

One of the most acute problems arising out of the remarkable success of the antituberculous drugs cited by Drash is the reluctance of patients to remain in the hospital long enough to guarantee full recovery from TB. "Too much publicity is being given to statements that many patients do not need sanatorium care," Drash stated. "Such statements tend to give anyone who is likely to make it more and more difficult to persuade anyone to go to a sanatorium or to keep him there after he arrives."

The TB patient who leaves the sanatorium against medical advice is a danger to himself and others, warned Drash, because interruption of treatment of this disease increases the chance of its recurrence, results in longer illness and gives it a better chance to kill the patient. There is also the very real danger that the patient's particular tuberculosis germ will become drug-resistant so that treatment by drugs will be useless.

"The physician must guard against the plea and persuasion of the patient who wishes to remain at home rather than to go to the sanatorium," said Drash, "even though he understands completely what the patient's separation from home and family may mean in heartache. If the patient has positive sputum it means he has an ulcerative disease even though it may not be found by X-ray. The patient needs the expert care of the trained and experienced physicians in the sanatorium to guide him through the long and arduous road to a cure. These physicians base the use and selection of drugs and other therapy and the proper timing of their use on wide knowledge and experience. The layman or early use of drugs at home without definite diagnosis or positive sputum may hopelessly confuse the case and produce unsatisfactory, even tragic results," emphasized Drash.

Most patients need special help in facing the problems of their disease when it is first diagnosed, the surgeon pointed out, and that help is best rendered in a sanatorium where trained medical-social and rehabilitation workers can support the patient's moral courage and aid in guiding him back to a normal, productive existence. The layman or early use of drugs at home without definite diagnosis or positive sputum may hopelessly confuse the case and produce unsatisfactory, even tragic results," emphasized Drash.

Dr. Drash served on the 1953 Governor's Advisory Committee on Tuberculosis Control, has been re-appointed to the committee by Governor Stanley, and currently is president of the Virginia Tuberculosis Society, medical section of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association.

Clover Seed In Short Supply

This year there's a shortage of red and alkali clover seed and farmers must decide during the next few weeks how they're going to meet the problem.

Agronomists at VPI Agricultural Extension Service say actually the seed supply of the two legumes is the smallest in years — about 80 per cent of average. They suggest substituting other legumes to make up for the shortage of red and alkali clover seed. Fortunately supplies of lamino and most varieties of alfalfa adapted to Virginia are abundant enough to help fill the need. Farmers are urged to talk with their county agents early to get specific recommendations on suitable legume mixtures that can be planted this spring.

Nature is right in her choice of color for snow, according to 97 per cent of the folks who bought artificial snow in several counties last year. While the synthetic flakes were offered in a variety of colors, the overwhelming majority of buyers preferred them in white.

Diethylstilbestrol Endorsed For Use in Fatening Rations, But With Certain Limitations

The current flood of inquiries from livestock producers about the use of diethylstilbestrol in fattening rations has brought forth a "yes, it's all right with certain limitations," from VPI authorities.

The following statement was issued after conferences between members of the department of animal husbandry and biochemistry and nutrition:

"We believe that diethylstilbestrol will improve gain in steers fed a fattening ration for a reasonable period — 100 to 150 days — in dry lot. We recommend that its use be limited to this specific condition, and that the daily intake should not exceed 10 milligrams per animal."

In the feed trade, the material is also known by the shortened name, "stilbestrol" or "stilbest." Results of trials and recommendations have been announced by Iowa State, which has licensed a commercial chemical concern to manufacture the material. Several feed manufacturers have also been licensed to use the material in their protein supplement mixes and they give specific directions as to how such mixes should be fed.

Other observations by the VPI specialists are:

"Information is not available to show the effects of diethylstilbestrol feeding on the carcass grade, yield, and quality of fat tissue."

"With fattening steers fed good quality hay and silage, present information indicates that diethylstilbestrol in simple oil-meal supplements is as effective as when it is used in complex supplements containing added vitamins and minerals."

"There is insufficient information at the present," the experts conclude, "to recommend the use of diethylstilbestrol in fattening rations for sheep or for fattening lambs. Such rations should not be fed to breeding animals — cattle, sheep, or swine."

Quick Boost for Early Feed Production Possible

A quick boost to early feed production in 1955 is possible if you topdress fall-seeded small grains with nitrogen, preferably between now and March 15.

Grains that will be used for grazing silage or hay, or a combination, should have application at the rate of 30 to 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre. Where small grains will be used for grain only, decrease the rate to the point where lodging will not be expected. Soils of low fertility and sandy soils need more nitrogen for efficient small grain production.

Generally, 2 or 3 pounds of nitrogen will increase small grain yields by one bushel per acre, although this varies.

Costs of nitrogen fertilizer also will vary, but usually as the percent of nitrogen contained in the material increases, the price per pound of nitrogen decreases. In small grain production there is no apparent difference in the effect of nitrogen from various sources or in different nitrate fertilizer materials. The important thing is to get as much nitrogen as possible to use efficiently at the lowest possible cost per unit of plant food.

Cattle Grub Controlled With Test Sprays

An experimental, phosphate-type insecticidal spray that is lethal to the cattle grub has been found by entomologists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Reporting on the USDA results Dr. J. O. Rowell, entomologist at VPI, says scores of new insecticidal sprays have been tested in recent years, but this is the first to prove as effective as the standard rotenone against this destructive insect parasite of cattle.

The material, designated for simplicity as 21/190, is technically, 2-chloro-4-methylumbelliferone 9,9-diethylthiophosphate. Dr. Rowell stressed the preliminary nature of the tests and cautioned that until much more is learned about the toxic effect of the spray (on cattle), livestock men should continue to depend on rotenone for cattle grub control.

Farm Bureau Announces New Weight Service

Virginia farmers may now upon request obtain from state weighing stations printed copies of their truck weights, to be used in eliminating "short weights" at the buyers' scales, M. A. Hubbard, executive secretary of the Virginia Farm Bureau Federation, announced.

The request for this service was made by Hubbard in December, based on a resolution passed by the voting delegates from member counties of the Farm Bureau.

Hubbard stated that "Virginia farmers selling bulk produce by weight to processors outside of the state are having an increasing problem with short weights at the processors' scales and Virginia farmers buying products outside of the state also have difficulty in obtaining reliable weights on incoming loads."

"The trucks hauling this produce are generally weighed at state weighing stations in and out of Virginia to determine compliance with our weight limit law and the weighing machine makes a printed record of the truck's weight," Hubbard said.

"We think that the printed slip given to haulers will provide protection for both sellers and buyers of produce. The slip made at the time the hauler's truck is weighed will also contain the date, time, and registration number of the truck," he declared.

Husband, Wife, Have Parts in "10 Little Indians"

Playing important roles in the Little Theatre's forthcoming production of the well-known mystery-comedy by Agatha Christie, "Ten Little Indians," which will be presented February 14 and 15 at the Virginia Beach High School are the husband and wife team of Jean and Henry Arnold. Newcomers to the local group, they are active in high school and college drama, and came to Virginia Beach from the Peninsula Little Theatre, where they played leading roles in "The Gramercy Ghost," and also took part in all phases of backstage activities. It is in the role of the husband, Jean, who was the first director of the Virginia Beach Little Theatre, and one of its founders, and has done such outstanding work with the Peninsula Little Theatre, referred these two fine young actors to the local orator.

Mrs. Arthur Masury, director, has announced the following production staff for "Ten Little Indians":

Stage manager, Natalie Gentry; set design, Pat Wade; set design, Ann Peniston; and light design, master carpenter, Miles Chappell; assistants, David Gould and Gary Sprunger; properties, Pat Wade; assistant, Don Peterson; costumes, Kitty Manby and Barbara Kelly; make-up, Betty Munford and Ann McManis; sound, Warren Wade; publicity, Lisa Sila, Hans Tucker and Ann Henry program, Phyllis Harrell; tickets, Jane Addenbrook.

Tickets for "Ten Little Indians" may be purchased prior to the opening of the box office on March of Dimes workers, who are in charge of the sale of 500 tickets donated by the Little Theatre to the Polio Fund drive.

EASY DOES IT

Pats require a cool place for storage and they should be tightly covered. Prevent their coming in contact with strong flavored foods. Cooking and salad oils are best stored in a cool place, also tightly covered. To assure safety, store in the refrigerator.

Honey need not be discarded if it crystallizes. Liquify by placing the container in water which is about 104°F until the honey melts. High temperatures may injure flavor as well as color.

Crop Improvement Association to Meet

The annual membership meeting of the Virginia Crop Improvement Association has been scheduled for February 18 in Richmond.

The morning session will feature the election of officers and other business. Matters affecting growers of certified seed will be discussed in the afternoon.

DEATHS

THOMAS W. HENDERSON

Funeral services for Thomas W. Henderson, 62, president of Henderson and Phillips, Inc., insurance company, who died in Baltimore Sunday after two years of failing health were conducted at Christ and St. Luke's Church Tuesday. The Rev. Henry Barton, rector of the Eastern Shore Chapel, officiated. Interment was in Elmwood Cemetery.

A past president of the Norfolk Community Fund, Henderson had long been interested in welfare work in Norfolk. Joining the insurance firm of Burroughs and Jeffries shortly after his graduation from Norfolk High School in 1918, he advanced through two transfers of the company until in 1946 he became president of what was then known as Dobie, Bell and Henderson, Inc. In 1948 the company became Henderson and Phillips, Inc., when George O. Phillips and Henderson purchased the Dobie interests.

Mr. Henderson served as president of the firm until his death. He was also president of the Norfolk Association of Insurance Agents and a past president of the Virginia Association of Insurance Agents.

His other current activities included membership on the board of directors of the Community Chest, executive committee of the Council of Social Agencies, the Advisory Commission to the Department of Public Welfare, and the Board of Directors of Norfolk General Hospital.

He was a member of the Princess Anne Country Club and the Virginia Club.

Mr. Henderson resided on Pine-wood Road, Linkhorn Park, Virginia Beach. He was the son of James MacMurdo Henderson and the late Josephine Hunt Henderson. Besides his father he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Claudie Perkins Henderson; two sons, Thom W. Henderson, Jr., and Robert S. Henderson; one sister, Mrs. Edward W. Withers, all of Norfolk; one brother, James MacMurdo Henderson, Jr., of Sarasota, Fla., and two grand-children.

Princess Training School Notes

We are breathing freely again around Princess Anne Training School, now that the examinations are over. Last week, all of the students were busy during some last minute cramming. It seemed as if every other student had his head buried in a book. Everything around the campus was pretty dry, but believe me, things got on the ball again Thursday afternoon.

There was no school on Friday night. We played South Hampton. What a game! Mr. Charles Williams, and the fabulous Mr. Dolson Haynes really scored some points. This game was really a victory for Princess Anne. The final score was 48-28. The girls played an exciting preliminary game, although they were defeated.

Rollins to Speak

will be a double delight for Mr. Rollins — first because he will be speaking on his favorite subject, and secondly because it will take him back to the days when he appeared on the stage of the New York theatre circuit.

He started his artistic career majoring in art and music at Davidson College in North Carolina after which he attended the Goodman Memorial Theatre School of Drama in Chicago. Later in New York he studied theatre design and decoration with the famous designer Jan Spencer.

Mrs. Thomas Kennedy, president of the Art Association, has asked that as many members as possible be present at this lecture meeting. At this time a nominating committee is to be elected to bring in a new slate of officers for the coming year.

The Art Association lecture series is open to all members and their guests. Mrs. Charles Werts, secretary for the organization, has announced that memberships are open to any resident of the area. More information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Werts at Virginia Beach 1921-J.

Solution of Three

other heart conditions previously considered hopeless.

Relief is being brought to many thousands of heart sufferers thru new drugs, new dietary controls and new therapeutic techniques.

Diagnostic and study tools are constantly improving.

All of these facts resolve themselves into a hopeful picture.

High on the list of factors warranting optimism is a change of basic attitude. Slowly but surely man is discarding the view that heart disease is necessarily fatal. He is casting off needless fears. He is becoming increasingly aware that some forms of heart disease can be prevented, some can be cured, and almost all cases can be best cared for by proper treatment after early diagnosis.

The public, too, has gained new hope from the nationwide crusade against diseases of the heart and blood vessels that is supported by the Heart Fund. Through the Heart Fund, the public help joins with medical science in fighting heart disease with research, professional and public education and community heart programs.

These programs are administered by your Heart Association. Its meaningful appeal — "Help Your Heart — Help Your Heart" — merits the thoughtful consideration of every American.

PFC. ROBERT L. HICKS

Army Pfc. Robert L. Hicks, 21, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Hicks live at Virginia Beach, is participating in Exercise "Follow Me," a simulated atomic warfare maneuver at Fort Benning, Ga.

His wife, Florence, lives in Baltimore, Md.

Hicks is regularly stationed at Fort Knox, Ky., with the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment's Company G as a driver. The exercise at Fort Benning will last for approximately three months.

Hicks entered the army in April of 1948 and completed basic training at Camp Aterbury, Ind.

VIOLET SOCIETY PLANS EXHIBIT, FASHION SHOW

The January meeting of the Princess Anne African Violet Society met at the home of Mrs. A. J. Kestenes, president of the club. The members voted for a card party, violet exhibits and on March 23, Mrs. Paul Earl and Mrs. W. R. Jordan were named chairman and co-chairman respectively. Committee chairman and final arrangements will be announced in the near future.

At conclusion of business the President Mrs. Kestenes introduced Mr. William Hawk, who represents the California Chemical Spray Company. Mr. Hawk lectured on "A better way to grow more beautiful violets." He also showed slides and demonstrated the use of Ortho products for gardening. This proved very interesting and informative.

Ribbons were given for arrangements, with violets predominating. Mrs. L. C. Mallory won the blue ribbon and red ribbons were won by Mrs. H. E. Billop and Mrs. W. R. Jordan.

A social hour was enjoyed by all, with the hostesses, Mrs. H. E. Harless and Mrs. Len Garrison.

FACTS - NOT INSINUATIONS

Last week the SUN-NEWS stated in an editorial that the political campaign for Princess Anne offices subject to the July election should be a campaign dealing in facts and that the issues should be squarely faced. We were hoping that the "Dunn Machine" would do this, but last week Dunn attacked Robert S. Wahab, Jr., who is being opposed by Dunn's hand-picked candidate for commonwealth's attorney.

Dunn started right off by saying in the January 27th issue of his newspaper that Wahab should resign as chairman of the Continuing Board of Assessors for Princess Anne County. We believe that Dunn knew, at the time he wrote the article, that Wahab had already resigned this position and that the resignation had been accepted and each of the other members of the board had been notified.

We say that we believe Dunn knew these facts because the information was entered on the order book in the clerk's office at Princess Anne and it is known that Dunn reads the order book regularly.

The head of the "Dunn Machine" also insinuated that Wahab, if elected, would not be able to exercise free judgment in matters pertaining to his office and cited as examples several individuals, namely, Warfield Leeke, Lawrence Lockwood, W. Russell Hatchett, Philip Ancell, W. W. McClanahan, Jr., Robert L. Simpson, Clarence Hayman and William F. Hudgins.

Since this is a campaign in which all facts should be made known and the caliber of candidates tested, the SUN-NEWS believes that if Dunn or any of those above who have been named by Dunn has any facts or reliable information whereby they were ever requested to do anything wrong now is the time for them to come forward and tell who made such a request and when they were asked to do it.

It may be alright for Dunn and the likes of Dunn to use a lot of "hogwash" and insinuations to sell their newspaper, but in July the voters of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County will elect their officials for the next four years, and we feel they are entitled to all factual information insofar as it affects the candidacy of anyone. And, insinuations and innuendos are not enough.

Two weeks ago seven prominent local attorneys in Virginia Beach endorsed Wahab's candidacy for the office of commonwealth's attorney. Some of these attorneys had previously been approached by Roger Malbon to run on a ticket with him, and at that time these attorneys were considered by Malbon and Dunn's group to be outstanding attorneys. Just as soon as these attorneys endorsed Wahab, Dunn's newspaper attempted to belittle these endorsements even though he knew that out of nine or ten practicing attorneys in Virginia Beach, the seven who have given any endorsement whatever, have given endorsements to Bob Wahab and not to Dunn's hand-picked candidate, "Bustie" Heath. Some more facts in place of insinuations.

The SUN-NEWS believes there should be an examination of the candidates insofar as their qualifications are concerned, their background, their past record and their determination to serve the people of Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach. This is the approach to the campaign that should be given to the election and the candidates by every voter.

THE RECORD

Last week Willie Dunn, as usual, did not give facts but insinuated that Frank Tarrall's record since he took office as a Virginia Beach City Councilman last September 1 did not agree with his (Tarrall's) campaign statement that though sponsored by the organization he would function strictly for the good of the people of all factions. Dunn then states that Robert S. Wahab, Jr., who is running for the office of commonwealth's attorney, should familiarize himself with Tarrall's record since taking office. Dunn has said nothing as usual but creates a question in the minds of some. So, let's look at the record.

In seven meetings of the council, both regular and special, since September 1, a total of 61 motions have been made and Tarrall has voted "aye" to every motion put to the council. He has never failed to cast a vote on a matter placed before council.

On the other hand, W. W. McClanahan, Jr., who was elected on a ticket opposing Tarrall, has voted "aye" 57 times, "naye" three times, and abstained from voting on one occasion.

W. C. Everett, who was elected on the ticket with McClanahan that opposed the ticket on which Tarrall was elected, also has a similar voting record as a member of the council. Everett has voted "naye" only once and has abstained from voting one time.

Just what Dunn meant to infer is not clear in directing attention to Tarrall's voting record as a member of the Virginia Beach City Council. There is hardly any difference in the voting records of the three council members, McClanahan, Tarrall and Everett. It is still another insinuation or innuendo by Willie Dunn that cannot be backed up with facts. He just doesn't want to present facts because they would not agree with his way of thinking.

A CANDIDATE WITHDRAWS

The decision of R. R. "Buddy" McChesney not to be a candidate for the office of Sheriff in next July's election demonstrates courage rarely seen in candidates for public office.

As soon as McChesney's candidacy was announced there began a whispering campaign to the effect that some eight or ten years ago he had gone to Florida on an airplane owned by Mr. William K. Ryan, and although this, in itself, is not wrong, it had been distorted to such a degree that the true facts were lost in the shuffle. In order not to involve his family or any candidates who may have run on a ticket with him in such distorted issues, McChesney has withdrawn his candidacy.

This decision seems to be a part of the organization's determination to go before the electorate with a group of candidates who are above suspicion in the slightest degree. And, McChesney, by his withdrawal from the race, has shown this is what he wants to take place. His courage and forthrightness should serve as a warning to other candidates who in all probability have been guilty of real wrongdoings to either withdraw or face the facts because this is a campaign in which we feel the facts should be placed squarely before the people.

The people who know "Buddy" McChesney well appreciate his courage and determination to see that the campaign is kept on a high level.

At one time his blood pressure was up near the boiling point and his morale was down past freezing, says George A. Moneaus, 14841 Arden Road, Detroit, Michigan. He had an examination and the country doctor prescribed "no meat, no coffee, see me in a week."

A week later he went back to the doctor still low in spirits and apparently with a case of hives. George passed out in a daze. The doctor looked him over and commented, "You have the blanketed set of nerves!" Acute Americanitis, he called it, then he proceeded to give him a dressing-down about work and worry. George went out of the building and then down the street to the St. Agostas Church. There he knelt and prayed, then sat and pondered. Out of his reflections there came an increasing awareness that if he continuously sought God's guidance rather than keep all concern within himself that he would show the way.

He did just that. An analysis of his worries indicated that they were the common garden variety, concern over past decisions, anxiety about things that might or might not occur. In the peacefulness of that sanctuary his causes of tension seemed to take flight and there flowed a feeling of positiveness, a feeling that if the Lord would be permitted to lead the way, what was there to be concerned about? Mr. Moneaus says he has tried

Assembly Dance
February 18th

The Board of the Virginia Beach Assembly announces that the second dance of the season will be held in the main dining room of the Cavalier Hotel Friday, February 18, 1955.

Dancing will begin at 9:00 P.M. Soda and ice will be furnished, but you must provide your own beverages. Breakfast will be served at 11:30 P.M. There will be no individual tipping.

Dress for the occasion will be formal, either full dress or dinner jacket. You should make up your own party and call Miss Welcher at Virginia Beach 3600 for reservations. The chaperones for the occasion will be Mrs. Charles Slinguff, Mrs. J. Peter Holland, III and Mrs. Richard Welton, III.

Unfortunately it is necessary that guest privileges be limited and therefore no guest cards will be issued to residents of Virginia Beach, Princess Anne County, Norfolk County, Norfolk, Portsmouth or to members of the Armed Forces stationed in this area.

The third event of the season will be held Friday, April 18th. Details to be announced at a later date.

My PET PEEVE

When my wife and I were preparing for our first child several years ago the little woman ventured down to a book store and returned home with a Baby Book.

Now worn with use and re-use, its pages well marked, the little book still remains the "law." Mommy always checks the book before she decides what to do. The book always has a recommendation, but for my part, it isn't always specific enough.

For our two-year-old, as an example, it is positive, absolutely beddy-bye time. He knows it and a snap of the fingers puts him under the covers. Getting him to sleep, however, is another problem.

"Daddy, I left my blanket in your room."

"Mommy, I want a glass of water."

"Daddy, I didn't drink all my milk."

"Mommy, I gotta go to the bathroom."

"Daddy, you didn't give me a smooch."

"Mommy, I wanna give you some love."

(Definitions: "Smooch," a kiss; "lovin'," big hug.)

When Mommy isn't around, I don't need the book to take care of most of these requests. But the BR proposition is the one used most and the one on which I hesitate to gamble. I wish the book would tell how many alarms I have to answer before I can feel safe in turning the line and taking a "firm" stand.

IMPROVED APPEALSAUCE WILL BE MARKETED

A process developed by U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists has made possible a new, improved appeal sauce. VPI horticulturists report. An essence made from by-product peels and cores and added to the sauce produces a tangy, fresh flavor that lasts through months of storage.

Commercial production of this improved appeal sauce is expected after a satisfactory method is found for adding the essence in processing. The product will be slightly higher priced than the ordinary appeal sauce.

Norfolk-Western Safety Contest
Open; Prizes

A safety essay contest for children of Norfolk and Western employees was announced last week-end by the railway's monthly magazine.

U.S. savings bonds of $100, $50 and $25 denominations will be awarded the three best entries on the theme "What it means to me to have my dad work safely." Entrants must be sons or daughters of N&W employees in active service and be between 10 and 17 years of age, inclusive. Essays are to be between 300 and 500 words long and be submitted to Safety Essay Contest, Room 501, General Office Building, N & W Railway, Roanoke 17, Virginia, by February 31.

Judges are O. F. Hark, assistant general superintendent of motive power personnel; D. W. Naft, superintendent of safety, and R. R. Horner, editor of the Norfolk and Western Magazine.

IT NEVER FAILS

AROUND

The Cracker Barrel

The coffee industry received some free publicity last week, but we can't say how many readers might have noticed it, since it appeared in Willie Dunn's newspaper, and just how many or how few persons read that paper is a matter of opinion. We don't believe the coffee industry, or anyone else, for that matter, will benefit from the mention.

Dunn, the head of the "Dunn Machine" that has a slate of candidates in the campaign for county offices, referred to a group of individuals in asking where County Police Chief Jim Ed Moore was when recent raids were made on clubs in the county. Dunn noted that Moore and friends were probably "slipping coffee" at a county restaurant at the time.

It starts us to wondering where Sheriff Malbon and Dunn were at the time of the raid. It's a good bet it wasn't coffee they were slipping.

If Malbon is questioned about his whereabouts at the time of the raid he will probably retort that he was in Washington at the time trying to elect Frank Kellam president of Ruritan National. Of course, the raid took place prior to the opening of that convention and we are certain Malbon was not interested in helping a Kellam be elected to anything. Then, too, the election of Frank Kellam took place on a Tuesday in Washington and Malbon was back in Princess Anne County Tuesday morning. But...

T. A. Moore Here
Next Thursday

The Virginia Division of War Veterans' Claims, with offices in Roanoke, located in the Veterans Administration Regional Office building, announces the regularly scheduled itinerary of their Norfolk Veterans' Service Officer, Thomas A. Moore, in February 1955 as follows:

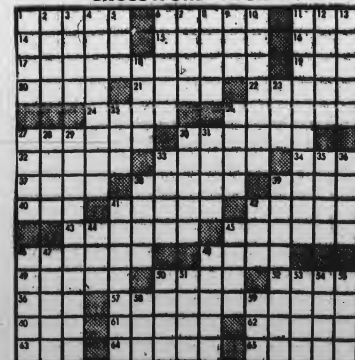

Thursday, February 10, 1955 from 11 A. M. to 12 noon, and from 1 P. M. to 3:15 P. M. at the Community Center, Arctic Avenue at 14th Street, Virginia Beach.

Veterans and their dependents, or survivors, or their representatives, may file claims, applications or Government forms relative to any benefits to which they may be entitled relative to legislation. Moore assures that he will also attempt to give extra-curricular advice to such claimants on veterans' problems.

Miss June Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Peterson of Pungo, will arrive home this week-end from Madison College, where she is a member of the Freshman Class. Miss Peterson has just completed her mid-term examinations.

Bishop Gunn to Conduct Rites

The Rt. Rev. George P. Gunn, Bishop of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, will conduct the rite of confirmation at Eastern Shore Chapel on Sunday, February 6, at the 11 o'clock service. Fourteen adults will be confirmed. The service of confirmation will be a part of the regular celebration of Holy Communion.

This is the second confirmation Bishop Gunn has conducted at the Episcopal Chapel in the last eight months. He visited there in May, at which time twenty members received the apostolic rites of "laying on of the hands." It was also at this service that the new Eastern Shore Chapel was consecrated.

Vernon Cherry Heads Teen-agers

Vernon Cherry was elected president of the newly organized Oceana Teen-Age Club at a meeting of the group held Sunday afternoon at the Oceana Fire Station.

Other officers elected were: Nancy Wright, vice president; Jane Samuels, secretary; Dennis Perrebe, treasurer; Myra Craddock, reporter; Barbara Williamson, entertainment; Dean Padon, director; and Wayne Samuels, refreshments.

Approximately twenty teen-agers attended the meeting. The Oceana Teen-Age Club is under the sponsorship of the Oceana Civic League and has the backing of the local merchants and Fire Department. The group was formed to plan and conduct recreational activities of interest to young people.

Last Friday evening from 8 to 11 o'clock the club entertained at a membership dance at the Fire Station. Refreshments were served to approximately 50 teen-agers. Chaperones for the dance were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Peel, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Davies, Mrs. Cedra Padon, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Elder of Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Meeks, Miss Kathryn Meeks and Mr. and Mrs. Williamson.

Post-Office Move Finds Opposition

Several petitions are being circulated throughout Oceana in regard to the local post office. The action was taken as a result of a recent board meeting of the Oceana Civic League.

The petitions request that the Oceana Post Office remain "status quo" until shown that it would be beneficial to the community to make a change. There are rumors spreading, stated Elmer Meeks, president of the Civic League, that the post office will be made a part of the Virginia Beach postal agency. It is the desire of the league and Oceana residents to work with the inspector of postal service, Mr. Meeks said.

PLANS FOR NEW RECTORY ARE PRESENTED
At a special congregational meeting held last Sunday, January 30, plans for a new rectory for Eastern Shore Chapel, Episcopal, were presented to members of the church.

W. Judson King, a member of the church, is architect for the rectory. Members of the building committee are: Harry Madison Macon, Thomas C. Hunter, Howard G. Adams, R. Redwood Richardson, G. Bentley Byrd, and Mrs. O. C. Drescher.

Construction on the rectory will begin in the near future. It will be located behind the Parish House, facing Wolfsware Lake.

OCEANA SCHOOL COLLECTS $329.18 FOR POLIO FUND
The Oceana School collected a total of $329.18 for the March of Dimes, according to a spokesman for the Oceana Polio Fund drive. Dime cards, holding 80 cents, had been distributed among the students.

An additional $91.50 was made by the seventh grade of the school. They sponsored a March of Dimes dance last Friday week in the Oceana School gymnasium. Contributions for the drive from the Happy Hours Kindergarten totaled $34.75. It was also reported.

Walter Maher Complimented By Garden Group

Walter Maher was highly complimented by the Council of Garden Clubs at its meeting held last Wednesday in the Board Room of the Bank of Virginia Beach. Mr. Maher was instrumental in clearing the way for the parkway by using his influence in preventing a housing project to be built along the area where the Norfolk & Southern railroad tracks originally were laid. His endless efforts helped make it possible for the parkway which has recently been beautified by the Council of Garden Clubs.

Formal dedication ceremonies were held on November 11 at the corner of Cavalier Drive and Atlantic Avenue, when permanent markers were unveiled at each end of the parkway. The dedication ceremony was largely attended by both local and state representatives and was followed by a large luncheon at the Cavalier Club.

The Council voted to purchase 100 litterbug posters to be placed in unsightly locations and to appeal to the State Highway Department for assistance in improving lines on those motorists who litter the roadways and streets with trash.

Future beautification projects for the Council were discussed at some length and plans are being made to undertake the beautification of other areas.

Coast Guard Rescue Work Shows Increase

A year-end tabulation of assistance cases handled by the Fifth Coast Guard District Rescue Coordination Center in Norfolk was announced this week by the Commander, Fifth Coast Guard District.

The tabulation shows an increase of 416 cases over the 1,240 handled in 1953, by the district, which extends from the Delaware border to South Carolina. By the end of the year two major maritime disasters had occurred in which the Fifth Coast Guard District participated. In October the ore-laden freighter "Marmackite" sank 140 miles east southeast of Cape Henry with 37 of her crew being lost at sea, and in December, the motor vessel "Southern Districts," an LST converted into a freighter, was reported missing — with no trace being found up to the present time.

Total assistance cases for the year ending December 1954, resulted in the Fifth District saving 270 lives and an estimated $23,718,034 in property.

The types of assistance rendered were varied and included such things as freeing stranded vessels, towing disabled vessels to safety, open sea landings of Coast Guard aircraft to rescue survivors from downed aircraft or sunken ships or to transport persons for urgent medical attention, dropping equipment and supplies from aircraft to persons in peril, and reaching for persons lost or unreported at sea. One particularly interesting case was the safe removal of the 13 crewmen from the freighter "Omar Babun" which stranded on the North Carolina outer banks on May 14, 1954.

There were 509 attempts to assist made by district units but by reason of being recalled, due to the need for assistance ceasing, no Coast Guard physical assistance was needed. In addition, the Coast Guard rendered many services not formally classified as assistance cases. Included in this category are such things as relaying medical advice to ships at sea, assisting other Federal government agencies and municipal authorities, assisting to locate overdue craft by utilizing only communication facilities, or warning ships and aircraft of dangers to navigation.

Straight Bourbon

CASCADE is fully matured Kentucky straight bourbon whiskey, distilled at rigidly controlled temperatures and pressures — from choice distiller's grade grain, pure yeast and spring water.

The whiskeys in CASCADE are aged in white oak barrels, and before bottling, they're chilled and filtered for clarity — taste-tested to insure uniformity.

Only CASCADE is distilled and quality-controlled according to the original George A. Dickel 1870 formula.

Surf Queens

Take Two More

The local Surf Queens sextette added two victories last week to bring their season's record to ten wins and one loss, as they turned back the Norfolk General Nurses and the Snapperettes of Richmond.

The Nurses were played on the Blair Junior High court on Friday night and lost to the Virginia Beach girls by a score of 56-28, as Topsy Dahn and Gerry Midgett hit the meshes for 30 and 22 points respectively.

Bobby Lake led the Nurses with 16 points, and Kim Dushiel, former Virginia Beach High guard, played best on defense for the Norfolk girls.

On Saturday night in the gym at Kempsville the Surf Queens turned back the Snapperettes of Richmond in a rough game, the score being 34-27.

Dahn again led the scoring for the local girls with 18 points, while Beverly Malbon played an outstanding floor game and registered 12 points in the winning cause.

Organization Work Begun For Virginia Beach Open Tournament

James L. Kitchin, president of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce, this week released a list of more than 30 committee heads who will assist with the organizational work of the third annual Virginia Beach Open Golf Tournament.

The 72-hole $15,000 medal play event is scheduled at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club from April 21 through April 24. This year, for the first time, it will be a feature of Norfolk's annual International Assale Court.

B. M. Stanton, of Norfolk and Virginia Beach, has been named as general chairman, and "Duck" Bralichwaile and W. F. Kellam as vice-chairmen.

These three will work with an executive committee which will include Mr. Kitchin, W. W. McClannan, Jr., who ran the first two opens; Beach Mayor Frank Dusch, Sidney Banks and Harold Halsheid.

Heading the publicity and promotion committee is L. A. Weary, former "This Week" executive, with A. L. Lippitt as his vice-chairman.

Heading the various divisions of this committee will be Ben Wahrman, newspapers; Leo Hoarby, radio; Robert M. Lambie, television; E. Fuller Moore, signs; Ray A. Cassett, special promotions; and Laura Lambie, historical booklet.

Other committee heads, as named by Mr. Kitchin, include:

Rhase W. Adams and John A. Tucker, advance ticket sales; Oakborne R. Bryant, complimentary tickets; R. Brad Fuller, concessions; C. Hall Shellings, entries; W. Shep Dreyer, Jr., finances; Albin R. Malheis, golf clinic; Robert S. Wahab, gallery marshals; E. W. Smith, ground ticket sales; Leslie F. Larson, grounds; W. W. Johnson, manpower; Robert E. Davis, pairing and starting; Angie Alexander, announcing; Charles Crocker, scores; Mrs. E. Fuller Moore, routing; Reeves E. Johnson, traffic and parking; Herbert Norton, welcoming and arrangements; Sidney Banks and James L. Kitchin, tournament hosts; W. W. McClannan, Jr., Art Colenda and John H. Bell, boosters; James G. Parke, pro-amateur tournament; W. C. Everette, Virginia Beach sponsors; and Robert L. Simpson, coordination.

John H. Bell will serve as entertainment chairman.

Mexican Singers In Norfolk 14th

Romano Picutti, director of the Singing Boys of Mexico, who will appear at the Center Theatre in Norfolk on Monday, February 14, and who have been called "the little boys with the big music," brings an extraordinary enthusiasm and skill to his work.

To understand the choir, one should know something of the handsome young idealist who has built it.

Born in Venice in 1918, the son of a theatre architect, Romano Picutti grew up in the center of cultural life in Venice and Vienna.

He studied piano and oboe as a boy, and at eleven went to Vienna to enter the Academy, where he studied piano with Emil Sauer, composition, and later voice.

At 21 he became the youthful director of the world-famous Vienna Boys Choir, and during the next ten years toured Europe with them in a thousand concerts.

In 1939, Picutti received three invitations to found or develop choral organizations in Beyrouth, Lebanon; Reykjavik, Iceland; and Morelia, Mexico.

Mrs. Picutti said Mexico, and Mexico it was.

In the last four years the Singing Boys of Mexico have been recognized as one of the best choirs in the world and American audiences are applauding and marveling at the extraordinary quality and spirit of the music performed by the boys under the leadership of Maestro Picutti.

There is room for 40 persons to stand at one time on the Statue of Liberty's head.

Opening of New High's Ice Cream Store Here Part of Success Story

The new High's Ice Cream store opened in Virginia Beach on Laskin Road near Pacific Avenue Friday in a continuation of a story of success.

The High's Ice Cream story in the Norfolk area started in 1942 with 14 stores — today there are 14 stores in Tidewater doing ten times the volume of the original 14 stores. High's also operates 30 stores in the Richmond area and has taken over 10 stores in Roanoke that were formerly operated by Kay's.

High's continues to expand in the ice cream retail field and has nearly a hundred stores in the Virginia area.

Every High's Ice Cream store features over 20 flavors of ice cream, ranging from the little 5-oz. ice cream cups and cones to the big family sized half gallon containers. Above all, High's has always featured the most satisfactory, up-to-the-minute merchandising operations and all the High's stores continue to be models of efficient operations and highest standards.

The new modern High's Ice Cream store at Virginia Beach, centrally located on Laskin Road near Pacific Avenue, affords to all Beach residents the opportunity to get one of the most popular ice creams available today at prices that have made High's a popular favorite throughout Virginia.

SAVE $4.00 per TON

On SOUTHERN STATES Formula Feeds

During February

On Purchases Of one-half Ton Or More

Southern States Cooperative has again taken the lead in helping farmers ease the squeeze between dwindling farm income and continued high costs of producing milk, meat, and eggs. Southern States and Cooperative Service Agencies have joined in arbitrarily slashing prices on formula feeds during February at the rate of $4.00 per ton under current bag-lot prices, on orders of one-half ton or more at one time (one or more feeds may be included in total order). This reduction applies on all feeds except (1) Southern States Drought Emergency Dairy Feeds; (2) Southern States feeds supplied under contract feeding programs; (3) scratch grains; (4) grain goods; and (5) haygrains.

Though prices have been cut sharply, there has been no reduction in the usual high quality of Southern States feeds. They will continue to give you the most for your feed dollar.

Look What This Means To You

- * 20 cents saving on every bag of feed you buy
- * 20.00 more profit in raising 1,000 broilers
- * About 1 cent more profit in producing eggs (about 25 cents a case)
- * $30.00 more profit per month in feeding a herd of 50 dairy cows
- * $1.75 more profit for each 200 pounds of weight gain in hogs
- * $45.00 more profit in raising 1,000 Beltville White turkeys
- * $125.00 more profit in raising 1,000 Bronze turkeys

Officers Get Pre-view
Of New Uniforms

Staff officers and unit commanders joined Fort Story's CO and Deputy CO, Col. Edwin A. Deagle and Lt. Col. Frederick G. Ward, this week in attending a Quartermaster showing of new uniforms and research developments at the Norfolk Reserve Armory. The display, staged by a 3-man mobile instructional and demonstration team from Second Army headquarters, included the new green duty uniform and a rubberized NIKE fueling suit. The latter, of special interest to Story, where the first of Tidewater's NIKE sites is situated, gives the wearer the appearance of a visitor from outer space. It is specially designed to protect men fueling the guided missiles.

Post Library to Have Larger Quarters

The Post Library, now housed in the Service Club, will have a new and larger home when plans are completed for its removal to a separate building nearby. The structure to be renovated is the former station of the Norfolk and Southern Railroad, which ended use of the tracks running through the post last June. The building, which also served as Story's Post Office, is ideally adapted to library purposes.

54th Transportation Battalion
Has New Executive Officer

New Executive Officer of the 54th Transportation Battalion is Capt. Robert H. Schwartz, formerly a member of Story's 8-3 Section. Captain Schwartz replaces Maj. Carl D. Reed, who has assumed command of the battalion during the absence of Lt. Col. Lauriston A. Posa, now departed for duty in Alaska. Captain Schwartz, whose home is in Boise, Idaho, graduated from West Point in 1949.

General Holtsworth Visits
Story; Sees BARC Test Team

Latest visitor to tour Story and the BARC Test Team was Gen. Bertram A. Holtsworth, G-4 of Army Field Forces at Fort Monroe. General Holtsworth was accompanied by Brig. Gen. Rush B. Lincoln, Jr., commanding general of the Transportation Training Command at Fort Rucker, Ala., and Col. Ralph B. Garretson.

Additional Officers
Report for Duty at Story

Two majors and two captains are among the latest officers reporting for duty at Story. Major George L. Williams, whose home is in Edwardsville, Ill., will be Assistant Post 8-4, and Major Glen L. King, of Dinuba, Cal., will be Movement Control Officer for the 8-3 Section. Another Californian is Capt. William M. Dent of Alhambra, who will command the 612th DUKW Company, a unit of the 54th T Battalion. Captain Joseph F. Murray, of Pleasantville, N. J., has joined the staff of the Post Dental Clinic.

Developed for the completely new

Senator Godwin Will Speak at Woman's Club Men's Night Affair

State Senator Mills E. Godwin, of the Fifth Senatorial District, will be guest speaker at the annual Men's Night banquet of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County, to be held at the Cavalier on Tuesday, February 8, at 7:00 p. m.

Mr. Godwin was elected two years ago to represent the district, which embraces Southampton, Isle of Wight and Nansemond counties and the City of Suffolk, succeeding Lieutenant Governor A. E. Stephens, who formerly held that office.

Mr. Godwin is a graduate of the University of Virginia. He is a past national president of the Ruritan Club, a member of the Board of Visitors of Emory and Henry College and a teacher and active member of the Christian Church in his community.

Mrs. Audrey Holmes, program chairman, has announced that in addition to the speaker and Mrs. Godwin, who will accompany her husband, others invited to attend the banquet as guests will include Mrs. Gilmore Tibbels, named as Princess Anne County's "Woman of the Year," Mayor Frank Dusch of Virginia Beach, and Mrs. Dusch; Frank Kellam, National president of the Ruritan Club, who will introduce the speaker; Judge Floyd E. Kellam of the Princess Anne County Circuit Court, and State Senator and Mrs. V. Alfred Etheridge. Mrs. Frank Kellam and Mrs. Floyd Kellam are members of the Woman's Club and will attend with their husbands.

A choral group composed of members of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County and the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County, will present a group of choral selections, directed by Mrs. Lawrence Wilcox. Members of the group include Mrs. John Tucker, Mrs. Howard McCoy, Mrs. David McKeague, Mrs. Harry Burnham, Mrs. R. H. Owen, Mrs. James H. Nelms, Mrs. Aubrey Holmes, Mrs. Cornell Berry, Mrs. Margaret Nelson, Mrs. George Aldridge, Mrs. D. W. DeWalt, Mrs. Bradshaw Pulley, Mrs. Grayson Willis, Mrs. M. R. Young, Mrs. D. Y. Malbon, Mrs. Paul Gregory, Mrs. Earl Van Buskirk, Mrs. Sam Harris, Mrs. Kenneth Jard, Mrs. Charles Hinchings, Mrs. Fred Bonney, Mrs. James Kellam, Mrs. Frank Kellam, and Mrs. E. H. Church, accompanist.

Mrs. Sidney Kellam and Mrs. Kermit Land are co-hostesses in charge of arrangements for the banquet.

RG. ARTHUR GOFFIAN
PARTICIPATES IN EXERCISES

Sergeant First Class Arthur J. Goffian, son of Mrs. Lydia Goffian, Route 1, London Bridge, is participating in exercise "Follow Me," a simulated atomic warfare maneuver, at Fort Benning, Ga. Sergeant Goffian is regularly stationed at Fort Knox, with the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment's Medical Detachment as operations sergeant. The exercise at Fort Benning will last approximately three months.

A veteran of the Korean conflict, Goffian has been in the Army since 1951.

One of the biggest best-sellers of all time is a government publication written years ago by a mother of five. "Infant Care" has 20 million copies sold and is still going strong.

Conditions Right For Modernizing Or New Building

Families in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County desiring to build a new home or modernize an older one this year will find conditions more favorable than at any time in many months, according to R. B. Taylor of the Fuel, Feed and Building Supplies Corp., local retail building materials dealer and member of the Public Affairs committee of the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

"Building costs have been stabilized, time payment loans can be obtained on the most attractive terms ever offered, and the market offers a greater variety of good materials than ever before," Mr. Taylor said.

special services for the Richmond Department of Recreation and Parks. Richard S. Gillis, Jr., public relations director of the State Chamber of Commerce, is honorary chairman and consultant.

The conference this year is under the general chairmanship of Miss Claire McCarthy director of

"In addition, the number of skilled workmen is at an all-time peak, which means that building work can be started and completed sooner and better quality work is assured. Material of all kinds are available on short notice."

"Buyers who take advantage of government insured or guaranteed loans to purchase new homes will find monthly payments at an all-time low because more time is allowed for repayment of the principal, and down payments are the lowest ever offered."

"Home repairs and improvements can be paid for over a period as long as 36 months, and no down payment is required in many cases."

"Mortgage funds currently are plentiful, although further expansion in the high building rate experienced during the past year might bring back the shortages experienced some months ago. However, lumber dealers and other building industry organizations are cooperating to keep funds flowing steadily, even in smaller communities where shortages always appear first."

The "Great Plague of London" in 1665 caused 68,996 deaths.

Local Delegates At HD Council

Mrs. T. C. Hunter, Princess Anne County chairman of the Demonstration Clubs, and Mrs. G. Skinner of the London Bridge Club, attended the Council meeting of District Two last Thursday at the Health Center in Suffolk.

The meeting was presided over by the District President, Mrs. R. J. Slade, Jr., of Southampton. Also attending were Mrs. Susan, Southampton, Norfolk, Wamsmond and Princess Anne counties. Also attending was Miss Ann Williams, District Agent from Blackburg.

The main business of the meeting was planning for the district meeting to be held in Franklin at the Armory, April 29.

Following the meeting the Wamsmond County Chairman, Mrs. N. T. Poore, and Agent Mrs. Cole J. Obrian had made arrangements for a delightful luncheon at Penn City Inn, just outside Suffolk.

The "Great Fire of London" was in 1666.

Pvt. Amos L. Saunders, whose wife, Joyce, lives in Creeds, recently arrived in Europe for duty with the U. S. forces in Austria.

Troops of the United States, Great Britain, France and the USSR have constituted a security force on duty in Austria since the end of WW II. Personnel of this U. S. force also maintain a port of embarkation at Leghorn, Italy.

Private Saunders' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene T. Saunders, live in Back Bay.

Molly Pitcher took her husband's place in the Battle of Monmouth in 1789 as he lay dying beside his cannon.

Real Estate Body Installs Officers

The Virginia Beach Real Estate Board held its annual dinner-dance banquet at the Cavalier Club recently, with John P. Vance, Jr., State President, as the guest speaker.

The affair was an installation dinner for the new officers, Margaret Prieur Tompkins, president; Harold Kellam, vice president; and Ethel A. Ackels, secretary-treasurer.

Members elected to the board of directors are: Robert C. Gohl, Dick Braithwaite, Dorothy Walworth, William Lumsden and J. B. W. Hers, Jr.

Pastor Returns

The Rev. C. Stanley Lowell, minister of the Virginia Beach Methodist Church, will return to his pulpit on Sunday, February 6, after a vacation absence. He will preach at 11 a. m. service on the topic, "The Man Who Thought of Himself."

At the evening service, eight o'clock, the Rev. Mr. Lowell will begin a series of sermons on "Our Faith and Others." He will discuss at successive Sunday evening services: "The Lutheran Faith," "The Anglican Faith," "The Presbyterian Faith" and "The Methodist Faith."

"Open Sesame!"

Last week we chatted about spices, herbs and seeds — so popular these days in creating and "pepping up" various recipes. Just about a month ago "the imaginative use of one of the world's oldest known spices won a $25,000 prize for a Washington, D. C. housewife Mrs. Bernard A. Koteen. "Open Sesame Pie," featuring the delicate-flavored sesame seeds, took the top honors at the Pillsbury Mills Sixth annual Bake-Off in New York.

Mrs. Koteen laced the crust of a date-filled pie with the nutty flavored seeds, and gave her creation a name with which sesame seeds have been identified for centuries.

The expression "Open Sesame" comes from the Arabian Nights. In ancient times, people believed in the power of certain plants and flowers to open secret places. Wealthy Romans used sesame seeds as an after-bath rub. A favorite expression was "Sesame seed on the outside, sesame wine on the inside, for a long life."

Sesame seeds are one of the aromatic seeds that are classified under the general term of spices today. It is the seed of an annual plant of the Scamnum family. It is also known as "benne" or "benne" seed. It is a native of Asia. We import a great deal from India, Turkey, Lebanon and Egypt. Much comes to this country now from Central America, primarily from Nicaragua and San Salvador. In recent years sesame has been tried as a commercial crop in our own South and Southwest.

Sesame is a small, oval-shaped, shiny seed, rarely more than one-eighth of an inch long. Unhulled seed is pearly-white in color. Unhulled seed varies to black. The plant grows one to two feet in height, puts out coral blossoms, from which, of course, the seed comes.

Sesame seed has a pleasant, faintly nutty flavor.

It is available hulled or unhulled, but seldom ground. It is usually sold hulled. It is used by bakers on cookies, rolls, breads, crumpets, scones and biscuits. Many tons are required for the delicious Jewish candy, Halvah, and other confections.

In world trade, sesame seed is important as a source of vegetable oil, although that is not the case in the U. S. Here, our largest users of the seed are in the confectionery and baking industries.

Use of the sesame seed in this country has been on the increase in recent years, according to the American Spice Association. In 1953 the U. S. imported over ten million pounds of this spice. Possibly the largest increase has been seen in the baking industry.

Sesame seed was listed in the Assyrian account of the Creation — the oldest of man's written records yet discovered. The same tablets of those people who lived thousands of years before Christ, tell of Assyrian gods drinking sesame seed wine just before they created the earth.

So, the sesame seed is nothing new — it seems to me we just haven't known too much about it until recently.

It's been fun telling you about this interesting little seed. Why don't you try a pie shell — using two to four tablespoons of sesame seeds? Toast them for a few minutes in the oven and then combine them with your favorite ingredients when making a pie shell. That's what Mrs. Koteen did, and won top honors to the tune of $25,000!

GARDEN GUIDE

By J. WILTON ANDERSON

Seed companies have started mailing their catalogs out to prospective customers now and anxious gardeners are getting their tools ready in anticipation of the approach of Spring. Gardeners are once again formulating plans to beautify their surroundings with nature's generous wealth of plant materials.

It seems appropriate at this time to pass along some advice to prospective buyers of plant materials in order to help avoid some of the hazards accompanying the hilly-bush merchandising of many fly-by-night individuals who sell plants during the Spring rush. Just as there are high priced and low priced automobiles, so are there high priced and low priced plants, whether they be shrubs, roses or bulbs. One would not expect to purchase a new automobile at a ridiculously low price from a stranger on the street. Therefore be wary of buying plants at "cut rate" or "whole sale" prices from individuals who purport to be nurseries but who actually have no nursery.

The nursery industry has formed a national association and each state has formed an association of nurserymen to help regulate and govern the industry and to establish fair trade practices and grading standards for the various horticultural products they sell. All of these regulations and standards are established to protect the individual buyer and the nursery industry from the unscrupulous vendors.

To show you how the nursery associations protect you, we will consider first the flowering bulbs which are sold. The associations have established regulations for grading bulbs by measuring their diameter in inches. We have before us an advertisement by a mail order bulb firm in Michigan, which states: "100 Denmark tulips (medium) average 3" circumference for $1.90." Notice that this company measures their bulbs in circumference, not diameter, as in the established practice. If you have a tape measure handy you will notice that a thickness has a circumference of over two inches! These bulbs are certainly not of a size that would give very pleasing results in a flower border.

Before purchasing roses for your garden be sure and find out if the bushes are two-year plants grown in stock. Often the corner merchants will buy rose plants that a florist has grown in his greenhouses for several years for cut flowers. These roses are sold inexpensively but teach a very expensive lesson to the gardening enthusiast. If they are old and over-worked, they will be for continued growing with large crops of flowers, the florist would not discard them. In addition, when you buy roses be sure that they are either completely dormant with some type of packing material to keep the roots moist, or that they are growing in pots of soil. A potted rose plant will bloom much earlier in the season than one planted dormant. Another quality feature to look for in your purchase of dormant roses is to see if the stems are coated with wax. This process while harmless to the plant, preserves it and keeps it from losing "excess moisture."

When purchasing shrubs, you should know that the reputable nurserymen all follow a standard grading procedure. Small plants are measured in units of two inches until they reach a foot in size. They are then measured in three inch units up to 18", at which time they are measured in six inch units. Upon reaching three feet, the unit of measurement changes to feet. As an example, a ligustrum might be an 18"-24" plant or a 24"-30" plant, etc. If it were larger, it would be a 3'-4" plant, etc. In buying shrubs consider the size and fullness of the plant. If a ligustrum 18"-24" sells for $2.50 do not feel that you are getting gypped because your neighbor said a man in the market is selling ligustrum for $1.50. Certainly America's most (Continued on Page Thirteen)

MERRY MATRONS

ADELE SIMPSON... who is four-feet-ten in her stocking feet, wears the highest possible heels, has a pert way about her and the happiest, merriest eyes you ever saw. She just adores Ben Grauer's radioing and is proud of his friendship and his twenty-five years with NBC record. Adele is a wonderful mother, too, as well as a designer.

MRS. VICTOR BORGE... has mastered that wonderful ability of being a good listener and this was beautifully evident when your Allisbee met her and her terrific hubby at Mr. Fred's (John Frederic) after-theatre party in his Park Avenue apartment. Victor was excited because he was about to break a Broadway record — five hundred performances of his one-man show. Mrs. Borge is tall, dark and a real beauty and really hangs on every word her famous husband says.

LILLY DACHE... is ageless in her appearance and her mannerisms! She's so bubbly-over and her enthusiasm for living and people and places is most contagious. Twenty minutes in a taxicab with Lilly and you have no troubles, whatever! She thought your Allisbee's merry matron philosophy — keeping merry within to withstand all the hardships without — was tops. Her little hats, hardly any larger than a leucop in circumference, have bows and buds on stems and whatnots that stick out and you can wear them up over, down, on the side, on the back or forward. They're the cutest, smartest little tricks yet. They look like Lilly!

KATHERINE CORNELL... is wowing Washington with her new play, before she opens on Broadway. One of the "Wags" is her leading man, Tyrone Power! "The Dark is Light Enough" opened last week and she and Ty have been invited to scads of parties which she, not being a gadfly, sidesteps. However, last Thursday night she did attend one given by the Norwegian Ambassador and Mrs. Morgenstjerne.

STRAIGHT from the SHOULDER...

... Fashion — that is

By ALICE BREWER WHITE
FASHION and WOMAN'S EDITOR

Tune in to Radio Station WAVY—1200 on your dial—for the latest fashion news, food features with personality interviews and chatter by Alice Brewer White, each day, Monday through Friday, at her NEW time, 2:30 to 3:00 P. M. That's NBC in Tidewater.

When shopping for her new Spring fashions the Tidewater woman will have many things to look for and contemplate. For example, the new proportion: the long and willowy torso, slim but rounded waistline, heightened and rounded bosom, decorative neckline, and low-placed skirt fullness. She'll want to watch for: classic shirtwaist dresses in sumptuous sari silks or pastel satin, Peter Pan collar schoolie bows on elegant silk wool dresses and lingerie frills on brick tweeds.

Then there are the longer suit jackets, hugging the torso from the shoulder to thigh and buttoned close or narrowly boxed over a dress, a jumper skirt or overblouse. Few if any suits this Spring have tucked-in blouses. The long torso blouse look is "in!" Spring coats will flare low at the knee or in a gentle ripple at the back and the wrapped look is seen in all types of coats from those for sports to the evening coats with huge collars contributing to the width at the top and the small look below.

NECKLINES AND OVERBLOUSES—

Higher necklines to go with the higher bustline with most swinging wide to the shoulder points, in a sort of bateau line, with crescent curves or shallow squares. Incidentally, from all observations, the strapless bodice is fast disappearing, with straps, fuschia and halters present when sleeves are not. The overblouse and the overbodice are definitely "the" keynote of the Spring silhouette. This goes from bathing suits to ball gowns. The two-piece dress is in, and ably an overblouse design and most of the new Spring suits have very dressy overblouses in rich silks or luscious frothy lingerie.

Hidden Away— Dreammaking techniques have gone beneath the surface, secreted in long boned underbodies or complete "bodies" moulded of interfacing, over which the dress or suit is smoothed lightly and oftentimes loosely. There is less intricacy in "cut" and more actual figure control than ever by these underneath touches. The pleasing result is that there is no emphasis on any one part, and the gratifying look of having lost weight in the right place. As a matter of fact it is the season for your best friend to say, "You look as if you've lost weight," and all because of the young and appealing lines — the slim, long torso look.

WAISTLINE

"You could say that fashion is 'in the round' (with apologies to the Theatre Co.-Round Idea) since the silhouette emphasis is seldom waist-flaring as in past seasons. Neither does it have side flaring and the shaping is generally symmetrical, slim and round as a globe. While you may have your choice in skirts — the slim sheath or the full skirt — the bodices remain pretty much as the length that becomes you and your figure. There is plenty of fullness in the skirt, but it is low-placed, beneath an emphasized neckline. Many dresses and suits have enormous width at the hem but the new deep hip yoke and long bottom or jacket gives a miniature skirt effect. There will be fewer petticoats worn under a dress or skirt but many of the skirts are lined and many petticoats have flounces of contrasting fabrics. Etcetera are playing an important role in the Spring fashion scene and they are used to mark high-placed bosoms and low hips.

DOUBLE FEATURES—

Double-feature fabrics are the new! Woolens double woven with a thin mesh or lace tweedy top over a satiny smooth under-surface are the latest. Silks with wide figured woven bands alternating with plain; lots of reversible woolsens, cut velvet on this silk or silk organdy are also featured.

The weaves in both silk and wool are softer, by the way.

Many mixtures that extend the season such as cotton with silk, cashmere with wool and silk, silk and wool in coats, linen and wool and cotton coatings with lots more cotton are fabrics to look for.

There is a wonderful world of prints on wool, silk and cotton; daytime prints which are mostly animal patterned but ever so bright; safari prints featuring leopards,

Of Interest To Homemakers

By MRS. ELIZABETH D. DEAL Home Demonstration Agent

First Elementary Community Sewing Clinic Held

The first community elementary sewing clinic was held last week. The women brought pattern, material and other needed small tools and cut out and nearly finished their garments. There are about seven more planned in the next two months. These clinics are for people who have done little or no sewing.

The clinics make it possible for women in the county to learn to make a garment which fits and is made for less than it can be purchased, and to learn the enjoyment of doing it.

If interested, call the office and we will put you in touch with the clinic being held nearest you. Everybody is invited.

Clothing Outlook

There is no scarcity of textiles for clothing.

In 1955, it is possible that we will not find as great a variety on the market as last year. Perhaps there will not be as many special sales either as in 1953. Inventories were being reduced and certain items made of newer fabrics, blends of several fibers and new finishes were being tried out. Some will not resper, some will stay and new ones tried for our acceptance or rejection. Here a study of labels and tags are important before buying. Clothing money spent on untitled, unknown or poorly labeled articles can be disappointing and relatively high priced.

Some of you, for example, have seen and perhaps tried the slacks or coveralls of several fibers and denim overalls of cotton and nylon. Industry will need to learn if consumers like them or are disappointed and will not continue to buy. So stocks at manufacturer's level are kept low. When the stocks are low, prices can change more rapidly. It is predicted that for apparel items purchases by farmers, the price may go up rather than down, especially on shoes and rubber footwear.

How much did your family clothing cost in 1954? From U. S. Department of Commerce we give figures on per person clothing expenditures, including clothing, accessories and footwear for your comparison:

1932	85	1944	148
1934	89	1946	154
1936	106	1948	129
1938	97	1950	123
1940	106	1952	122

We find a variation from 1930-1952. After the war, wardrobes were depleted and prices relatively high.

The 1950-52 figures are lower and perhaps out of line with what we can expect when the large group of younger members of the family grow up to teen age and there is need of clothing due to rapid growth. Too, a larger segment of the population is older people, who, like the very young, have less need for big wardrobes and have less wear on those they own. The larger segment of older people is expected to continue and increase.

Shoes produced per capita indicate a reduction in quantities purchased in recent years. For example, the U. S. production per capita of all footwear, except that made of rubber, on 3-year periods to eliminate some of the year to year changes due to inventory accumulation are:

1934-36	3.03	1946-48	2.46
1937-39	3.18	1949-51	3.20
1940-42	3.46	1952-54	3.19

* Shoe rationing.

The age factor in population again may affect the number of pairs of shoes purchased. The very young and older segments are larger today.

Do your family members use 3 or more pairs of shoes each year? Do you know the total of your shoe bills for last year? How much was spent on care and repair of shoes?

New Finishes

As you are examining the tags on wool garments, articles or yard goods, you may be seeing some new terms describing finishes, such as pacified and sanforized, designed to make wools and blends containing wool washable. These finishes prevent shrinkage, matting and setting of woollens.

If nylon or orlon are blended with wool, manufacturers say 50-45 per cent can usually be washed satisfactorily without shrinkage. Smaller amounts may not be much help to washability, though it does add to durability.

Mittin, a durable finish applied to wool fabrics to prevent damage from moths and similar insects, and tags on yard goods, ready-to-wear and sweater yarns had been on the market this winter. It is effective after dry cleaning or laundering.

Uncertainty in the Clothing Industry

Use care in choosing dresses for spring and summer. There is uncertainty of how the wage problem will be settled. If a strike develops, about two-thirds of the contractors producing dresses will be affected. If a settlement is reached before work stoppage, added costs won by workers would be passed on, in part at least, to consumers. The price may not be changed, but the amount of materials or the workmanship would be cut in order to keep the same price. Either of these could well affect the wearing qualities, comfort and appearance of the dress.

Efficient homemakers need a kit of tools to make minor repairs. Advise VPI home management specialists.

Many times a homemaker can make small repairs that save time and money. A broken electrical cord on ironing day, for instance, can be replaced by a busy homemaker unless she has the tools to repair it.

The specialists suggest screw drivers, an oil stone, claw hammer, pliers, putty knife, an adjustable wrench, and a 24-inch saw for the tool kit. Two and four-inch blade screw drivers are the most practical sizes for homemakers.

An oil stone 8 inches long and 2 inches wide is a convenient size for sharpening knives. A stone with a coarse side to grind out nicks, and a fine side for finished sharpening, is best.

Store tools in a portable kit, on a board, or in a drawer, depending upon available space. A thin coat of paste floor wax on tools will prevent rusting.

"Do Ahead" Main Dish

And after a tiring day, what with those repairs, a good main dish, and plenty of it is the answer for a hungry family or easy entertaining, especially if the meals is a simple "do ahead" one.

Miss Janet Cameron, nutritionist at VPI, makes the following suggestion, a

"HAM - CHEESE DANY"

8 slices bread
1 cup ground cooked ham
1-4 pound butter
1-2 pound sharp cheese, grated
4 eggs, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of red pepper
Remove crusts from bread. Mix butter with ham, spread on bread, and arrange slices in shallow baking dish. Sauté milk stir in cheese, eggs and seasonings. Pour this sauce over the bread, cover the dish and place in refrigerator overnight or for several hours. So bread absorbs the sauce. One hour before meal time, bake at 300° for about an hour.

Arts, Sciences Main Subjects For War Vets

Disabled Korean veterans who have taken vocational rehabilitation training are aiming for the arts and sciences in higher proportion than their fellow veterans in World War II a Veterans Administration study discloses.

According to the study, 44 per cent of all disabled post-Korean veterans trained have chosen high level objectives in the professions and in the managerial field.

Of the World War II disabled who received training, 35 per cent selected such objectives.

Thus far, 23,000 disabled Korean veterans have enrolled in the four-year-old training program under Public Law 504. Another 506,500 veterans disabled in World War II have trained under Public Law 16, a companion bill in effect nearly 12 years.

Thirty-five per cent of the Korean War veterans trained for trade and industrial occupations — such as machinist, repairman and the like — compared with 38 per cent of the World War II vets. Farm training attracted 6 per cent of the Korea veterans and 14 per cent of World War II veterans. Eleven per cent of the Korea veterans and six per cent of WW

II veterans trained for clerical positions. Sales training accounted for only two per cent of the Korea veterans. Five per cent of the WW II veterans chose this course. Among the post-Korean disabled veterans who selected professional training, accounting was the most popular subject. Teaching ranked a close second followed by engineering, science and law.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

A Winner Every Time!

Last Friday at our big basketball game with Centerville I sat next to a fine-looking old man. Centerville had things their way the first half — and he cheered every score they made.

But our boys began to catch up. Then Stretch Brown put us in the lead with a long set shot, — and noticed that the old fellow was now rooting for our side. "What team are you for, anyway?" I demanded.

"Neither," he replied. "I've got my own team. I figure any kid that does a good job out there is on my team. Root for the individual like I do — and you'll always back a winner!"

From where I sit, maybe it is a good idea to keep our eye on the individual, instead of automatically grouping him on teams you're "for" or "against." We're all individuals at heart, with our likes and dislikes — our right to prefer tea to coffee or beer to buttermilk...our right to "blow the whistle" when anyone tries to regiment us.

12,000 Tidewater Council Scouts And Scouters Celebrate 45th Anniversary Of Scouting Feb. 6-12

Scouts and Scouters of Tidewater Council, Boy Scouts of America, will celebrate Anniversary Week with parades, window displays, courts-of-honor, banquets, speeches, and many varied activities on their 45th birthday.

One of the highlights of the week will be the nationwide dedication ceremonies held in park, troop, ship and post meeting places from coast to coast on Tuesday night, February 8th, at 8:15 o'clock, local time. Many radio stations in the Norfolk-Portsmouth area will broadcast the voice of local Scouts reciting the Scout Oath and Law at the time.

In a statement by Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive of the 538 local Boy Scout Councils in this country, he said: "The Boy Scouts of America has a great opportunity to bring to countless additional American boys experiences that will contribute more important than they used to be. You equip them — and you should light them — to make your housework easier and quicker home hobbying less eye-tiring and more enjoyable."

The home craftsman, for example, does a better job when he works under a flood of carefully controlled, glareless light. (And with far fewer blurred fingers!) You get better ironing results when you can see your wrinkle.

How important it is to have good lighting for good grooming . . . flattering light that guides the application of make-up, brightens every angle of a man's face for easy shaving (even under the chin) . . . good background illumination for dressing. Today's bathroom lighting can be so efficient! It can have a warmth and charm that transforms your bathroom into a smart decorative setting. And it comes in a wide selection of styles as the lighting for any of the larger rooms in your home.

Any and All Rooms
Any and every room in your home can be improved from both the functional and decorative point of view. And your new home needs a Hauser home lighting consultant, who will help you select just the fixtures to suit your needs, your taste and your budget. Yes, the home owner of today has the benefit of being able to obtain for their home the kind of lighting that is fashionable, functional and flexible.

Pay a visit to Hausers — or you may call MA 5-7918 and make an appointment to have one of their home lighting consultants visit you and make a survey of your needs — a survey that can mean better lighting in your home. It involves no obligation on your part, of course.

ELECTRICAL FIXTURES

for EVERY ROOM
Whether you need a new fixture . . . or a complete modernization of your wiring . . . let us serve you! Our staff of skilled electricians . . . our large stock of parts and equipment . . . our display of fixtures . . . our moderate prices . . . all enable us to bring you greater value.

but much to meet the problems of adult life."

"Each generation of Americans," he said, "must re-learn and preserve our priceless, hard-won heritage of freedom and democracy. The youth of today, to be equal to the task, must be strong — physically, mentally and spiritually."

Dr. Schuck has challenged the leaders of the Tidewater Council in a special anniversary message to strengthen the movement locally.

"Our responsibility in Scouting is to develop the boy into the kind of citizen that America needs," he said. "He must learn to be self-reliant and responsible. He must feel that liberty is more to be sought after than security. He must be aware of the blessings that are his as a member of the American community."

"We stand today as the great youth-serving organization of the nation, and no other program for boys enjoys more widespread endorsement by civic, fraternal, farm, and other groups. This confidence on the part of the American people makes us stewards of a great trust."

He said that the movement's 950,000 adult leaders "represent an army of men dedicated to serve God and country through the good leadership training to insure a quality program for the boys training of our youth." He added that emphasis has been given in recent years to the importance of in Club Scouting, Boy Scouting, and Exploring.

Ford Motor Co. Releases Film on 4-H Club Work

Transformation of a sleepy, slow-moving farm community into a wide-awake, thriving Midwest village through the stimulus of 4-H Club work is documented in a new color film just released.

The 36-minute motion picture, titled "The Town That Came Back" was produced by the Ford Motor Company for free nationwide distribution.

It tells the story of how the reactivation of a 4-H Club revived the little community's almost-dead spirit. Parts of the 16mm sound-color film are played by the actual persons who participated in the true-life community project.

The film is one of 29 produced by Ford for free distribution to schools, churches, civic groups and other similar organizations throughout the United States. Company pictures may be obtained by writing Ford Motor Company film libraries at 16400 Michigan Ave., Dearborn, Mich.; 15 East 53rd Street, New York City; or 1500 S. 28th Street, Richmond, Calif.

EVERYDAY RELIGION

By C. Stanley Lowell Minister, Virginia Beach Methodist Church

Why do people stay away from church?

Here are the excuses they give. I thought to know - I've been listening to them for years:

- 1-They made me go when I was a boy.
- 2-I'm doing all right without it.
- 3-It's the only time I have to sleep.
- 4-I get the service on the radio, or television.
- 5-I can be just as good at home.

There they are! These are the things that keep millions of people away from the church.

Let's see what is involved in each of these excuses.

"They made me go when I was a boy." Here is a man whose parents were conscientious enough to take him to church. Was this a tigers, monkeys and jungle leaves and flowers; Italian cottons with modernistic fish, fowl and birds, and to balance all this modernism, there are the prints of delicate 18th century bouquets and rosebuds. It's bound to be a beautiful print season!

SILK WORRIES

A new hawthorn-rose silk called Indian silk has been used to whip up some stunning coats and suits. It is derived from wild silk worms (the fricker ones) who feed on oak leaves instead of mulberry leaves and its exciting new texture has appealed to many of our American designers who showed numbers made of it in their collections during the New York Dress Institute's 24th National Fashion Press Week. Leading all other silks were the rich, textured silks, paper thin woods and silk and wool mixtures. These are ideal for the Virginia woman's life in this tide-water area.

You've Got Trimmings!

That is if you take notice of the increase in trimming which is usually made of fabric. There are jabots, ruchings, trills, bows, sauties, pipings, lace insertions, eyelids and floss embroidery, linen collars and cuffs, velvet bands and — except for fine beading — virtually no "hard" trimming this season. Even buttons are subdued and simple, often fabric-covered. There are few leather belts (for that matter, few belts), few buckles, hooks or pins. What belts there are encircle the hips below the waist! That's the long torso look for you gals!

Bloodmobile At Kempsville Next Monday; Big Turnout Desired

The Kempsville Woman's Club and Rural Club, co-sponsors of the visit on Monday, February 7, of the Bloodmobile at the Kempsville School, are anxious to fill the quota of 110 pints which has been set for this visit.

The Bloodmobile will be at the school from 12 o'clock noon until 3 p. m., and everyone in the area is asked to cooperate to make the day successful.

Mrs. E. L. Hudgins, Welfare chairman of the Kempsville Woman's Club, reports that Mrs.

Woodrow Pick, Red Cross chairman, has a full list of helpers from the club membership to assist in the work. They are:

Mrs. R. M. Nelson, Mrs. P. A. Hale, Mrs. Lyman Clarke, Mrs. William Johnson, Mrs. Charles Pitt, Mrs. J. D. Gregory, Mrs. W. F. Hudgins, Jr., Mrs. Chester Bamforth, Mrs. R. E. Garriott, Mrs. W. F. Hudgins, Sr., Mrs. Rhea Walker, Sr., Mrs. P. K. Lassiter, Mrs. R. M. Whitfield and Mrs. W. A. Howen.

Garden Club Hears Talk

The Kempsville Garden Club met with Mrs. R. E. Garriott on Amherst Road January 24, with Mrs. Swindell Pollock as co-hostess.

Exhibit awards were won by Mrs. Chester Bamforth, first place, and Mrs. Roy Allen, second place. The exhibits were made by using foliage only, and a number of beautiful arrangements were displayed.

Mrs. F. E. Blanchard, of the Lakewood Garden Club, gave a most interesting talk on the making of wood panels. She displayed several beautiful panels she had made with materials she had gathered and dried.

The club voted to donate $5 to the March of Dimes. Mrs. Allen urged members to cooperate with the Bloodmobile, to be at the Kempsville School on Monday.

Mrs. H. D. Fugh presented the club with a book, "Handbook of Flower Shows." This is to be the beginning of a club library.

CANDLELIGHT COMMUNION SERVICE HELD ON END

On February 2, Emmanuel Church returned to the old custom of having a candlelight communion service on that day. At that time all the candles that were used during the year were blessed and given to the congregation to hold during the reading of the Holy Scripture.

February 2nd is called Candlemas Day. The name of the day derives from the words of Saint Simon when he saw the Infant Jesus presented to the temple.

Mrs. Mabrey Music Director

The Baptist Church has recently secured as their director of music Mrs. Audrey Mabrey of Norfolk.

Mrs. Mabrey received most of her musical training under Mrs. Emily LaBlanc Faber, studying both piano and organ.

She has directed in various Norfolk churches, including the Campostella Baptist and Methodist Churches, Berkley Presbyterian and Baptist Tabernacle.

Under her direction will be three choirs of the church. The young people will meet on Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., the Junior Choir on Thursday night from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock, and the adult choir on the same night beginning at 7:30.

The choir are now practicing on their Easter music, which will be in the form of the cantata, "Christ Crucified."

"Let us have peace" are the words inscribed on the tomb of General Ulysses S. Grant in New York City.

At this time, the owner gets more money for the larger volume and higher quality. In cutting poplar, the stands should not be clear cut. If a high volume must be cut, Paton advises that a few good trees be left on each acre to furnish seed to get another stand of poplar started.

The alternate cutting method is to select certain trees from the slower growing and crowding trees — leaving a good stand of timber to grow.

Marvin W. Brown Drops From Race For Supervisor

Marvin W. "Jack" Brown, who announced sometime ago as an independent candidate for the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors from the Kempville District, withdrew this week and announced that he would be a candidate for justice of the peace, instead.

Brown also announced that he would support the incumbent member of the board, R. I. Herrick, who has announced as an organization candidate for the post. Brown also indicated he would have organization support in his bid for the justice job.

With Brown's withdrawal, the race for board of supervisors from the Kempville District, is reduced to a three-man contest. Besides Herrick, other announced candidates are E. F. Hanna, an independent, and F. C. Paulson, who has joined with the anti-organization ticket for Princess Anne.

Brown, operator of a shopping center on Virginia Beach boulevard at Chinese Corner, issued the following statement:

"When I announced my candidacy... I did not know at that time that Mr. R. I. Herrick, the present supervisor, would be a candidate for re-election. Since that time he has announced that he would seek re-election."

Scrambled Slogan Contest Focuses Thoughts on Safety

The senior Woman's club of Princess Anne County has launched a safety slogan contest this week and the first series of slogans is appearing in the SUN-NEWS today, it was announced by a member of the club's safety committee.

The contest will run for three weeks and each week three jumbled slogans will appear in this newspaper on different pages. Those entering the contest must clip the scrambled slogans from the paper, send in the corrected slogans to P. O. Box 214, Virginia Beach.

Each week's contest closes on Wednesday, it was announced, and the winner will be determined by the entry with the earliest postmark with the correct slogans. Two tickets to the Beach Theatre will be awarded the winner.

The contest is part of the local club's participation in the nationwide safety program which is approved by the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs for 1955.

The safety committee chairman for the Princess Anne Club is Mrs. R. E. Davenport. Other members of the committee are Mrs. J. S. Neidinger and Mrs. D. H. McKee.

Adm. Rose Will Address Rotary Anniversary Meeting on Thursday

SPEAKER

Rear Admiral Rufus E. Rose, USN, Commander Amphibious Training Command, Little Creek, is scheduled to address the Virginia Beach Rotary Club and other local civic clubs at a special meeting on February 17. It has been announced by Harold B. Kellam, chairman of the Rotary Club's golden anniversary committee.

Other civic clubs in the area have been invited to meet with the local Rotary Club in observance of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Rotary International.

Admiral Rose is a native of Tallahassee, Florida, and a 1924 graduate of the United States Naval Academy. Admiral Rose has been commander of the Little Creek Amphibious Base since April, 1953.

Admiral Rose has had a steady rise in the Navy since his graduation from the Naval Academy. He has had several tours of sea duty and has served on the staff of the Chief of Naval Operations in Washington.

The Rotary Club speaker holds many service decorations, including the Legion of Merit, the Bronze Star with combat distinguishing device; the Commendation Ribbon; American Defense Service medal; American Campaign medal; Asiatic-Pacific Campaign medal and the World War II Victory Medal.

Admiral Rose's talk will highlight the anniversary celebration.

The month of February is birth-month for Rotary clubs throughout the world, since the first Rotary Club was founded in Chicago by the late Paul Harris in February, 1905. Rotary is the oldest of the world's service clubs.

Expansion of Research Program Main Objective of '55 Heart Fund

With the broad expansion of its research program as its leading objective, the American Heart Association and the Heart Association of Virginia are sponsoring the monthly-long 1955 Heart Fund campaign under the chairmanship of General Mark W. Clark, former U. S. Commander-in-Chief in the Far East. In Princess Anne County the Heart Fund is under the sponsorship of the Tidewater Heart Association.

The Heart Fund is the annual public appeal through which the Heart program is made possible. The drive, seventh since the American Heart Association became a national voluntary health organization in 1948, is being conducted in more than 3,000 communities under the guidance of 56 affiliates and 350 chapters. "Help Your Heart Fund — Help Your Heart" is the slogan of the 1955 campaign.

In opening Heart Fund Month General Clark pointed out that the heart diseases account for nearly 800,000 deaths in the United States each year — more than all other causes combined. Some 10,000,000 Americans, including 500,000 children suffer from some sort of heart or blood vessel disease, he said.

"To expand our vital research activities in the interests of this great army of people, and in the interests of the millions who may suffer disease of the heart and blood vessels in future years, we hope to exceed by far the $11,330,186 contributed to the Heart Fund in 1954," General Clark said.

Seventy-five per cent of all funds raised, throughout the February drive will remain in Virginia to carry on the research, educational and community programs of local Heart Associations. Of the amount forwarded to the national headquarters of the American Heart Association, the greater portion is earmarked for the support of the research program, General Clark pointed out.

Bank of Beach Will Operate Branch at NAS

The Bank of Virginia Beach has received authorization from the Treasury Department to operate a facility at the Oceana Naval Air Station. It was announced Tuesday by E. H. Church, president of the growing banking institution.

Word was received from E. F. Bartlett, fiscal assistant secretary of the Treasury Department, of the authorization. Two other Tidewater banks had also negotiated for the facility.

Church stated that the facility on the air station would commence operations on April 1 and that the Navy will provide facilities for the operation.

The banking head estimated that the new branch of the Bank of Virginia Beach would serve approximately 3,000 people. It will mark the third facility operated by the bank with one located on Atlantic avenue between eighteenth and nineteenth streets and the main office and auto branch at 31st street and Pacific avenue.

In addition to Church as president, other officers include Judge Floyd E. Kellam, chairman of the board, Dr. W. L. Taylor and Sidney B. Kellam, vice-presidents; George T. Mullen, cashier; A. W. Craft, Jr., assistant cashier; Wynham E. Brown, III, assistant cashier; Mary G. Bain, assistant cashier; and Margaret N. Hamer, assistant cashier.

Among the duties for the bank as set up by the Treasury Department are: (1) Provide paying and receiving facilities for officers and enlisted men and civilian employees.

"Code of Road" Safety Program Underway Here

"In traffic, courtesy is a life and death matter," Mayor Frank Dusch said yesterday.

Mayor Dusch chose these words to stress the importance of highway courtesy as he announced the opening of a courtesy "Code of the Road" traffic safety program in Virginia Beach.

In making this opening announcement the Mayor said the Police Department deserved special commendation for organizing the local program, which it will coordinate.

The Mayor stated that on the state-wide level the program will be conducted by the Governor's Highway Safety Committee.

March of Dimes Falls Far Short Of $30,000 Goal

With the March of Dimes Drive officially over, the Princess Anne County Chapter is short $16,100 of its goal of $30,000. Of this date $14,000.76 has been collected. The Mothers' March on January 21 brought in the largest single collection and this amounted to almost $10,000.00. Young mothers made a door to door canvass of the entire city and county on the evening of the Mothers' March. Mrs. V. Alfred Etheridge and Mrs. Stanley C. Walker were co-chairmen of this drive, representing the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County and the Cavalier Junior Woman's Club.

The Virginia Beach Little Theatre production of "Ten Little Indians" on February 14 and 15 in the auditorium of the Virginia Beach High School is expected to bring in $500.00.

Coin boxes will be taken up by the end of this week and a basketball game is scheduled for February 25th and a boxing match for February 26th.

E. Ashley Haycox, campaign director, in releasing a statement to the press states there is still time to give and GIVE WHERE YOU LIVE. Contributions by mail should be addressed to March of Dimes, 107 81st Street, Virginia Beach. When making purchases, count your change and drop it in the coin boxes.

Dental Health Being Observed

Children's dental health week is being observed this week in Virginia Beach and Tidewater Virginia. It has been pointed out by Dr. T. R. Jarrett, Jr., of Virginia Beach, who is serving on the area committee.

This is the seventh year that children's dental health week has been emphasized through television and radio programs and special events conducted by parent-teacher groups.

The observance locally has been planned by the Tidewater Dental Association and its president, Dr. Gladstone M. Hill, of Portsmouth, named the following committee: Dr. Jarrett, Dr. Edward Myers, Dr. Jack O'Keefe, Dr. Lloyd C. March, Dr. Lyman Alexander and Dr. Arthur Siegel.

Lippincott to Seek Seat on Board

Dr. John E. Lippincott, unsuccessful candidate for the House of Delegates in 1953, announced Tuesday that he would seek a Princess Anne Board of Supervisors' seat from the Marshfield District in next July's primary election.

Lippincott, in making the announcement, stated that he would "run with and actively support the Princess Anne Ticket." The ticket is an anti-organization slate made up of members of the old People's Ticket group.

Lippincott is a veterinarian by profession and opposed the veteran Harry B. Davis, Princess Anne delegate for the past 30 years, in the 1953 election. Davis was returned to the Virginia General Assembly by a more than two to one vote margin over Lippincott.

Audiometer Tests Taken by Pupils

Nine pupils from Oceana School were given audiometer tests last Tuesday by members of the Junior Women's Club of Princess Anne County. The tests were made in the Conference Room of the Bank of Virginia Beach on 31st Street.

The audiometer tests have been selected by the Princess Anne Club as their State Project for the year. This is a project of the National Co-Chairmen of Heart Fund Volunteers. Jackie Gleason, named "America's Heart Ambassador," will cooperate with Jerry Marshall of radio station WNEW, New York, Chairman of the National Disc Jockey Committee for the Heart Fund Drive, in polling more than 3,000 disc jockeys nationally to determine the recording artists who will reign as 1955 "King and Queen of Hearts." Kirk Douglas and a tape recording of his heart beat are co-starred in a two and a half minute Heart Fund film which will be shown in theatres and on television stations all across the nation.

'Building For a Better Tomorrow' Theme of Scouts' 45th Anniversary

SCOUTS OBSERVE 45th BIRTHDAY

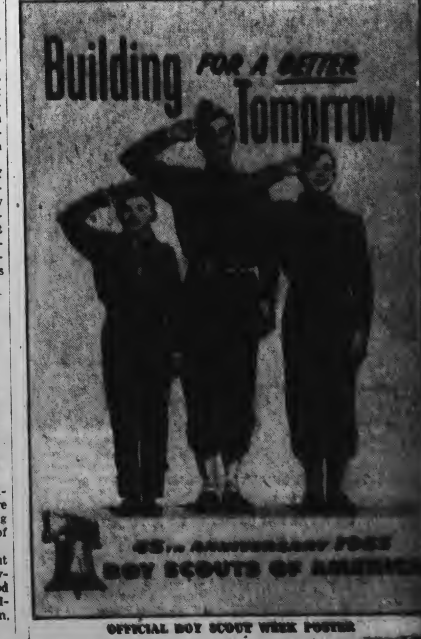

Through many varied activities the nation's 3,600,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers and adult leaders are observing the 45th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America during Boy Scout Week, February 8 to 12, with its theme: "Building for a Better Tomorrow."

Boy Scout Week is the largest annual single observance by young citizens. Since Scouting's incorporation in Washington, D. C., on February 8, 1910, more than 22,750,000 boys and leaders have been enrolled.

The 85,000 units in all parts of the nation, its territories and overseas, are dramatizing, by means of demonstrations, exhibits, window displays and "pot luck" dinners with parents participating, the purpose of Scouting and the rich heritage it has in this country.

Boy Scout Week completes the National Conservation Good Turn the Scouts have undertaken at the request of President Eisenhower, their Honorary President. Members will report to their sponsoring institutions and public officials their accomplishments in arousing "public recognition of the need for adequate protection and wise management of our soil, water, mineral, forest, grassland and wildlife resources."

Mystery-Chiller Production By Little Theatre Monday, Tuesday

The lights will go up on the Virginia Beach Little Theatre's second production of the season, Monday and Tuesday, February 14-15, at 8:30 p.m. in the Virginia Beach High School. "Ten Little Indians" directed by Mrs. Arthur Massey, was written by that master of mystery chiller, Agatha Christie. Like the ten little Indians in the nursery rhyme from which the play takes its title, the characters, an odd assortment of total strangers, gathered together on Indian Island off the coast of Devon England, are disposed of one by one. Invited to the island by a mysterious host, on the first evening a voice from the air accuses each of them of murder. And while they are exchanging data on themselves and their host who has not yet arrived, one of the ten little Indian statues which adorn the mantelpiece, topples off and breaks — and immediately thereafter one of the guests chokes to death of poison which someone has dropped in his drink. And from then on the excitement never lets up until the final curtain.

Thanks to the ingenuity of Don Peterson of the Guided Missile School at Dam Neck, the problem of the ten little Indian statues which were solved, for he cast the mold and made them himself. Also from the Guided Missile School are

Bloodmobile Gets 55 Pints

Citizens of the Kempville Area turned out to donate 55 pints of blood at the Tidewater Regional Bloodmobile visit on Monday February 7. Yoder Dairy supplied free milk for all donors.

The visit was sponsored by the Kempville Ruritan Club headed by Rhea Walker, Jr. and the Kempville Woman's Club with Mrs. Lyman Clark, Chairman. Dr. Herbert W. Swertfeger was the volunteer physician and attendant.

PT. STORY TELLINGS

Action of nine cakes at the Post Service Club swelled Story's contribution to the 1955 March of Dimes by $175 this week. The cakes were contributed by girls from Virginia Beach and Norfolk who attended the cream social which attracted large numbers of men. Auctioneer was PFC Martin J. Loberg of New York City, a member of the 606th Transportation Company.

Class No. Eight of the Transportation Officers' Advanced Course, comprising 74 officers from the Transportation School at Fort Rucker, spent a day at Best supply room trophy for January was awarded by Col. Edwin A. Deagle, Story's commanding officer, to Headquarters Company, 5th Transportation Terminal Command B. Receiving it from Colonel Deagle were the company CO, Capt. Gordon E. Cawthorne, his exec. Lt. Herman I. Marcus, and Sgt. Coy A. Recheater, assistant supply sergeant acting for SFC John J. Zatzky who is on leave.

Another mess hall opening kept aspect of current buildup of troop strength in the 5th Transportation Battalion as Col. Edwin A. Deagle cut the traditional ribbon.

The new mess will serve the 606th T Company whose CO, Lt. Nathaniel H. Thompson; first sergeant, M/Sgt. Marion E. Smith, and mess steward, Sgt. Eddie Warthen, all joined Colonel Deagle for the ceremony.

Another Unit of the fast-growing 5th Battalion, the 56th T Company, came in for double distinction this week. At the most recent garrison review the 56th served as Color Company and had a "Best Marching Unit" added to its guidon by Col. Edwin A. Deagle. The CO, Capt. William G. Condon, and the first sergeant, M/Sgt. Fred E. Spurling, also received the battalion Honor Company plaque from the 5th's commanding officer, Lt. Col. James F. Wolaver.

N&W Official Declares Coal Industry Harmed

Stuart T. Saunders, vice president and general counsel of the Norfolk and Western railway, recently told the House Ways and Means Committee in Washington that "restriction of foreign-produced residual oil would not work a hardship on anyone" but that the coal industry and the railroads were suffering severely from its unrestricted importation.

Saunders spoke in behalf of the three Pocahontas railroads—the N&W, the Chesapeake and Ohio and the Virginian—in support of an amendment to H. R. 1 fixing a quota on the import of such oil.

"I submit that it is a short-sighted policy which relegates the bituminous coal industry and the coal-hauling railroads to a standby status," he said. "It is a policy which might well have tragic consequences in the event of another world-wide conflagration."

The official pointed out that the three roads now own enough freight cars and other facilities to handle 50 per cent more coal than they hauled last year and said that they could not be expected to maintain surplus idle equipment over long periods.

Saunders cited the oil competition as unfair "because, as a by-product, it may now be dumped on the market at whatever price is necessary to underbid coal."

He used New England coal market figures to support his point that the left-over from foreign refineries is badly damaging the three rail lines which originate 23.8 per cent of all bituminous coal mined in this country.

He said that 1953 coal tonnage dumped at Hampton Roads into New England-bound ships was 5.9 million tons or 54 per cent under that dumped in 1940, while New England sales of residual oil in 1953 increased 120 per cent, or the equivalent of 15.6 million tons of coal over 1940.

EASY DOES IT

Baking success depends on several things, so check this list for know-how on improving the quality of foods that come out of your oven.

Cookies, cakes and pastries should have a pre-heated oven. Start the oven before you start the mixing and it will be at the correct temperature when you're ready to pop in these foods.

In baking cakes, the size of the pan is important so cake will rise and bake properly. If you do not have a pan also recommended in the recipe, fill cake pans half full with batter and bake the remaining batter in cupcake or muffin pans.

Butter, shortening and other fats, as well as eggs and liquid used in cakes and cookies will blend together more readily if they are allowed to stand at room temperature for thirty minutes or an hour before you start mixing.

Egg whites for cakes with or without shortening should be beaten stiff but not dry.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Peach Sour Cream Pie
(Makes 1 9-inch pie)

2½ cups canned cling peach slices
1 cup thick soured cream
¼ cup brown sugar (packed)
½ teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks
2 tablespoons flour

Pastory for single 9-inch crust

Drain peaches. Blend together sour cream, sugar and salt; stir in well-beaten egg yolks. Sprinkle 1 tablespoon flour in bottom of pastry-lined pan. Arrange peaches on flour; sprinkle with remaining flour. Four sour cream mixture over peaches. Bake in hot oven (425°F.) ten minutes; reduce heat and bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 40 minutes longer. Cool before cutting.

District Committee Meets

The February meeting of the Princess Anne District Committee of Girl Scouts was held at the home of Mrs. E. C. Mansfield, Great Neck Point, London Bridge, on Friday, February 4. Mrs. Lynn Clarke, District Chairman, called on the various chairmen for reports.

Mrs. Leonard J. Carter, Oceana Neighborhood Chairman, reported Troop 201, Mrs. Jack Perkins, leader, plans an overnight trip to Williamsburg on February 23. Mrs. H. W. Newcome, Bayside Neighborhood Chairman, told of the big rally which was held on Saturday, February 5, at the Shelton Elementary School, with about twelve troops participating in the program. Scouts were awarded their various badges and "and" nine girls won their first-class badges. Mrs. Lewis Smith, Neighborhood Chairman for Virginia Beach, announced they would hold their rally the latter part of March. Mrs. M. B. Mellor, Chairman of the Coastal Shores - East Ocean View area, announced a rally to be held in May at the Asplen Gardens. Mrs. J. D. Gregory, Kempsville Neighborhood Chairman, told of the many activities in her neighborhood. Troop 221 (Brownies) were learning their laws and promises and there will be a troop birthday party next month for mothers.

Mrs. Henry Hedley, Bayside, District Training Chairman, announced two institutes for leaders would be held in March, singing and crafts. Mrs. E. C. Mansfield, Chairman of the Area Day Camp, announced Camp Linkhorn would re-open July 5 and run through July 28. The first period would be for Scouts and the second period for Brownies, accommodating 75 girls each period. She announced her committee as follows: Director, Mrs. Lewis Smith; assistant director, Mrs. Jean Snyder; transportation, Mrs. L. J. Carter; publicity, Mrs. John Tucker and Mrs. J. D. Gregory.

Officers Are Nominated

The nominating committee presented the slate of officers for 1955, which was unanimously accepted. The following: District chairman, Mrs. Lynn Clarke; President, Mrs. Anne; co-chairmen, Mrs. Henry Hedley, Bayside (representing out-lying county troops); Mrs. George Boush, London Bridge (representing troops at Virginia Beach and Oceana); secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Glenn Dill, Virginia Beach.

Members of the nominating committee were Mrs. H. W. Newcome, chairman; Mrs. J. Bagley Walker and Mrs. Glenn Dill.

Scouting Still Growing

Scouting is still growing in Princess Anne County! In January, 1954, 82 troops were registered with 165 girls. In January, 1955, there were 81 leaders and assistants, and in January, 1955, there were 100.

Welcome New District Worker

The Princess Anne District Committee of Girl Scouts welcomed their new acting District Worker, Mrs. R. T. Gladin, Jr., on Friday, February 4, at the home of Mrs. E. C. Mansfield, Great Neck Point, London Bridge.

Mrs. Gladin is formerly of Elmhurst, Ill., and has been in Scouting for twelve years (she herself was a Scout). She served five years as a leader and was a Council member one year and has served as a day camp director both in Illinois and Florida. She worked in the Pensacola office of Girl Scouts which served the northwest portion of Florida. Before coming to the Norfolk office of the Virginia Tidewater Council of Girl Scouts, Mrs. Gladin served in the Girl Scout office in Washington, D. C. She is the wife of a naval officer who is at present stationed in this area.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, Mrs. Mansfield, the hostess, served lunch and presented Mrs. Gladin with a delicious cake effectively and attractively decorated with a full-length green uniformed Scout with a "Welcome" message to "Cathy" Gladin.

B & P W to Hear Panel Discussion

A panel discussion, "Your Financial Future," will be conducted by the Business and Professional Woman's Club of Princess Anne County on Monday, February 14th, at 7 p. m. at the Pine Tree Inn. Mrs. Susan Kramer, club program chairman, has announced. Panelists will be Mrs. Esther D. Pincus, special representative of the Ben Simon Agency, The Lincoln National Life Insurance Company. She will speak on "The Advantages of Life Insurance as an Investment."

Clyde H. Jacob, Jr., assistant manager of the National Bank of Commerce of Norfolk, will discuss "Bank Service and Sound Investments." "Investments in a Savings and Loan Association will be the topic of the third panelist, Frank E. Schlegel, president of the Norfolk Federal Savings and Loan Association.

This program planned by the local BPW Club is in keeping with a "streamlined program of service for women in business and the professions" set up by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club.

Beach Police Little Busier in '54 Than Previous Year Report Shows

While it appears that the Police Department of Virginia Beach, from its annual report shows they had a little more activity in 1954 than in 1953, the impressing representative, was also in attendance.

It was announced that the District "Camporee" is to be held April 30 - May 1 on the "May Farm," located on the Lynnhaven River.

The committee is now in the process of acquiring camping sites in and around the county. The sites will be located so as to enable the Scouts to become well acquainted with the county and surrounding area.

The committee hopes to have its list in the hands of all troops by March 1. Anyone knowing of available sites, please contact Joseph LaGiglia, phone Virginia Beach 2008, or Norfolk Madison 2-5273.

It showed 206 cases for 1954 as against 191 in 1953. There were no homicides and negligent manslaughter held its level with one as in 1953.

Rape showed a decrease of one report in 1954 against two in 1953. Robbery complaints were 6 in 1954 against 7 in 1953. There were 11 cases of felonious assaults against 15 in 1953. Burglary, including all breaking and entering showed 53 in 1954 against 58 in 1953, and of these only 28 reported anything missing.

Grand larceny showed a decrease in 1954 with 53 as against 58 in 1953.

A large majority of the reports in grand and petit larceny are as a result from stealing out of automobiles parked on the streets during the summer.

There were only 31 automobiles reported stolen in 1954 against 47 reported in 1953.

While Virginia Beach again chalked up one fatality in 1954 as it did in 1953 the total count in property damage and personal injury accidents showed a decrease of 14.

Personal injuries reported in 1954 were 59 against 38 in 1953.

The police issued 2,275 parking tickets against 1,774 in 1953.

Other agencies requested the local department to make 1,517 record check investigations. In 1953 there were 1,319. 839 teletype messages were sent and 19,425 radio communications were logged in carrying out their daily duties.

The police Identification Division showed an increase in its activities for 1954.

There were 69 persons criminally fingerprinted for the first time, while 1953 showed 75. Of these it was found that 53 percent had previous records either here or elsewhere.

There were 854 civil identifications made as against 224 in 1953. 3,148 arrests were made by the local police during 1954 as against 3,188 in 1953. Of these 29 were for felonies, 1,238 for traffic and 1,081 were for misdemeanors.

Reckless driving showed the highest number of arrests, 334. In traffic police also found that 190 persons had no drivers permits and 147 were charged with running through red lights and signs. There were 111 persons charged with driving under the influence.

The month of July registered the highest number of complaints with 937 as against 941 in 1953. The largest number of arrests were registered in August of 1954 with 415.

Accidents involving property damage in 1954 were 196 against 191 in 1953.

Building "BIG MEN" for tomorrow's BIG JOBS

Trustworthy, loyal, helpful . . . friendly, courteous, kind . . . obedient, cheerful, thrifty
. . . brave, clean, reverent.

This is a 12-word picture of a big man—a good leader, a good citizen. These are the priceless qualities that make men big—not merely in terms of ability or position or income, but big through strength of character whatever their walk in life.

These also are the principles on which the Boy Scout organization was founded just 45 years ago this week. They are the tenets of the Scout law, conceived with the faith that the best way to bring up a man with these qualities is to start when he's a boy.

That's exactly what Scouting does. It lays hold of a boy at the crucial, formative time of his life, sets a goal for him, and steers him intelligently toward that goal.

The world needs big men. It's comforting to know that such an organization exists. It's comforting to know that, thanks to the Boy Scouts, this nation has a training ground for big men . . . a constantly replenishing reservoir of tomorrow's big men, for tomorrow's big jobs.

BLUNDERBUSS JOURNALISM

During the past two to three years—it has been this community's misfortune to witness repeated misuses of the press by Willie Dunn in his weekly newspaper. Usually Dunn's attacks have been against individuals by name or groups of individuals that he freely names. However, last week this would-be newspaper editor did not single out just one individual but attacked an entire group of this community's business population.

Dunn this time maligned the service station operators of this community by inference, insinuation or by just plain stating that these businessmen engage in the illegal sale of liquor. This accusation is wholly unwarranted and prompted one of our readers to write a letter to this newspaper which we publish elsewhere on this page.

It seems that Dunn, in attempting to advance the "Dunn Machine" candidates in next July's election, feels that he must accuse or attack any and every phase of this community's life. It may be that, in the end, he is merely seeking publicity for himself.

The belief concerning certain service station operators expressed by Willie Dunn in last week's issue of his newspaper came to light when he reviewed an explanation given to the Virginia Beach City Council by the chairman of the city's zoning board in reference to the board's refusal to approve a permit to construct a service station at the corner of seventeenth street and Pacific avenue. Dunn related that the board chairman stated, in effect, that "the board felt there were enough service stations in the area and that if another were allowed there it might make it impossible for the operators to make money and that they would overcome the handicap by 'pushing pints.'"

Dunn stated, and we quote: "We believe the reverse is more nearly accurate; that the traffic in selling liquor has become so great in that area that the operators are going to find it necessary to 'push' gallons (of gas) in order to keep above water economically."

We fail to understand why a man would make such a ridiculous statement or why a man would want to reflect discredit on a highly honorable profession in his own community. To those who are capable of thinking clearly and to those who are familiar with the caliber of men engaged in the service station business in this area it is quite obvious that this community is blessed with as fine a group of businessmen in this profession as can be found anywhere in the United States. We are proud of the ethics and standards adopted by and maintained by service station operators in this area.

In observing Willie Dunn's tactics since he has been publishing a newspaper, we wonder who or what will be attacked next by this man. He has attacked individuals, groups of individuals, churches, civic clubs, social clubs, etc., and last week began attacking the business life of this community by his unwarranted statement concerning the service station operators. Is there nothing this man is for, he seems to be against everything and everybody.

A FINE RELATIONSHIP

Virginia Beach, as a community, and the military service can be proud of the fine spirit of friendly relations that exists today between the city and the military establishments located in Princess Anne County, just outside the city's boundaries. This relationship is not new but has existed for many years and credit can be equally distributed between city officials and the Army and Navy leaders, who have commanded these establishments.

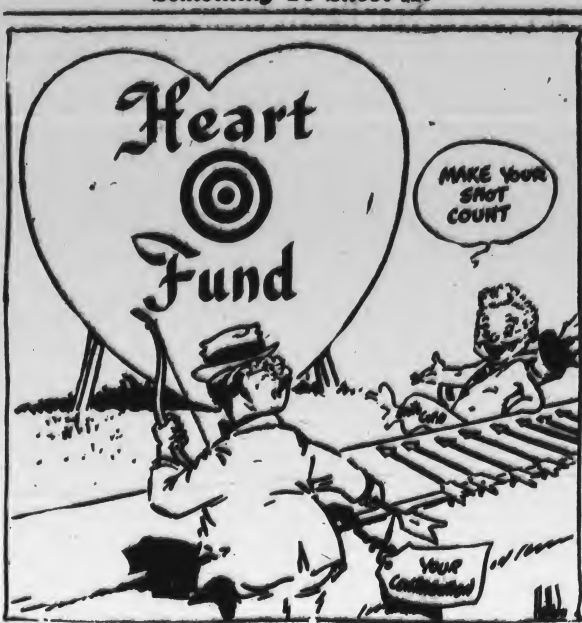

This result is probably due, in no small measure, to the emphasis placed by the Virginia Beach City government and military officials through the years on the desire to maintain cordial relations between the civilian and military people in the area.

Both the Army as represented by Fort Story to the north of the city and the Navy as represented by the Oceana Naval Air Station, have contributed immeasurably to this fine spirit that exists today between the city and the military.

Naturally, the military installations reflect the administration of its commanding officers and it is in this respect that much of the credit is due to today's fine relationship. Commanding officers at Fort Story and at the Oceana Naval Air Station in the past have contributed to this relationship and their contributions are appreciated, but the present commanding officers at these installations are even improving on the work of their predecessors.

Both Colonel Edwin A. Deagle, commanding officer at Fort Story, and Captain Ward T. Shields, commanding officer at Oceana, have been particularly active in furthering and improving the relationship between their commands and Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County.

Something To Shoot At

Both of these military leaders are highly cognizant of the importance of good station-community relations, and both have been equally diligent in their efforts to maintain and improve these relations. Col. Deagle and Capt. Shields have been working closely with city officials for sometime on these matters and plans are presently being discussed to improve still further the already fine relationship that exists between the community and its military establishments. We are fortunate to have military leaders of this type commanding our military installations.

MOTHER'S MARCH

The Mother's March on Polio by the young mothers of Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach last month was a magnificent display of singleness and as a result the drive for funds to battle this disease was swelled locally by almost $10,000.

This phase of the polio drive by the local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has never, in the past, been quite as successful and this year's result of the Mother's March is a clear indication of the universal awareness of the public to the effects of this disease.

The young mothers of our community are to be congratulated for the fine work they did in the march and the necessary work that was required in organizing the march in such an efficient manner.

While the final report for the March of Dimes drive is not complete since there are several events scheduled later this month to benefit the drive, the Mother's March will go a long way to carrying the campaign over the top.

BOY SCOUTS

We salute the Boy Scouts of America on its 45th birthday, now being observed during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6 to 12.

Since its founding in 1910 the organization has enriched the lives of over 22,750,000 boys and adult leaders. Truly Scouting represents a living cross section of American life.

Boys of every race, religion and economic background are attracted to Scouting. Today we find 2,700,000 boys in its ranks. Add to that impressive figure the 960,000 adults of good character who give generously of their time and talents to serve as leaders of units, Merit Badge Counselors and in many other capacities. There is hardly an American family that has not felt its influence.

Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, the Chief Scout Executive, a leader in the organization since 1913, feels that it is of vital importance to train the boys of today to be ready for positions of leadership as they grow to manhood.

"Strong character, participating citizenship and physical fitness," he says, are needs of our boys and young men who are served by the program of Scouting in cooperation with the home, the school, the church, and all other community institutions actively interested in training our future citizens."

Scouting's purpose, stated in the Federal Charter granted by Congress in 1916, is to promote the "ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to train them in Scoutcraft, and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance and kindred virtues."

Every member of the nation's 95,000 Scouting Units is indeed "having some kind of experience that is adding to his equipment to meet the problems of adult life."

It is that training that we heartily endorse on this noteworthy birthday.

Honor Club is Organized at HS

The Honor Club of Virginia Beach High School was approved by the faculty and student body at a recent general meeting.

The Student Cooperative Association is sponsoring the club for the purpose of instilling in each student a desire to do the honest and honorable thing under all circumstances. All members of the student body are members of the Honor Club, and so long as they conduct themselves properly all will remain members in good standing. Students in good standing are recognized in this manner, each time they take a test or examination the teacher hands out an attractive 4 x 6 card to each student. The card has the words VIRGINIA BEACH HIGH SCHOOL HONOR CLUB printed in big letters at the top and the following printed at the bottom: "On my sacred honor with God as my witness I will not give, nor will I accept any help on this test. I will be careful to avoid any temptation. I may fail a test, but I will not fail myself."

Small membership cards, pocket book size, will be issued to all students. These cards will be signed by the Student Cooperative Association President and the Principal of the school. The Honor pledge will be printed on one side as follows: "On my sacred honor with God as my witness, I will not give nor will I accept help on any test or examination. I am proud of my school and I will do all within my power to protect its physical properties, and the good name." The student will sign the pledge in a space at the bottom of the card.

If a student is called down by the teacher or the principal for cheating, defacing the furniture, writing on the wall, cursing, lying or doing anything else that is considered dishonorable, then that student is removed from the honor club for an indefinite period of time.

When, in the opinion of the school officials, that person who has violated his honor, has proven that he realizes his error and wants to make amends, it is possible that he may be reinstated to honor club membership, and his honor club card may be returned to him. Students are not asked to report other students, but if one sees another doing something that is a violation of the Honor code, he or she is at liberty to suggest to the erring one that he mend his ways. The enforcement of the honor code is a faculty matter and students will not sit in judgment of their fellows.

AROUND

The Cracker Barrel

The most persistent rumor of two weeks ago relative to the primary election next July continues to hold that position in that W. W. Oliver, Jr. is planning to withdraw from the race for the office of the commissioner of the revenue. The persistence of this rumor gives rise in some quarters that it might be true. However, there has been no confirmation.

The subject of Oliver's possible withdrawal is based primarily, we believe, on the fact that he wanted the office abolished two years ago. Many people are saying that he cannot feel sincere in running for the office with this view vividly present in his background. We will see. If the fact he doesn't believe there should be such an office in our county government concerns him that much. If he should decide to withdraw it could be because he "abhors politics."

One observer recently stated that he thought "Around the Cracker Barrel" was an appropriate title for this column. We didn't catch on at first and our observer explained that he meant we dealt mostly with "crumbs."

Another individual, when passing the Princess Anne Jail recently, said: "If I ever have to go to jail I would like to go to the Princess Anne Jail, cause there you can come and go as you please."

Willie Dunn, the "Dunn Machine" boss, seems to typify the old adage: "people who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones." Someone said Dunn feels he can say anything he wants to about other people, but don't you dare say anything unkind, even though true, about Willie.

In most political campaigns much is usually said about the candidates and many times the individuals involved would sometimes rather forget their past. So it would seem with Roger Malbon, the sheriff. One of the latest incidents concerning Malbon is the one about the time he borrowed someone's automobile, only to wreck it by running into a tree along the roadside. It is reported the law conscious Malbon had the accident report made out showing the lawless one also to be the driver of the vehicle.

RESENTS INSINUATIONS

Virginia Beach, Va.
 Editor, The Sun-News,

Dear Sir:

I have been a resident of Virginia Beach since 1926 and this is the first time I have ever been accused of "peddling pints." That is in the vernacular of one J. Wilcox Dunn in his Princess Anne Free Press printed in Suffolk, Virginia, on February 3, 1955. He accuses myself and the rest of the gasoline service station operators of Virginia Beach of doing such.

In recent years I know of not one station operator that has done so. To my thorough knowledge they are church going, civic minded, law abiding family men who have enough to do attending their own business working long hours for meager wages to have to listen to insinuations and slurs from an arrogant and dictatorial editor of a two-bit weekly newspaper.

If Mr. J. Wilcox Dunn has such information why doesn't he give it to the proper authorities and set to it personally that the proper action is taken. Or, is he keeping this information to himself so that he can set his off-hours pin when he has the crav-

I subscribe to both local papers and unless an apology is forthcoming from Mr. J. Wilcox Dunn concerning his article I am afraid he is going to be minus one subscriber from now on.

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF HOW TO TOP WORRYING AND LATE LIVING

LaVerne R. Larson, 4815 North Tripp Avenue, Chicago, tells us that the year 1950 lives in her memory as a nightmare.

After conducting exhaustive tests and examinations, Chicago's top physicians informed her that her mother was surely and unalterably facing a situation where it would be necessary to amputate her leg. Her actual condition was such that the chances were only one in several thousand that she would survive, yet it would have to be done within a month, almost certainly within a year.

From the moment she left the doctor's office following this shattering announcement, the question "How can I ever tell her?" burned constantly in the back of her mind. Her thoughts were so consumed with this that the course of life was changed. Her work began to suffer, as did her social life. She was acting like someone under a spell and she wouldn't tell anyone the reason for it because she felt it was her worry.

As it happened, her mother mercifully died suddenly, easily, and without ever knowing what might have been in store for her. After

M. PET. PEEVE

I once knew a fellow who lived right next to a busy railroad line. Each time a train rumbled along the tracks a few feet from his doorway, the frame building shook to its very foundation. His deep routine called for plenty of noise and noise he had to have.

Having recently bundled the wife and two "noddies" off to Mississippi for a "homestead" cure, I now understand how disconcerting an upset routine may be.

As a rule, I'm the type who "tucks in" quite early, sometimes even before the kiddies run down or are chased off to bed. Not so, now. My first efforts to retire at the usual time end with total failure. I kept straining my ears to hear familiar noises—rustling sounds from the children's room; pots and pans in the kitchen; somebody asking for a drink of water to be brought bedside.

There were no familiar sounds—but they annoyed rather than soothed. Each seemed magnified a thousand times. The automatic heater took off like a jet, the television aerial, rocked by the wind, made a rumbling noise like two heavy metal rods being rubbed together. The floors "creaked" and the storm windows rattled.

Reading in bed—a habit seldom indulged in—proved the only ticket to relaxation and sleep. But this process took time and I would have rested much better if a freight train had roared by to rock me to sleep.

Violet Society Meets on 17th

The February meeting of the P. A. African Violet Society will be held Thursday, February 17th at 2 P. M., at the home of Mrs. Mildred Lockman, on Holly Road.

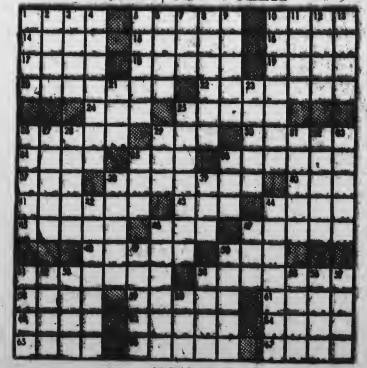

The members will complete the plans for a card party to be held March 23rd, at the American Legion Club on Laskin Road. At the same time they will hold their annual violet exhibit and fashion show by Julia's of Virginia Beach. Blue violets will be displayed at their meeting for judging. Mrs. Mae Asteris will be co-hostess with Mrs. Lockman.

This an' That

Sugar Ray Robinson and Beau Jack are two examples of how difficult it is for once-great fighters to resist the temptation to make a "comeback." Both were remembered as great fighters. Robinson quit while he was ahead, Beau Jack because of a bad knee. In each case, money brought them out of retirement. Robinson could not live in the fashion to which he was accustomed on his night club earnings alone. Beau Jack had little when he left the ring. American team of two men and two women to the Pan-American Games in Mexico in March. . . . Jim Weatherall, big tackle who played at Oklahoma and then with Edmonton in Canadian pro football last year, will join the Philadelphia Eagles next fall. . . . Junior Women Nominate Officers, Announce Plans for 1955 "Follies"

Mrs. James G. Kellam was nominated as president for 1955-56 of the Princess Anne Junior Women's Club at a meeting of the organization on Tuesday evening, February 1, at the Virginia Beach Community House. Mrs. Kellam, first vice president for 1954-55, presided at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Frederick O. Trummer, president, who was in Roanoke attending a board meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Other officers nominated by the nominating committee include: Mrs. William F. Ferrell, first vice president; Mrs. A. J. Dennis, second vice president; Mrs. J. A. Johnson, third vice president; Mrs. W. A. Green, fourth vice president; Mrs. C. Douglas Reese, recording secretary; Mrs. Doris Etheridge, treasurer, and Mrs. Everett Martin, corresponding secretary. The slate of officers was presented by Mrs. Leslie R. Watson. Election will be held at the March business meeting.

Mrs. V. Alfred Etheridge, co-chairman of this year's "March of Mothers," announced that as of Tuesday night contributions from the Mothers March totaled $9,934.45. The correct total from the Little Neck area was $167.83. Money is still coming in from all sections of the county, she stated. Last year's "March" netted $6,875.

Members were urged to purchase or reserve their tickets for "Fashion Follies," the club's chief money-making project for this year, immediately. The "Follies" will be held on March 4 at the Fort Story Officers' Club. Only a specified number of tickets will be sold as seating capacity at the Officers' Club is limited.

ASK THE MAN TO OPEN THE HOOD!

Ask: "Does this truck have a modern Short-Stroke V-8 engine?"

Ford's got the most modern short-stroke SIX too! Ford's 118-h.p. Cost Clipper Six has the shortest piston stroke of any Truck Six! It's available in this new Ford Pickup, GYW 5,000 lbs., and all Ford Trucks through "2-ton" Series.

THIS YEAR the truck industry is beginning to follow Ford's lead to modern short-stroke V-8's. They last longer—prolong ring life up to 53%! Save up to one gallon of gas in seven! But ONLY FORD has four V-8's . . . one for every size truck in a full line . . . available right now!

HOW TO TELL if it's a short-stroke engine: check the specifications! The "stroke" is always as short as, or shorter than the "bore."

Modern short-stroke V-8's are beginning to take over in trucks—just as they've already done in passenger cars. Today, virtually every passenger car offers short-stroke V-8 power. Before too long, the same will be true of trucks. So, if you buy a truck with a long-stroke Six today that's not being built tomorrow, what will happen to its ultimate trade-in value? Play it safe! Don't settle for anything less than a modern short-stroke engine!

We have 'em NOW!

PINK FIREPLACE NOVEL FEATURE AT NEW CAMP STORE

Gives Realistic Touch to Display Of Furniture

A real conversation piece is the twenty foot, floor-to-ceiling pink brick fireplace at the new Camp Furniture store at Hilltop. This is not just a decorative attraction, either, for this gives a realistic touch to the living room arrangement set up in front of it.

Along the same realistic theme, Mr. F. Camp has adopted in his new roadside furniture store a working OE kitchen, where the customers can watch GE's latest scientific models in action: the automatic Filler-Flo washer, the dishwasher, built-in oven, built-in surface range and automatic dryer, each performing its utilitarian duty. All that is missing is the housewife in a pretty apron watching these appliances dispensing with her chores.

Most Modern Design

Following the country-wide trend to roadside furniture stores, Camp Furniture at Hilltop is as modern in its architectural design as in its conveniences. The hundred and thirty-five foot building has a complete visual effect, aluminum acoustical ceiling and intriguing dividers that set up individual room groups.

Prominent, nationally advertised lines of furniture, furnishings, terrace furniture and OE appliances are artistically displayed in the 18,000 square foot open expanse of floor space.

Mr. F. Camp, president of the Camp Furniture Company, stated that this new addition to Princess Anne and Virginia Beach was prompted by the visualization of the future development at Hilltop and throughout Princess Anne County.

Mr. Camp also announced the association of R. S. Lockwood with the firm. Mr. Lockwood was formerly connected with the J. B. Crawford Furniture Company and the Channel Furniture Company of Portsmouth. Mr. and Mrs. Lockwood are now residents of Virginia Beach.

Last September the Boy Scouts distributed a million fire prevention posters.

400 Participate in Girl Scout Rally Saturday at Shelton Park School

The Bayside Area of the Princess Anne County Girl Scouts held a rally at Shelton Park School, Saturday afternoon, February 5th. Five Brownie Troops, 8 Intermediate Troops, and one Senior Troop participated. Approximately four hundred scouts, parents, and visitors attended.

The invocation was given by Rev. Lee Roy Brown, pastor of the Haygood Methodist Church. The Presentation of Colors was made by the Intermediate Troop 213 of the Amphibious Base, Mrs. A. F. Cook, leader. Senior Scout Linda Harrell introduced the Bay-side Chairman, Mrs. H. W. New-some. First Class Scout Peggy Hedley, Ann Lyon, Beverly Bailey, and Les Ray Pentress introduced the distinguished guests. Mrs. Lyman Clark, District Chairman for Princess Anne County, congratulated the Bay-side Area on its growth in Scouting. The Senior Troop, directed by Miss Betty Landers, sang several selections.

The merit badges were presented to the Intermediate Scouts by the individual leaders. Then Senior Scout Anna E. Paison introduced Mrs. Harmon Jones, Girl Scout Commissioner of the Tidewater Area. Mrs. Jones presented First Class badges to nine scouts, Les Ray Pentress, Nadine Isaac, Ann Lyon, Barbara Bartlett, Bonnie Malton, Susan Girard, Joanne Hines, Joan Kirby, and Peggy Hedley.

The individual troop leaders were introduced by the moderator, and the Girl Scouts put on skits and sang songs. Four Brownie troops were represented. Troop 226 of Ocean Park (Mrs. Marvin Moore and Mrs. Leo Huddleston, leaders) sang "We Are the Red Men." Troop 228 of the Amphibious Base (Mrs. J. P. Morgan, leader) did a Folk Dance. Troop 287 of Diamond Springs (Mrs. James Ingram, leader) put on a skit called "A Day in Spring." Troop 242 of Diamond Springs (Mrs. W. D. Ousis, leader) presented "Dancing Shoes" from the Operetta "Hazel and Gretel." Brownie troop 217 of Chesapeake Beach (Mrs. Richard Hines and Mrs. Harvey Parker, leaders) did not participate in the skits since it is newly reorganized. All the Brownies sang the "Brownie Smile Song."

Five Intermediate Troops were represented. Troop 202 of Chesapeake Beach (Mrs. Henry Hedley and Mrs. C. H. Girard, leaders) put on a musical play-let, "Three Pirates." Troop 203 of Ocean Park (Mrs. George Lyon and Mrs. Robert Radcliff, leaders) sang "Give Us You." Troop 215 of Lake View Park put on an original skit about the work of the Girl Scouts to build "Citizens of Tomorrow."

Troop 252 of Robbins Corner (Mrs. Charles Hodgman and Mrs. Vernon Watts, leaders) reviewed the ten Girl Scout Laws. Troop 258 of the Amphibious Base (Mrs. Francis L. Vickers, leader) danced a Folk dance, "Bow Belinda." The entire group of Intermediate Scouts sang "Girl Scouts Together." In closing, Mrs. William Reeves, Assistant Director of the Virginia Tidewater Area Council of Girl Scouts, gave a round of Girl Scout songs.

Notes from YOUR COUNTY AGENT

By JOHN O. HART
County Agricultural Agent

Save Those Feed Bags—

It pays to take care of feed bags. L. W. Herrick, poultry husbandman at VPI, says the detail of taking care of feed bags becomes more and more important as the size of the flock increases.

A flock of 1,000 Belville white turkeys grown to "fryer" age uses from 13 to 15 tons of feed, which comes in from 260 to 300 bags. Assuming that bags are worth 10 cents each on the average, that means from $26 to $30 for the producer in a 4-month period. Bag price varies according to kind and quality.

Grown to maturity, 1,000 broiler turkeys will eat from 35 to 40 tons of feed, requiring 700 to 800 bags, which valued at 10 cents would mean from $70 to $80 return.

There's a similar situation for the broiler producer. A flock of 1,000 broilers will use about 90 bags of feed in a 3-month period. The 1,000 bird broiler flocks currently are greatly outnumbered by flocks from 5,000 to 20,000 birds in size, from which bag return would amount to $45 to $180. And since producers grow out three or four flocks a year, the value of bags can add up to a sizeable amount.

Herrick says that altho hanging the bags up neatly on a bag rack away from walls so mice and rats cannot get to them is done by many producers, the grower with an exceptionally large flock may find this is not practical. For example, the man with a 30,000-capacity broiler house would use about 3,000 bags in 10 weeks or an average of 116 daily. His most practical solution is to pile them stretched out neatly on a dry floor. With that many he likely would sell them more often, and pay more attention to controlling rats and mice. His bags, using the 10-cent average, would be worth up to $3,240 a year. The broiler grower often uses all cotton bags and the actual price might be more than 10 cents.

Growing pullets take from 25 to 35 pounds of feed to maturity, which means 1,000 birds will require feed in 250 to 350 bags. These when sold would bring $26 to $35. A similar story holds true with laying chickens, ducks and guineas.

Baits May be Answer to Urban Fly Problem—

Widespread use of the new, effective insecticidal baits for flies is predicted by Dr. J. O. Rowell, entomologist at VPI. Developed originally to control insecticide-resistant flies on the farm, the baits are proving equally as deadly to urban-type house flies and blowflies.

Dr. Rowell says several of the chemicals have given nearly perfect control in tests conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

At a rendering plant that processed dead animals and the refuse of slaughter houses, one bait material reduced the fly population 99 per cent within four hours. At a city dump, control of houseflies and blowflies ranged between 97 and 99 per cent 24 hours after treatment. On garbage and trash piles in an urban slum area, daily treatment provided progressively better control until, at the end of five days, control was 90 per cent or more.

Insecticides used in the test baits were all organic phosphate compounds. Two of the materials, malathion and L-1359, had been proved effective in earlier tests against resistant flies in dairy barns.

Promising new materials included in the tests were chlordane and an experimental phosphate. All were greatly diluted in mixtures of molasses, or sugar and water, which served as fly attractants.

Livestock Injuries Take Meat Supply From 500,000 People—

Enough animals are bruised, crippled or killed daily on their way to market to furnish the daily meat needs of half a million people, reports K. C. Williamson, associate animal husbandman at VPI.

He says careless handling of livestock results in losses of about 100 tons of beef, lamb and pork a day. That means lower prices for the producer and higher prices for the consumer. Bruised meat can't be eaten and requires extra labor to trim out.

Most bruising occurs in the highest priced cuts. About 51 per cent of the bruises on hogs are in

Hurricane Hazel Costs Fire Ins. Firms 92 Million

Capital stock fire insurance companies are paying out approximately $92,000,000 for damage resulting from Hurricane Hazel. It was reported this week by J. Victor Herd, president of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Number of individual claims handled by stock companies is estimated at 90,000 in an eight-state area extending from South Carolina to the Canadian border, larger than the Carol and Edna combined claims for the whole insurance business. Eighty per cent of Hazel claims have been paid by the companies.

In terms of losses adjusted and property restored the fire insurance companies rendered more service to the public last year than ever, Mr. Herd observed.

"It was an unprecedented year," he said, "with three hurricanes putting serious burdens on company staff adjusters, company-owned adjusting organizations, independent adjusters and agents, and brokers."

Immediately after each storm, Mr. Herd explained, the insurance business mobilized all available manpower to start the flow of payments to the insured that had sustained property damage.

He declared that virtually every working adjuster in the entire United States who could be spared from his home territory without impairing service there was brought into the eastern area to work on hurricane losses. Their numbers were augmented by specially-trained personnel from other branches of fire insurance.

Mr. Herd said that emergency operations the adjusting staffs were on an emergency basis, working seven days a week and with night shifts to carry on almost around the clock.

the hams, while 45 per cent of bruises on cattle are in the loins. Williamson says losses from this bruising and crippling are caused by carelessness. To prevent it he urges handlers to use a canvas slapper instead of clubs and canes to drive animals. Broken boards and protruding nails from fences, doorways, trucks and farm loading chutes are common sources of injury.

Farmers can help reduce losses by removing machinery and junk from feedlots and barnyards. They also can cut losses by dehorning their cattle. Williamson urges the handlers to use a sand base for truck bedding. This helps keep cattle from slipping and falling. Animals also need protection from the weather when they are hauled. In winter, use a hooded truck or a canvas over the front end and the sides of the truck rack, and over the top of the front third of the rack. Also provide plenty of bedding over the sand base.

Livestock travel best on a light fill so avoid heavy bedding of animals before loading. Load carefully. Don't hurry them up chutes and through narrow doors. Drive carefully and avoid sudden stops.

"Code of Road"

Mayor Dunch, in simply the realization that many motor vehicle crashes never would occur if all drivers on the highway actually drove by the "Code of Road."

"A study of violations as factors in traffic crashes," explained Mayor Dunch, "indicates certain specific acts of courtesy that drivers can carry out to protect themselves and others from injury and death on the highway."

Referring to Governor's Highway Safety Committee studies of fatal motor vehicle crashes for 1953, Mayor Dunch said they indicated that the following list of courteous acts must be considered basic to safe driving:

- 1—Share the road by driving in the proper lane.
- 2—Allow ample clearance in passing other vehicles.
- 3—Yield the right of way to other drivers... be pedestrian.
- 4—Give proper signals for turns and stops.
- 5—Dim your headlights when meeting or following vehicles.
- 6—Obey traffic laws, signs, signals and road markings.
- 7—Adjust driving to road, traffic and weather conditions.

"All these points are summed up in the slogan being publicized in this nationwide program," declared Mayor Dunch. He urged citizens to remember and act on the slogan, "Make Courtesy Your Code of the Road."

Newest Creations To be in Spotlight At Fashion Show

The latest spring fashions to be shown at the "Hearts and Fashions" dessert card party next Wednesday will be modeled by seven young ladies who are well known locally. These fashions brought here direct from New York by "Paula's" will be worn by several members of the Birdneck Point Garden Club as well as professional models.

Miss Diane Taylor, Mrs. Griffin E. Deal, Mrs. Everett A. Martin and Mrs. R. S. Mahab Jr. all residents of Birdneck Point, Mrs. Jappy Chase, Mrs. Ann Pollard of Virginia Beach and Mrs. Dotie Smith of Norfolk have been picked to present in all of the newest creations. Mrs. Mildred Alexander, style consultant for W. T. A. R. and W. T. A. R. - T.V. will be the fashion commentator. "Hearts and Fashions" is being held at the American Legion Home on Lusk Road, Wednesday, February 16th. The desserts all of which will be made by members of the garden club, will be served at one o'clock. Mrs. R. B. Creamer, president, and Mrs. Nathan S. Kight, vice-president of the club, will preside at the coffee table. The fashions will be shown at one-thirty and afterwards cards will be played. Tickets may be obtained from "Paula's" located at Atlantic and 32nd Street or by calling 1911 or 184-M.

Secretary of Agriculture, and Douglas McKay, Secretary of the Interior.

Most of the nation's 31,000 Cub Packs with 1,100,000 members are holding Blue and Gold Pot Luck "banquets" with each family furnishing a part of the menu. They are the 8 and 10-year old members, who follow a home-centered program in their homes and backyards.

The Cub Scouts have "Let Freedom Ring" as their Boy Scout Week program, with the February birthdays of Washington, Lincoln and the late Lord Robert Baden-Powell, founder of Scouting, as subjects of their dramatizations and story telling. Cub Scouts will honor their older members as their "graduate" into Boy Scout troops. There are skits, songs and games in these festivities.

At "Our Heritage" celebrations

In most of the 51,000 troops who have 1,300,000 members, the lives of the three men will be portrayed to show how they lived the ideals embodied in the Scout Oath and Law.

Scouts have installed window displays of handicraft and their conservation achievements with appeals to the public to help conserve America's natural resources. In many schools Boy Scouts are putting on demonstrations. Some are entertaining children in hospitals with songs, stunts, tricks and games.

Explorers in many communities will spend part of a day with conservation officials to learn how to conserve today's resources for a better tomorrow.

The 410,000 Explorers, members of 13,000 units, boys 14 years of age and older, follow a program of adventuring in the open; getting along socially with others; being of service to others and exploring life work possibilities.

During the week of February 10 to 14, the program will be an hour or so to learn the functions of public office. At high schools many will use recess periods to demonstrate tree planting and outdoor manners, and to erect school conservation exhibits.

Boy Scout Sunday was observed February 6 in thousands of the nation's churches, with scouts and leaders attending in uniform. Those of Jewish faith observed Boy Scout Sabbath in synagogues and temples Friday evening and Saturday, February 4 and 5.

Tropical products such as coconuts, coffee, tea and rubber represent nearly 28 percent of U. S. imports. These are followed by raw materials such as wool, crude petroleum, nonferrous metals and paper.

W&M at Norfolk Offers Two New Evening Courses

Dr. Robert C. McClelland, director of the Evening Division at William and Mary, Norfolk, has announced the organization of two new courses.

Medical Parasitology and Interior Decorating will be offered during the forthcoming semester. Parasitology, consisting of three lecture hours and four laboratory hours, will be given on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7:00 to 9:30 p. m.

This course, which will include the diagnosis of parasites, their life cycles, and their relationships to public health, is designed for medical technicians. Premedical and pre-dental students, public health employees, and majors in biology. Prerequisite for Parasitology is college Biology 102. Special students may be allowed to enroll with advanced consent of the instructor, Prof. Virginia Speers. Five college credits will be granted upon successful completion of this course. The tuition for the semester is $55.

Neal E. Thomas, member of the American Institute of Decorators, will conduct the course in Interior Decorating. Mr. Thomas, formerly associated with Miller and Rhoads as senior decorator, is currently on the staff of Cofer's, Inc., as a decorator-designer.

The Interior Decorating class will meet on Thursday evenings from 7:00 to 10:00 o'clock. Tuition for the semester is $10.55, plus a registration fee of $5.00. No college credits will be allowed for this course.

There are 1,300 Boy Scout camps in the nation valued at 45 million dollars.

The operation was concluded by unscrewing and detaching the rubber mitten, sewing up the incision in the heart wall, and then closing the incision which had exposed the heart to surgery.

Chief value of this dramatic new technique is that the surgeon is able to explore the heart area and actually repair valves while the heart is performing its normal job.

HOME ABOUT SPICES

I just have to tell you more about spices. Bernard L. Lewis, New York, has been sending me interesting stories about the spices and I can't help but feel you'd enjoy them, too.

Where do spices come from? India? Africa? Asia? Yes, all of these places, but also from Europe, South and Central America, and even the United States. There is hardly a country in the world that does not contribute to the modern spice shelf.

Today, according to the American Spice Trade Association, there are about fifty spices available to the American homemaker. The word "spice" covers herbs and seeds, too. Now consider under the general term "spices" are the traditional, or "true" spices, that come from tropical plants, such as pepper, cinnamon, cloves, etc., herbs, the leaves of the temperate zone plants, such as sage, oregano, marjoram, etc., and several aromatic seeds, such as poppy, caraway, anise and cardamom.

The "true" spices, which built empires and influenced the discovery of the New World, still come from the romantic places that have produced them for centuries. Pepper, our most important spice, is brought from the famous Malabar Coast of India, and the islands of Indonesia. Cloves come from the exotic islands of Zanzibar and Madagascar, off the east coast of Africa.

Varieties of cinnamon are still grown in Ceylon, in Indo-China, Java and China.

Nutmeg and ginger are two of the Asiatic spices that have also flourished on this side of the globe.

During a period when the Dutch had a monopoly on the spice trade, the French and English struggled for the islands and began planting them in their island possessions, including those in the Caribbean. Today, the East and West Indies are about equal sources of nutmeg and its sister spice, mace. Ginger was first brought to the New World by the Spanish, in the 16th century. We now get our finest ginger from Jamaica, although Africa and India are still sources of this spice.

Europe sends us many herbs and aromatic seeds. The best of our poppy and caraway seeds come from the Netherlands; oregano from Italy; sage from Yugoslavia; bay leaves from Turkey and Yugoslavia; marjoram, rosemary and tarragon from France.

Mustard seed is imported from England and northern Europe.

but Canada and the United States are the largest producers today for American consumption.

South and Central America add quantities of coriander, fennel, mustard, poppy, oregano, paprika, allspice, cardamom and sesame seed to the supply.

Besides pepper, India sends us turmeric, anise, fennel, fenugreek, dill, celery and cardamom seeds, plus a certain amount of ginger.

Next time you bake an apple pie, who knows, you may use the products of Java and Grenada, and perhaps Zanzibar and Jamaica. These flavors of the world, which come to us in small packages, play a big role in making our food more interesting and satisfying.

You might be interested to know — all spices except dehydrated parsley and celery flakes, may be used in low sodium diets, according to the American Medical Association.

Spices contain no calories. At a time when every food and beverage eaten in America is getting the calorie test, it should be interesting to know that spices do not contain ANY calories.

As I leave you, may I suggest that you renew your spices twice a year? The American Spice Trade Association reports that for best flavoring results, spices should not be stored in the home much over six months. Buy in reasonable quantities, the trade advises, and keep spices tightly covered in a dry and cool place as possible — definitely NOT near the stove.

Bye now... and a spicy goodbye, too! ... to you

Consumers in industrial countries pay out, as a group, an estimated 18 to 20 per cent of their income in taxes (including indirect taxes and custom duties) and put 7 to 10 per cent into savings, say authors of a Twentieth Century Fund report.

Materials for Spring Sewing

What about fabrics for the Spring wardrobe? Well, the experts tell us that cottons and man-made materials which wash and wear continue to gain. Silks have improved in sales, but are relatively high priced and need special care. Spin rayon and solution dyed acetates are bright spots in the rayon-acetate field. Casual wools, rather than worsteds, are getting the wool business. The trend is toward blends of fibers and a profusion of finishes. This will lead to a larger program of labeling in 1955.

As consumers, we need to encourage manufacturers in this and take advantage of informative labels when shopping and caring for clothing. Read and understand the terms on the labels and be sure the fabric is designed for the purpose for which you intend to use it and the care that you will give it.

Spring Style Trends for 1955
COLORS — Beary orders for spring ready-to-wear indicate a strong return to navy accented with white. Black, too, is usually shown with white. Beige tones, such as the natural in sorgee of raw silk, are being shown. Coffee, a soft medium beige, is the newest of the brown-beige family. Wheat is being shown with black or white. Red is also viewed as a possible promotion for spring into summer.

Purple tones, royal, eggplant and mauve are being used for coats, suits and velvety wools. Some lilacs, blues and rosy pinks are being shown.

Brown is creating interest. The coppery tones, rather than the rusty tones, are favored. The reddish cast, chestnut and amber browns are also being watched. Charcoal brown, a very dark shade, is competing with gray for spring.

Yellow — just a flick in a tweed or a flash of yellow lining — a suit or coat, or used in a blouse with black or gray, is a good spring into summer idea.

Gray — in silvery tones and charcoal are in demand.

FABRICS — There is a textured look and linen look in fabrics for spring and summer. There is a large variety of weaves and prints, blends of fibers and finishes, with accent on washability and crease resistance.

The variety of weights are impressive, too — for the very sheer to nubby and heavy wool weaves. Much lace is being promoted in combination with fabric, as in a long torso of lace and skirt of plain, the entire dress made over taffeta, or simply a collar of lace. Then jackets or full length coats over a short dress are other ways lace is being used in spring and summer fashion.

Stripes, grinds, dots, unbed and homespun are other ways of getting variety in fabrics.

LINES — A new slim, long-waisted silhouette, or long torso easy waist and design emphasis on the neckline is being accepted in party dresses of taffeta or crisp fabrics and jersey. Suit designers believe the longer jacket style will be accepted for spring. The shirt waist dress will also continue in popularity for spring and summer in a wide variety of fabrics — textured, linen like, brocade, chiffon, satin, and other fabrics.

Suits of cotton or silk-wool may be fitted with separate sleeveless blouses or tops of the same fabric for an ensemble effect. Sleeves may be long or three-quarter. Jacket lengths vary from waist, hip bone, 26 1-2 inches to the long torso.

Coats are slim or loose, with large small or no collar, full length or three-quarter sleeve. The lengths vary from full, 7-8, 3-4 or short topovers.

The slim coat in light weight and pale colors are new. Arched seams from low pockets, deep v-neck effects at top and narrow darts worked at waistline give the slip box coat the shaped look. These pared down to slim dress proportions can serve over a dress as an ensemble or as a dress, when buttoned up. A skirt of the same fabric as the coat and blouse of the coat lining is another use made of this type coat in a costume.

ACCESSORIES — Necklaces are in ropes, bibs, lei, or multiple strands of plastic, crystal, iridescent beads, pearls, porcelain and oxidized metal and rhinestones.

GLOVES — Washable and new one-size stretchables as in the one-size-socks are new for spring. They are to be in fabric and string types.

HANDBAGS go dressier. Softly pleated calf and patent leathers introduce polka dots keyed to shoes, also plain black patent. Navy, red and gray are important in calf. The other colors are scarlet, black, hollyhock, wedgewood and cornflower blue and white polka-dot. Fabric bags in moderate size are in fall, lilies in bright colors and novelty prints. The "tote" size styles remain large. Mauve and lilac are considered promotional colors in bags.

USE OF ACCESSORIES — Accessories supply the exclamation point, calling attention to important points. For example, a dramatic pin placed at neckline of overblouse or lowered torso. A striped scarf, big and bold, fills in a neckline without collar of the long jacket suit.

A new place for the flower is high on shoulder or out of a pocket, placed high over bust line. Note the many ways of wearing the necklaces.

Dave Lackey Gets Conduct Medal

David Bentler Lackey of Oceana, was among eight cadets at Oak Ridge Military Institute who have earned good conduct medals. It is announced by Captain S. M. Chandler, commandant of cadets.

In order to be eligible for this recognition, a cadet must go thru the entire first semester without a single demerit. Maintaining such a flawless record is actually very hard to do, especially for a private, whose conduct is under very close scrutiny. It is relatively easier for an officer. The cadet must be unusually thoughtful at all times to avoid picking up demerits. For instance, he may be charged with demerits for laughing or talking in ranks, for being late to class, for unkempt fingernails, or for an offense as serious as AWOL, which will cost the cadet 30 demerits and three weeks' restriction. These are only a few of the possible demerits. Therefore, a good conduct medal is no mean honor at Oak Ridge, the Commandant declared.

DAVID KUNKLER ATTAINS HIGH SCHOLASTIC HONORS

The honor roll for the first semester of the 1954-1955 school year at Lenox Rhyne College, in History, N. C., discloses that David Kunkler, of Virginia Beach, attained the list of first honor students, with grades averaging between 94 and 100. Only 71 students are listed in this select body. Dean E. L. Setzer announces. Young Kunkler is a senior student at the college.

Speaks To PA Farmers Friday

A most interesting meeting for all farmers in Princess Anne County will be held at Oceana School on Friday night, February 11, when W. E. Debus, news commentator for the South-Douglas Company network, will be the principal speaker. Mr. Debus will very likely give his views on the recent Supreme Court segregation ruling. He will also discuss other important matters of interest to farmers.

In addition to Mr. Debus, Mr. S. L. Wolfe, of the North Carolina Security Office, will take a few minutes to explain the new Social Security law as it applies to farmers.

Mr. Murray Hubbard, secretary of the Virginia Farm Bureau Federation, will also be at the meeting. Mr. Hubbard will make a few remarks and introduce the speaker. Refreshments, with the compliments of the Princess Anne County Farm Bureau, will be served to all at the conclusion of the meeting.

The highest pay for workers in any major American industrial division goes to transportation workers.

GETTING UP NIGHTS

By James (two towns), living in Norfolk, Va., and working in the city of New York, Mr. Debus will very likely give his views on the recent Supreme Court segregation ruling. He will also discuss other important matters of interest to farmers.

GARDEN GUIDE

By BARTOW H. BRIDGES, JR.

TIPS ON TRANSPLANTING

Most home owners find that in-terest in their yards is at a low ebb during the winter months. However, during this time of the year there is much that can be done.

For example, transplanting can be accomplished with a greater chance for success during the winter than any other time. Did you decide last year that a plant was located in the yard in an undesirable place? During the next break in the weather why not transplant it to another location where it would bring more pleasure?

Probably the most frequent cause of a plant dying after planting or transplanting is the loss of moisture that is normally contained in the plant tissues. When a plant is dug, it is impossible to prevent damage and destruction to many of its tiny roots. These roots, or hair roots as botanists call them, are subdivisions of the main root system. In their growth, they push around and between soil particles. Digging a plant that has not been recently transplanted usually requires cutting off many roots and their root hairs. This is because the roots have spread out over a large area. Even if the roots are in a more compact system because of recent transplanting or root pruning the root hairs are destroyed by the grinding action of the soil particles when the plant is dug and lifted.

As we have indicated, it is impossible to dig and re-plant a shrub or tree without doing considerable damage to its root system. Measures can be taken to improve the chances of successful transplanting.

One way is to do the work during cold weather. This helps because the plant has no leaves to depend on nature to give us a lot of soil moisture in the form of rain and snow. Deciduous plants (those that lose their leaves in the winter), move with a high chance of success during the winter season because they have no leaves. With no leaves the plant has less surface from which to lose moisture. Since the root system is damaged in digging, the root hairs can not absorb the amount of soil water ordinarily required by the plant. A shrub with its full quota of leaves and a damaged set of roots will not function properly.

In moving a plant that does have leaves, it is best to remove — by pruning — a portion of the top of the plant to reduce the loss of moisture. This is because the roots have spread out over a large area. Even if the roots are in a more compact system because of recent transplanting or root pruning the will put out as many leaves as it normally would have, but because of the root damage, it is impossible for the plant to provide itself with adequate amounts of soil nutrients and soil moisture.

Answer to a Garden Problem

Question: I am particularly interested in gardenias and am wondering what to do to control the white scale-like deposits which have recently appeared on the stems.

Answer: These are insects at an immature stage of their life cycle and are known as Florida Wax Scale or Mexican Wax Scale. It is a pest comparatively new to this area and is not found in many parts of the country. Entomologists think that it was introduced from Australia. It is known to infest parts of Florida but seems to do considerably less damage there than here. Thus the conclusion has been drawn that a natural predator exists in Florida which is controlling the insect. Virginia agricultural officials are hoping that if a natural predator does exist, it can be isolated and introduced in Tidewater to combat the scale.

In the meantime, the best way to control the pest is to knock it off of the stem to which it is attached. This can be done by hand or by a strong stream of water. Insecticides are not effective because they do not penetrate the white wax covering over the immature insects.

When the insects reach the adult stage, they emerge, mate and young ones are formed which immediately start sucking valuable plant food from a stem of their host. The adult insect is vulnerable to most insecticides during the period when it is active, usually in June. Effective use of these chemical sprays comes thru correct timing of their application.

If you have gardening problems, let our experts know of them. Write "Garden Guide," care of the Sun-News, and the questions will be answered in these columns.

PANCAKE SUPPER ON SHROVE TUESDAY

A pancake supper will be held on Shrove Tuesday, February 22, from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m. at the Parish House of Eastern Shore Chapel, just off Laskin Road. The supper will be sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Church and the public is invited. An adult plate will be $1.25 and child's plate 75 cents.

NIGHT AUXILIARY BEING ORGANIZED

A night group of the Woman's Auxiliary is being formed at the Eastern Shore Chapel, Episcopal. The first meeting will be held on Monday night, February 14, in the Parish House, on Laskin Road. Future meetings will be conducted on the second Monday of each month. Members and friends of the Chapel, interested in joining such a group, are invited to attend.

Trained Nurse On Staff At Care Center

A trained nurse has recently been added to the staff of workers for the proposed Child Care Center at Oceana Naval Air Station, according to an announcement by Mrs. J. M. Jacoby, chairman of the board of directors.

The Center was to have been opened in December, but because of a delay in the construction of the new dispensary, it will probably be early spring before operations will get underway. Mrs. Jacoby said. The Center will occupy the old dispensary building. All navy personnel in the area, including those aboard ship, will be invited to take advantage of the Center's facilities. Rates for enlisted men's children will be 20 cents per hour for one child, 25 cents for two or more; for officers' children 25 cents per hour for one child, 30 cents for two or more. The daily rates will be $1.25 for the first child, 75 cents for the second.

Equipment for the Center, such as sheets, playpens, cribs, etc., are still needed, stated Mrs. Jacoby. Anyone wishing to contribute may do so by calling Mrs. Jacoby, telephone 1723-M.

COMMANDER AND WIFE HONORED AT COCKTAILS

Members of VP-83, Oceana Air Station, and their wives entertained at a cocktail party and buffet dinner at the Oceana Officers' Club on Friday evening, January 28, honoring Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. Ray J. Swanson and Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. David S. Stear. Commander Swanson is the retiring commander of VP-83. He has been transferred to Pensacola Air Station, Pensacola, Fla. Commander Stear is the retiring executive officer of the squadron. He will be stationed at NOB, Norfolk.

Special guests for the evening were the new commanding officer and his wife, Cmdr. and Mrs. Harold E. Vitas. The Vitas are making their home at 8310 Ocean Front Avenue, Virginia Beach. Approximately fifty squadron members and their wives attended.

CONFIRMATION RITES HELD AT CHAPEL

Fourteen adults received the rite of confirmation at services conducted by the Rt. Rev. George P. Gunn, Bishop of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, on Sunday at Eastern Shore Chapel. The service of confirmation was a part of the regular celebration of Holy Communion.

Confirmed were: Roy M. Aycock, Mrs. George C. Dege, Mrs. R. E. Davenport, Thomas H. Ellis, USN, Dr. Wesley Barrett Jones, Mrs. S. Joseph Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. E. Allen Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Stafford St. Clair Ruggles, A. William Turner, Benjamin F. Williamson, Mrs. Paul Vernon Wyatt and Paul Vernon Wyatt, Jr.

Mrs. W. L. Murphy is back at her home on West Lane, Oceana. She has been a patient at Norfolk General Hospital for the past few weeks.

Available for Immediate Shipment

A new variety, particularly adapted for this region. Tested and developed by the Virginia Truck Experiment Station, Norfolk, and U.S.D.A., Beltsville, as US-3745. Ripens about a week later than Blakemore. In replicated plantings at Beltsville, Md., its yield averaged at the rate of 474 crates per acre during 1951 and 1952 — a much heavier yield than Blakemore. Berries maintain large size throughout the "picking season" with a strong vivid red color — deeper red than Blakemore. They are glossy, have a tough skin, equally as firm as Blakemore; the flavor is tart and good.

Attractively priced at $1.35 per 25; $2.25 per 50; $3.60 per 100; $7.20 per 250; $11.25 per 500; $18.00 per 1000; $45.00 per 5000 — f.o.b. Selbyville, for shipment whenever desired between now and May 1st, 1955.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Swiftly Gets Slowed Down
Swiftly Fisher has a short temper and really hit the roof when he got a parking ticket last week. He wasn't near a hydrant or too far from the curb. There was a big sign saying "One Hour Parking" and he'd only been gone twenty minutes. Running to Traffic Court, where Hack Miller was on duty, Swiftly bellowed how he hadn't done anything wrong...how he is the most law-abiding driver in town. But Hack examined the ticket, and smiled. "Slow down, friend," he said. "You're not guilty—except of making a big fuss over nothing. This ticket came from some kid's policeman play outfit!" From where I sit, jumping to conclusions can make anyone appear silly. Another way to look foolish is to make a quick decision on a question of personal preference. For instance, I like a glass of beer occasionally. You may be a buttermilk man. But neither of us ought to "lay down the law" about the other's choice.

Time To Plan Improvements, With Credit Terms Favorable For Owner

People who postpone home improvements in the belief they are saving money are actually spending more. The reason is that the cost of materials and labor is rising steadily. In a growing, expanding economy, prices will rise steadily. So why postpone home improvements — they may cost 30 to 40 per cent more in five years than they cost today? If you wait, you've deprived your family of five years of comfort.

Other builders and suppliers of materials and home furnishings agreed with the association, and point to the present pool of comparatively easy credit for building — either new homes or remodeling. "Home improvements," the association adds, "may be a form of preventive maintenance." They point to the liberalized federal housing laws, modernization loans which are easier to get and pay off so that cash-in-hand isn't required before going ahead with the improvement program.

DEER KILL HEAVY

C. F. Phelps, chief of the game division of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, reports that while not all the deer tags are in for the deer and turkey season ending January 5 and 20 respectively east of the Blue Ridge, enough have been received to indicate that the deer kill during the past season statewide was considerably in excess of that for the previous season.

Farmers Urged to Study New ASC Forestry Program

Tidewater Virginia farmers who have their farms listed with their County Agricultural Conservation Program office are eligible for cost-share payments on improving their timberlands. It is announced by R. H. Wooding of the Virginia Forest Service. These forestry practices listed under Practices A-7 and B-10 of the County ACP Handbook are so designed to aid and encourage landowners in increasing their acreage of profitable forest land. Cost-share payments on these practices have been increased to a minimum of 50 per cent in Isle of Wight, Northampton, Norfolk, Accomack, Nansemond, Norfolk and Princess Anne counties and in some coastal portions of the forestry practices have been increased to 80 per cent. This means that in Isle of Wight, Northampton, Accomack and Princess Anne counties, the applicant may receive 80 per cent of the estimated cost in undertaking a reforestation project on his woodland. However, after application has been made, it has to be approved by a Virginia Forest Service forester prior to the undertaking of the project.

Practices under B-10 include the thinning or release of desirable trees where a commercial timber sale is not being made and the preparation of forest land for natural re-seeding by some method of scarification. Scarification may be accomplished by a heavy brush and bog disc or other means comparable to diskbar.

If a landowner is dubious as to whether any of the above practices would benefit him in the future, the Virginia Forest Service should be requested to make a thorough examination of his timberlands. Proper recommendations will be given for the landowner to follow. The Forest Service office, located at 136 Cushing Street in Cradock, dial EXport 7-5931, may be contacted for technical forestry assistance.

Ft. Story Officer Will Compete in Pistol Trials

A Fort Story officer, 2nd Lieut. Whitman Cross, II, left last week for Fort Benning, Ga., to join five other Second Army candidates for the U. S. Army Pistol Squad.

The squad will take part in the National Midwinter Pistol Championships to be held March 8-12 in Tampa, Florida.

Cross, a member of the 554th Heavy Boat Company, was on the Pistol and Rifle Team of the University of Virginia where he received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Geology in 1954. His home is in Lafayette Hill, Pa.

Fort Benning will be the scene of practice and tryouts for the Army squad. If Cross and the other officers and enlisted men representing Second Army fail to qualify for the squad, they will make up a Second Army Pistol Team which also will practice at Fort Benning before proceeding to Tampa to compete in the Midwinter Nationals.

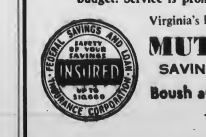

ATLANTIC FLYWAY MEETING

Among personnel of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries who participated in the Atlantic Waterfowl Council, embracing all the Atlantic coastal states which met recently in Richmond were I. T. Quinn, executive director; C. F. Phelps, chief of the same division; Webb Midgley, chief of the law enforcement division; J. J. Shomon, chief of the education division; Charles Gilchrist, waterfowl specialist; R. O. Hallett, supervising warden of the Hampton Roads area, and J. E. Bryant, manager of the commission's Hog Island waterfowl feeding ground.

Oceana Personals

Miss Betty Murden returned last Sunday to Sweet Briar College where she is a member of the sophomore class, following a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Murden, in London Bridge. Miss Murden had as her houseguest a classmate, Miss Helen Baugh, of St. Louis, Mo. On Friday Miss Murden and Miss Baugh motored to Richmond, and attended a luncheon.

Pilot Whitehurst of Oceana recently underwent an eye operation at Norfolk General Hospital.

James Darden of London Bridge returned to his home Saturday after having been a patient at the Marine Hospital in Norfolk.

Expect New Peak in Veteran Loans

GI loans are expected to reach an all-time peak in the year 1955, according to a prediction by T. J. Sweeney, acting head of the Veterans Administration loan guaranty program.

In an address to a meeting of the National Association of Home Builders in Chicago, the VA official estimated that the volume of GI loans in the current year will exceed the record total set in 1954 by about seven and one-half per cent.

Indications are, he said, that about 4.3 billion dollars will be earmarked by private lenders for the needs of veteran home buyers. This would be the largest amount ever channeled into the veteran home-buying market by lenders in a single year.

In 1953, more than 35 per cent of all U. S. homes were heated by coal.

1,334 Virginians Aided in 1954 By Polio Foundation

Approximately 1,334 Virginia polio victims were afforded acute and rehabilitative treatment by March of Dimes funds during 1954. It has been announced. According to the treasurers' reports from the 107 Virginia chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, this care resulted from simple orthopedic appliances to year-round treatment in respirator centers.

In a statement to the press last week, Dr. Mack I. Shantholts, State Health Commissioner, said that local March of Dimes funds had supplied almost one-half million dollars for polio patient care in Virginia. Dr. Shantholts went on to state that he did not believe all Virginia citizens were aware of what a great financial relief the program is to State Health Department's, Crippled Children's Bureau and the department in general.

The 1954 treasurers' reports indicated that about $150,000 is still owed for patient care by several Virginia chapters. Many chapters are already committed in back bills for more than their March of Dimes drive netted last year.

Foundation officials were hopeful that late returns would swell their state March of Dimes total to the needed $1,400,000. This amount is the state's share of the $4,000,000 which represents the National Foundation's minimum needs if it is to continue its program as presently outlined. Of this amount, $9,000,000 will be used for the purchase of the Salk polio vaccine which will be offered every county in the state if it becomes licensed in the early spring. It is estimated that approximately 140,000 first and second grade pupils will be afforded the opportunity of receiving the Salk vaccine without cost to their parents.

Dr. Marsh Heads TB Award Jury

Dr. Charles F. Marsh, Chancellor Professor of Economics and Business Administration, and dean of the faculty of the College of William and Mary, will preside as chairman of the 1955-Douglas Southall Freeman Award Jury, which includes Senator Harry F. Byrd, Jr., and Walter A. Page, Judge of the Norfolk Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court. Appointments to the jury were disclosed Friday, February 4, by Mr. Thomas Pinckney, president of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association, which presents the award annually to the individual who contributed most to the cause of tuberculosis control in Virginia during the preceding year. Presentation of the award will be made at the VTA annual meeting in Roanoke, March 16 and 17, Pinckney said.

The award, established in 1953 by the VTA, honors Dr. Freeman, who became the association's second executive secretary in 1910. Pinckney explained that following the Pulitzer Award winner's death, the VTA board of directors resolved that an award be set up bearing Dr. Freeman's name in recognition of "his brilliant career" in many diversified fields, and his service as a "leader in the cause of public health."

Winner of the first award in 1954 was William T. Lock of Richmond, who initiated the 1952 survey of tuberculosis in Virginia.

STORIES OF BEST-LOVED HYMNS

"WHAT A FRIEND WE HAVE IN JESUS"

Tragedy haunted the footsteps of Joseph Scriven with dogged persistence. Following his graduation from the University of Dublin, Ireland, with a Bachelor of Arts degree, in 1842, his twenty-third year, he fled his native Irish shores after the tragic drowning of his fiancée on the evening prior to their scheduled marriage. But he found little solace in flight, although he put thousands of miles between himself and the familiar sights and smells of Dublin.

Eventually, he arrived at Port Hope on the northern shore of Lake Ontario in the Canadian province from which the lake takes its name. But even there happiness was to be denied him. Ten miles north of the lakeshore town was a small settlement named Bewdley, on the shores of beautiful Rice Lake. Several miles beyond was the Pengeley estate where Scriven lived for many years as private tutor for the children of the family.

Some years later he began dividing his time between the Pengeley home and that of Mr. James Backville in Bewdley; it was in a guest room in the Backville home that he was inspired to write the poem with which his name is forever linked. Late one night in 1855, weighted down with loneliness and overcome with despondency and sadness, he poured out his heart to God, begging for relief from his burden and promising to serve Him faithfully if only his prayer were answered. God heard and answered, and Joseph Scriven felt the burden miraculously lifted from his heart.

In his new-found joy he hurriedly dashed off a very simple poem of several stanzas in which he described his struggle and victory. The poem, titled "Great Whittier's 'Ceasing,'" began with these lines:

What a friend we have in Jesus,
All our sins and griefs to bear;
What a privilege to carry
Everything to God in prayer.
O what peace we often forfeit,
O what needless pain we bear,
All because we do not carry
Everything to God in prayer.

Falling in love for the second time, he became engaged to Miss Elizabeth Roche, only daughter of Lieut. Andrew Roche of the Royal Navy. However, she contracted tuberculosis and died in 1860, before their wedding could take place.

Following two such tragic blows, he gave himself more diligently to religious and philanthropic work, becoming associated with the Plymouth Brethren group, and serving them as a lay preacher for many years. In addition, he preached for a while in the Ballièvre Baptist church nearby. But he endeavored still to help the people in and around Bewdley because of his Christ-like life, and his habit of giving away all his private income to the poor whom he considered in more urgent need than himself. In later years he was described as "a man of short stature, with iron-gray hair, close-cropped beard, and light blue eyes that sparkled when he talked."

Assistant County Agent

Fabrizio Lupton Elected
County Council President

At the County Council meeting held at the Norfolk City Farm on February 1, Miss Patricia Lupton was unanimously elected president of the 4-H County Council for the 1955 4-H Club year. Sylvia Miller was elected vice-president and Jenny Pat Hudgins was elected secretary. All three girls have already been honored by being chosen as president of their local 4-H Clubs at the Princess Anne High School.

Sylvia Miller and Patricia Lupton have been very active in their 4-H Club activities over the past several years. They have been on the Princess Anne Poultry Judging team for a number of years, competing on both a district and state level. Jenny Pat Hudgins was one of the winners of the Princess Anne Talent contest held this past year and along with Doris Humphries represented this county at the state contest, and also was chosen as one of the eleven people in Virginia to be chosen to entertain at the 4-H Electric Congress held in Richmond last September. These three girls have done remarkably well and have achieved a great deal from their 4-H Club work.

The County Council, presided over by Billy Pat 1954 County Council president, met at the City Farm to set up goals and objectives for the 1955 club year. Several changes were made in the program from that of past years. This was done because of the radical increase in enrollment in the county and also because of the increase of 4-H Clubs in the county.

In summarizing the objectives set up by the County Council, it was decided to give two bronze cups to the outstanding Junior and Senior clubs as in the past. However, since all Senior clubs are in one central high school, it was agreed that the Senior club cup not be given to any other club regardless of the number of years the same club may win it. The cup will be given to the Senior club on a yearly basis rather than on the previous three-year basis. The present practice of allowing a Junior club which has won the cup three years in succession to have permanent possession is to be continued. Each year that a Junior club wins a cup it is to receive a plaque in addition to having its name inscribed on the trophy. No plaque will be given to the Senior club.

Second, the Council agreed to allow ten points toward this cup to each creditable program that a club has during the year.

Third, the Council agreed that five points would be allowed for each club member who attends the District or Conservation Camp and 4-H Club Short Course.

Fourth, the dues for the Senior clubs will be $10 a year and $5 for Junior clubs and that 25 points will be allowed each club which pays its dues to the 4-H Council treasurer by May 31, 1955.

Fifth, two points will be allowed per member up to six for attending each 4-H Council meeting.

Sixth, since extra 4-H Club activities mean much to a successful 4-H Club, the Council agrees to give the following points for various activities:

Radio or TV—5 points each.
Trips—5 points.

Business programs—5 points each.

Flower projects, such as decorating children's wards in hospitals, school cafeterias, folks in the hospital, sick at Easter or Christmas—5 points for each project.

For planning and participating in Rural Life Sunday—25 points.

For planning and participating in the National 4-H Club Week—10 points.

No single activity should receive points under more than one heading.

Seventh, realizing the importance of the annual Achievement Program, the following points are to be allowed for exhibits:

25 points to all clubs in the club award group.

15 points to all clubs earning a red award.

10 points to all clubs earning a white award.

Thirty points will be given for 100 per cent completion at the Achievement Program, and points based on the percentage of club members present. Record books turned in on time will also receive points for the club, 50 points for 100 per cent and graded percentages for less than 100 per cent.

Eighth, the Council agrees that the County activity by the erection of 4-H Member signs at each home of a club member in as far as possible.

Council Changes
4-H Club Year

Because of the changes in the 4-H Club program in the county, the County Council voted to change the regular 4-H Club year which ran from December 1 to November 30, to run from June 1 to May 31. This should make possible a Spring Achievement program to be held sometime during the month of May. On most occasions the club year will be running just as the school year runs and will eliminate a lot of the difficulties from leaders and sponsors in getting material together for the Achievement program and also in obtaining record books from club members.

Address 4-H Clubbers

Joel Carlson, public relations director of WTAR, spoke to the County Council on the value of advertising and also on various aspects of radio and television. Club members considered themselves very fortunate in being able to hear Mr. Carlson, who has been very much interested in youth work in this area and who has done a great deal for the young people of Norfolk City, Norfolk County and Princess Anne County through his weekly TV program, "Children Come First."

At the end of the meeting, outgoing president, Billy Oliver, of Bayside, turned the meeting over to Miss Lupton, who expressed her thanks for the honor of being chosen president of the Council and dismissed the meeting by leading in the recitation of the 4-H Club pledge and motto.

The Council is made up of the officers of the 14 4-H clubs, plus the leaders and sponsors of each club, and the three Extension agents in the county.

TROUT SEASON WILL OPEN MONDAY, MAY 2

There seems to be some misunderstanding on the part of fishermen in the state with regard to the opening of the 1955 trout season, according to G. W. Buller, chief of the fish division of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries. Buller states that since a number of counties in the trout stream area prohibit Sunday fishing and since May 1—the opening date for the past few years—falls on Sunday this year, to establish a uniform season throughout the trout area the commission at its November meeting provided for the opening day to arrive on May 2 at 12 o'clock noon. This will eliminate the unusual pressure which would result from opening the season on May 1 in those counties which permit Sunday fishing.

FISH PUBLICATION
OFF THE PRESSES

"Freshwater Fish and Fishing in Virginia," the Game Commission's latest publication, is now off the press. The 104-page booklet has chapters on inland game fish, non-game fish, anadromous fish, hatcheries and re-stocking, management and research, pond construction, sport fishing, preparation and cooking of fish, questions and answers on fishing, a bibliography and list of public fishing waters of Virginia. There are color plates of 12 fish in addition to a generous number of black and white illustrations.

Five thousand copies are being distributed to schools through the State Department of Education. The remainder will be available at 25 cents a copy prepaid in coin or by check, to help defray costs of mailing and publication.

Are You Good
At Counting
$2 BILLS?

If you like the good green color, the soft kitten-ear feel of $2 bills, you'll enjoy counting how many you get back when buying fire insurance from Bill Connell.

From every $10 you spend, $2 comes back. That's the current 20% dividend, an amazingly large one. And for insurance in one of America's oldest and strongest insurance companies! There's no better buy in fire insurance; there's no faster, friendlier service!

3-Foot Alligator Found By Boys

Last Thursday afternoon David Cassida, Albert Lee Bonney and Harry Mote went to the creek in Kempville to check on muskrat traps they had set along the creek banks.

But muskrats were soon forgotten when they came upon a three-foot alligator sunning himself on the bank.

The boys captured him and took him to Albert Lee's father's store, where he was soon the most watched curiosity of all the community.

The "critter" was taken to the SPCA in Norfolk on Friday, and there he will remain until a home can be found for him.

The alligator's age could not be determined. If he had been in these waters for a number of years he would not grow as fast as he would in more natural surroundings, many observers declared.

Some speculated that he was a recent newcomer to this climate, pointing out that it would be difficult for the tropic-tender creature to have lived through the recent freezing weather.

Be all that it may, there he was last Thursday... for all the world to see... and very much alive.

WOMAN'S SOCIETY TO SEE PLAYLET ON INDIA

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet in the Fellowship Room of the Community Church tonight, February 10, at eight o'clock.

How much is a healthy cow worth?

One family figures it at several hundred dollars, and they'll tell you their telephone saved them that much recently. When one of their cows got sick, a quick call to the vet brought help in the nick of time. Without the telephone they would have lost a fine animal. In your own family and around your own farm you'll find the telephone doesn't cost—it pays.

BROTHERHOOD WEEK PROCLAMATION

In this era of international tension and misunderstanding, it is particularly appropriate at this time that we join the many cities and communities across the length and breadth of this land in the twenty-second Annual Observance of Brotherhood Week - February 20-27.

The National Conference of Christians and Jews, sponsor of Brotherhood Week, invites all the people of America to rededicate themselves, during this period, to the principals of brotherhood, which are the prerequisites to the enjoyment of the rights and blessings of the free.

Therefore, as Mayor of Virginia Beach, I, Frank Dusch, heartily endorse the objectives of Brotherhood Week and do hope that through the stimulation that comes from much thought and discussion on the subject of brotherhood, there will be created within all of us as citizens of this community a new determination and pledge to bring about better relationships among all men, seeking always a brotherhood of man under the over-all Fatherhood of God.

FRANK A. DUSCH, Mayor

Attest: Lewis E. Smith, Clerk

BROTHERHOOD WEEK WILL BE OBSERVED IN SPECIAL SERVICE

Brotherhood Week will be observed in Virginia Beach for the first time this year as a result of an organizational meeting of representatives of all religious faiths recently.

February 20 through February 27, has been designated Brotherhood Week and Mayor Frank A. Dusch has issued a proclamation in observance of the week.

The meeting resulted in the formation of the Virginia Beach Chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. The co-chairmen of the chapter were Harold B. Kellam, representing the Protestant faith, Peter Barbarnis, the Catholic faith, and Dr. Howard D. Kahn, Jewish faith.

Elected to the board of directors of the chapter were Rabbi A. Weisman, Dr. W. G. Bond, Rev. C. S. Lovell, Rev. R. J. Habetz, J. D. Hubbard, G. J. Tolstol, J. A. Johnson, Jr., Justice White, Worth Petty, H. I. Jaffe, H. E. Halstead, Peter Scoopie, E. B. Bayne, W. Hampton, Mrs. G. T. Brooks, Mrs. L. R. Watson, Reeves Johnson, Mrs. B. H. Owens, C. H. Respect for Law Safety Keystone Declares Judge E. V. Gresham

"Respect for the law is the keystone of traffic courtesy," Judge E. V. Gresham of the Virginia Beach Police Court said today.

Judge Gresham made that statement in connection with the courtesy "Code of the Road" traffic safety program which was introduced locally by Mayor Frank Dusch in a press announcement last week.

The Judge said that respect for the law simply means respect for the rights of others, and that this, basically, is good manners and courtesy. "And the importance of courtesy in avoiding traffic crashes and making our streets and highways safe for drivers and pedestrians cannot be overemphasized," he said.

"Judge Gresham said that joint sponsorship of the program on the national level by three prominent safety organizations was indicative of the importance of the effort. Cooperating in statewide promotion of the 'Code of the Road' program is the Governor's Highway Safety Committee.

Continuing his discussion of respect for the law as basic to courtesy, the Judge pointed out that a major expression of respect for law is observance of the "signs of

$5,000 FOR POLIO FUND

A check for $4,868.74, which was donated by military personnel and civilian employees on the Annapolis Base at Little Creek to the 1955 March of Dimes for Polio, was presented to Mr. Andrew Haynes, Campaign Director of the 1955 March of Dimes for Polio, by Capt. A. H. Taylor, USAF, C. O. of the base (right). Looking on is Chaplain H. R. Taylor, coordinator for the drive, who said that total contributions for the drive were more than $5,000 when a previous donation of $269.85 was included.

"Back to God" Program Sunday

The fourth annual "Back to God" television and radio programs sponsored by the American Legion organization will be aired on Sunday, February 20. It has been announced by Seaborn P. Collins, national commander of the Legion.

The program will be heard in the Tidewater area between 8:00 and 8:30 p. m. and will be carried coast-to-coast over the American Broadcasting Company's facilities.

A feature of this year's program, as it was last year, will be a speech by Legionnaire President Dwight D. Eisenhower from Washington. Also scheduled to appear on the program are Morton Downey, National Chaplain Albert J. Heitman, Mrs. Percy Laine, and the West Point Chapel Choir.

TRYOUTS PLANNED By Little Theatre For Next Play

The Little Theatre of Virginia Beach will hold tryouts tonight and tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the workshop behind the Community House at 18th and Arctic, for its third play of the season, "Angel Street," the famous Victorian thriller which was a smash hit on the Broadway stage.

The play was written by Patrick Hamilton, and first produced in London under the title "Gaslight." It is the dramatic story of the Mannings of Angel Street in the 19th century. Mannings, a saucy sinister and handsome man, under the guise of kindness is slowly torturing his gentle and lovely wife into insanity.

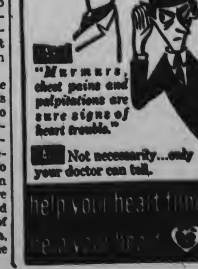

Parts to be cast are:

EVENTS PLANNED FOR POLIO FUND

Two additional fund raising functions have been planned by members of the local March of Dimes Campaign to bring the total ever closer to the goal of $50,000.

A basketball game is planned for February 25 between the Chesapeake Athletic Club and Byrum Motors of Portsmouth. The game will take place at the Virginia Beach High School gymnasium. The Chesapeake Athletic Club has been the state champion team for the past five years and is composed of college all stars. Byrum Motors held the championship for the City of Portsmouth.

A preliminary game will be played between the local Queens of Virginia Beach, coached by John Tucker, and the McGuire Hospital Nurses of Richmond. Tickets will be $1 and may be secured from Brown's Eno Station. All proceeds will go to the March of Dimes.

BOXING SHOW

The boxing show, scheduled for Saturday, February 26, at Oceana, is expected to draw an unusually large crowd, according to John Fitzgerald, chairman for the event. An area will be set up in one of the largest hangar buildings at the Oceana Naval Air Base. Captain Shields of the Base has invited as his guest Admiral Kiland.

The University of Virginia team will meet the champions of the U. S. Navy Atlantic Fleet High School bands and majorities of the Virginia Beach High School and the Princess Anne High School will perform. A special section of the arena will be reserved for alumni of the University of Virginia, as this is the first time the U. V. boxing team has appeared in the Tidewater area.

All proceeds will be turned over to the March of Dimes. Donations will be accepted at the gate.

"Night in Hawaii" Enjoyed by Club

Tuesday night was a "Night in Hawaii" for members of the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County. Hawaiian dances, music, and native costumes highlighted the February program meeting of the club held at the Virginia Beach High School Cafeteria.

A group of dancers who call themselves "Kai Kai Lani," meaning "heavenly Tidewater," presented seven Hawaiian dances. Included in the group were Mrs. Joe Warren of Norfolk, Mrs. William Edwards of Norfolk, and Mrs. Joseph Brown of Virginia Beach. The trio learned the dances while in the Hawaiian Islands.

Over $1 Million Spent by Beach Erosion Body

The Virginia Beach Erosion Commission has spent a total of $1,203,021.88 in erosion control work since it came into being in 1952, according to a report released this week by the commission.

The commission was created by the Virginia General Assembly on January 16, 1952 and its work has been jointly financed by the City of Virginia Beach, the State of Virginia and the Federal Government.

Present members of the commission are E. H. Church, chairman; H. E. Halstead, vice-chairman; James G. Kontopoulos, secretary; R. B. Taylor and H. A. Holt, Jr. Holt replaced C. T. Whitehead, who died in August, 1954.

The biggest single item of expense shown in the table as part of the commission's report is the initial dredging costs which amounted to $640,739.92.

The original acquisition of land to begin the work cost the commission $35,821.07.

During the past year the commission devised and approved a method of periodically replenishing the sand that is displaced by the elements, the report stated. This method is in the nature of a permanent pumping operation at Rudee Inlet.

The report further states that the commission realizes that its work is never done and that it will endeavor to meet problems of erosion and sand replenishment as they arise.

New Application Made for Pier

R. L. Williams, of Goldsboro, N. C., has applied for a use permit to the Princess Anne County Planning Commission, for the construction of a fishing pier just south of the city limits at Second Street.

The North Carolinian proposes to build an 850-foot pier at an estimated cost of $100,000. Williams withdrew an earlier application when a misunderstanding developed with the planning group.

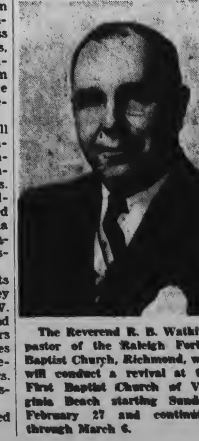

The matter will come before the Planning Commission on February 24 and if approved, will be forwarded to the county's Board of Supervisors at its monthly meeting on February 28. The supervisors issue use permits.

SPEAKER

Philip Lovejoy, former general secretary of Rotary International, will be the principal speaker at an inter-city meeting of the Virginia Beach, Norfolk, Portsmouth, Franklin and Smithfield Rotary Clubs to be held March 1 at the Monticello Hotel in Norfolk.

Rotary Inter-City Meeting March 1

Philip Lovejoy, general secretary of Rotary International from 1942 through 1952, will be the principal speaker at an inter-city meeting of Rotary clubs to be held in the Monticello Hotel on Tuesday night, March 1. It has been announced by a spokesman for the Norfolk Rotary Club.

The meeting will bring together members of the Virginia Beach, Norfolk, Portsmouth, Franklin and Smithfield Rotary Clubs.

Lovejoy is a world renowned speaker and has spoken in practically every country in the world. He has received awards from many countries for his work with the rotary organization.

The former general secretary of Rotary retired from that post in 1952 and since that time has conducted speaking tours throughout the United States.

The meeting on March 1 will begin at 6:30 o'clock. A large attendance from each club is anticipated.

Committees Are Named for 'Point' Civic League

Mr. Spencer L. Lott, newly elected President of the Bird Neck Point Civic League, held his first board meeting Monday night at his home on Bobolink Drive. His first announcement was the committee chairman for the coming year.

When the Civic League held their regular meeting last month at the Cavalier Yacht Club the new officers were elected. Aside from Mr. Lott, the others elected were Dr. John R. Anderson, Vice President, Capt. R. B. Crenshaw, Secretary, and Lt. Richard K. Tiley, Treasurer. The only new member elected to the Board of Directors was Mr. Franklin S. Davis. The other two positions being held by the retiring president, Mr. L. H. Zeimer and the president of the Garden Club, Mrs. R. S. Creamer.

The board recommended sending contributions to the voluntary fire departments at Seaside and Oceana. The matter of speeding and safety regulations was up for consideration and it was decided to authorize the deputizing of a fourth resident. These special deputies have the power of giving tickets for the violation of the 25 mile speed limit. Mr. W. A. Green is the chairman of this safety committee. Mr. Dave Stormont was appointed chairman of the Fire Division. Mr. R. E. Doyal is in charge of membership, while Admiral John B. Griggs takes over the development and beautification committee with Capt. Crenshaw to head the building and zoning committee and Mrs. R. B. Baldwin is in charge of publicity.

The proposed Lynnhaven Waterway development was under discussion but since this will effect every resident in the Bird Neck area it was decided to leave this matter up to the vote of the members at the next regular meeting of the Civic League.

75 Days Legal Maneuvering Faced by Annex Proceeding

A three-judge tribunal ruled Monday that it would allow 75 days of legal procedure before deciding the question of annexation of North Virginia Beach by the City of Virginia Beach.

The special three-judge panel named by Chief Justice Edward W. Hudgins, of the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals, is made up of Judge Floyd E. Kellam, of the Princess Anne Circuit Court, Judge J. Jordan Temple, of Prince George's County, and Judge G. W. Mitchell, of South Beach.

Citizens of North Virginia Beach are the petitioners in the suit and they are represented by Eastwood D. Herbert and Ray Smith, attorneys.

The County of Princess Anne is represented by Commonwealth Attorney Paul W. Ackins and William L. Parker. The county contends that the present petition before the court was adjudicated in 1953. The county contends that the residents of North Virginia Beach were actual participants in the 1953 annexation proceedings, although not acting as formal participants.

Counsel for the petitioners contend that the statutes only prohibit a city or town from repeating an annexation proceeding for five years after an unsuccessful action, but do not forbid the residents of an area to start proceedings to be annexed by a city or town.

Only the city's interests were presented in the 1953 case, but the petitioners' interests are paramount. In the 1953 case, the city was asking the county to relinquish a certain area on terms laid down by the city. Now, the residents are asking the city to do something for them on their terms. Herbert and Smith contended for their clients.

Furthermore, said Herbert and Smith, financial and other circumstances prevailing at the time of the 1953 action have been changed and they requested opportunity to present evidence on this point.

During an hour's hearing in the Princess Anne courtroom, the judges offered comments of "a rather difficult problem" and one much presented.

Herbert cited the only case offered as a precedent: That of the Albemarle City County residents in 1925 who asked to be annexed by the City of Newport News. The circuit court denied their petition, but the Supreme Court of Appeals held that $1 per acre to the voter-residents had the right to be heard in court.

The three judges asked that pertinent papers in the case be turned over to them for study. The petitioners have been asked to pay at least 50 per cent of the costs of North Virginia Beach, the ordinance of the Virginia Beach City Council setting forth the terms of accepting the petitioners into the city, the special pleadings of Princess Anne County opposing the action of the petitioners, and the motion by the petitioners to reject the county's pleadings.

The special court set a 30-day limit for the petitioners to file their brief replying to the special pleadings of the county, an additional 30 days for the county to reply, and another 15 days for the petitioners to prepare a rebuttal.

THOSE TRICKY SAFETY SLOGANS

Scrambled safety slogans are to be found everywhere in this newspaper. To enter the safety slogan contest sponsored by the Princess Anne Woman's Club, these slogans must be clipped from the paper and mailed in with the corrected slogans not later than Wednesday, February 23. Entries should be addressed to P. O. Box 214, Virginia Beach.

Contest Winner

Winner in the first week of the scrambled safety slogan contest sponsored by the Princess Anne Woman's Club was Mrs. M. Godwin, of 401 Sixteenth Street, Virginia Beach.

Mrs. Godwin received two tickets to the Beach Theatre for her winning entry. The contest continues weekly for the next two weeks.

$1,500 For Dimes March

Story's contribution to the Princess Anne County March of Dimes campaign will be in the neighborhood of $1,500, almost double last year's total, it was announced this week. Although a final count of donations from all sources has not been completed, it should be a welcome factor in helping the county meet its 1955 quota of $20,000, according to Lt. Ernest T. Bauer, assistant post adjutant and chairman of the fund drive at Fort Story.

Win Story Plaque

Story again was awarded the Transportation Command Safety plaque — one for the lowest military personnel injury rate; the other for the lowest Army motor vehicle accident rate — for the fourth quarter of 1954. This gives the 5th Transportation Terminal Command the distinction of having held both plaques throughout the past year. Special recognition of this achievement — the result of constant emphasis on safety in every unit of the command — is set for later this month with presentation of a certificate from the office of the Chief of Transportation.

Board of Governors Elected

Election of a new board of governors for Story's Officers Mess was held this week, with the post 5-3, Lt. Col. Harold F. Baker, being chosen president. Other new members are: Capt. William G. Condon, Capt. Robert H. Schwartz and Lt. Vincent M. Russo. Robert A. Decker, David M. Quale, Robert H. Fetherston and Kenneth M. Corbett, also Ena Linde Wayde of the Navy's Hatteras Entrance Control Post on the Story reservation.

Pfc. Askins "Outstanding"

Most recent Story enlisted man to be chosen as the Transportation Training Command "Outstanding Soldier" is Pfc. David C. Askins, of Headquarters Company, 8th Transportation Terminal Command B. Askins, who was congratulated by Col. Edwin A. Deagle, Story's CO, is the son of former Assistant Secretary of the Navy, H. R. Askins, who held that post from October, 1950, to January, 1952.

169th Dukw Company Honored

Latest best mess award on the post saw the trophy won by the 169th Dukw Company, a unit of the 8th Transportation Battalion. The post's deputy commander, Lt. Col. Frederick G. Ward, presented the trophy to Lt. Jack J. Schwartz, the 169th's CO, and its mess steward, Sgt. Lester C. Clement.

Story Pistol Expert High

Story's pistol representative at the Fort Benning, Ga., competitive tryouts for the U. S. Army squad that will take part in the National Midwinter Pistol Championships at Tampa next month, did himself proud this week. With the .22 caliber pistol as his "shooting iron," Lt. Whitman Cross, II, came out fourth of 72 contestants, with a score of 288. The high was 292.

Reception Saturday

TTC's commanding general, Brig. Gen. Rush B. Lincoln, Jr., will have his first reception Saturday evening, February 19, since he assumed command of Fort Bliss and TTC which includes Fort Story. The dinner and dance to follow will be held at the Fort Story Officers Mess.

Donkeys are the only mode of transportation in Clovelly (Devon, England) high street.

The "pit of eternal fire" is the crater of the volcano Kilauea in Hawaii.

The District of Columbia was named in honor of Columbus.

With the GIRL SCOUTS

On Tuesday evening, February 22, the Princess Anne District of Girl Scouts will hold its annual dinner meeting.

In Girl Scouting, February is set aside as International Month. February 28 has triple significance for Girl Scouts, in that it is the birthday of George Washington, Lord Baden-Powell (founder of the Boy Scout movement), and of Lady Baden-Powell. To all Girl Scouts this date is known as "Thinking Day" and reminds the membership of the friendship that exists among all countries having Scouts and Guides. On this day Girl Scouts send their greetings to members all over the world.

In keeping with the International Friendship and Understanding theme, Lt. Col. Michael Elbers, Royal Netherlands Navy, will be the speaker. Lt. Elbers was born July 29, 1918, in Medan, Sumatra, Indonesia. He attended high school and college in Java and the Royal Netherlands Naval College. Lt. Elbers is an assistant plans officer in the planning, policy and operations division of the Navy's Hatteras Entrance Control Post on the Story reservation.

Beach Music Lovers Invited to Hear Norfolk Symphony Orchestra

Are there a lot of people in Virginia Beach who would enjoy symphonic music, and who haven't found out that they would? The musicians of the Norfolk Symphony Orchestra believe that there are, and the "pop" concert announced for the Norfolk Arena auditorium on March 5th is an earnest and promising effort on their part to make new friends for the orchestra and for symphonic music in the area.

A hundred tables, each seating ten people, will transform the arena into a cabaret for the evening. Light refreshment will be served, and while the audience sits soft drinks the orchestra will play a program calculated to please everyone, whether his taste be for musical comedy, light opera, ballet or the classics. One feature will be tunes from Richard Rodgers' "South Pacific" and another will be a medley of Victor Herbert favorites. The classical numbers will be such familiar and rousing numbers as Enesco's believe will make music as much fun for the audience as it is for them.

"Romanian Rhapsody," and the ballet music from Gounod's Faust, which, if "long-haired" music, is certainly long-hair with a sharp cut.

Such varied and universal favorites as "Bossa's Stars and Stripes Forever" and Strauss' "Blue Danube" are listed, and surprises are planned that promise to startle and delight anyone used to serious dignity from the symphonic stage.

In addition to the reserved seats at tables on the main floor, which go on sale this week at $2.00, there will be mezzanine seats for those who prefer just to watch and listen, at $1.00. And what may be the biggest bargain in orchestral history is the 1000 balcony seats which are priced at just 25 cents, including tax—that is an inducement that the musicians, who want everybody to attend, hope will prove irresistible.

Reservations may be had by calling LOwell 3-8902 in Norfolk, or by mail addressed to Pops Concert, Norfolk Arena.

USE LEFT-OVER BEANS

Here's a good way to use up left-over baked beans. Spread the beans on buttered brown bread slices. Place a half strip of bacon over the top and broil until the bacon is crisp.

Cape Henry Woman's Club May Pay Visit to United Nations

The Cape Henry Woman's Club re-elected its complete slate of officers to serve for the second year, at the luncheon meeting Thursday at the Princess Anne Country Club.

Mrs. R. C. Hale outlined a chartered bus trip to New York, with a day's visit to the United Nations, for consideration of the club members.

Mrs. W. W. Connell, President, and Mrs. W. G. Temple were elected delegates to the Club Institute to be held at the Cavalier Club in March.

The poetry, short story and essay contest will end March 1, according to Mrs. E. L. Cooper, and all entries should be in by that time.

American Home Chairman, Mrs. R. W. Couch, gave final plans for the bake sale to be held by club members on February 18, at Hobcock's Appliance Co. on 31st St.

The membership voted to participate in the current drive for cleanliness in cities and on highways, and will secure "Don't Be A Litterbug" posters to be placed in schools.

Mrs. W. E. Welsh, Mrs. B. E. Roberge and Mrs. M. W. Towle were introduced as new members of the club.

The afternoon session was devoted to a detailed report from Mrs. Connell, of her recent trip to the S site Board meeting in Roanoke, and an open discussion on club activities conducted by Mrs. J. W. Allen, Jr., Club Institute Chairman.

Officers for the coming year are: President, Mrs. W. W. Connell, Jr.; First Vice-President, Mrs. Everett K. Wilson; Second Vice-President, Mrs. William P. Kelam; Third Vice-President, Mrs. R. W. Ashworth; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Robert J. Steinhilber; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. F. B. Nichols; Treasurer, Mrs. R. S. Creamer; Historian, Mrs. Cecil H. Reed.

The American Home Department of the Cape Henry Woman's Club will hold a Bake Sale on Friday February 18, from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. at Hobcock's Appliance Co., 31st Street, Va. Beach. Mrs. R. W. Couch, chairman and Mrs. Henry Hunt, Co-Chairman announced the proceeds will go to charity.

C & P Telephone Elects Directors

At the annual meeting of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia held February 9 the company's directors were re-elected:

Mrs. Gilmore Tilbrook Honored By Lake Joyce Garden Club

Mrs. W. C. Griffin of the Lake Joyce Garden Club was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Cavalier Garden Club on Monday at the Sir Walter Hotel. Members were instructed in drying plant material, with an eye for color and design, to be used in arrangements.

Mrs. John Addenbrook outlined several tours for the membership to consider during Garden Week in Virginia.

The following resolution was adopted and presented to Mrs. Gilmore Lee Tilbrook:

WHEREAS, at our first meeting it was suggested that beautification of the abandoned railroad right of way along Atlantic Avenue be one of the objectives of this Club; and

WHEREAS, Charlotte Tilbrook, as President of the Council of Garden Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County, has taken a leading part in the planning and conversion of the right of way into the beautiful green landscaped parkway along Atlantic Avenue; and has been chosen First Citizen of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County for 1954 for her inspired leadership in the parkway beautification project:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED:

THAT we, the members of the Cavalier Garden Club, express to Charlotte Tilbrook, a past president of this Club, our appreciation of her untiring efforts and accomplishments, our congratulations to her on being honored as First Citizen of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County for 1954 and our love and affection to her and our very best wishes.

The 1953 traffic fatality rate of 7.1 persons per 100 million vehicles, was the lowest since records have been kept.

MORE DOUBLE TALK

We continue to be amused at the writings of one Willie Dunn in his effort to mislead the public and to label all those people who do not agree with his political thinking as members of a "machine."

It would appear that Dunn is anything but consistent in his writings and we presume that his "machine" attacks have come to be regarded as ridiculous in view of the fact that he contradicts himself so often.

Dunn is opposed to the "machine" yet is known to be running the "Dunn Machine" and giving instructions to the "Dunn Machine" candidates, who, for some reason, have adopted a label known as the ticket for Princess Anne.

This would-be newspaper editor has constantly attacked individuals and groups of individuals through the editorial columns of his newspaper. He has practically run the gamut in attacking and has resorted many times to repeating himself. His latest blast has been against the businessmen of the community, or for the time being, one segment of the business life of the community—the service station operators.

Dunn carries on the masthead of his newspaper the wording "The Truth Shall Make You Free." Many believe it would be more appropriate to change that to "Half Truths Shall Make You Free." It is felt this would be more in keeping with Dunn's writings and would more aptly describe the approach to life that Dunn subscribes to. He very rarely tells the whole story for that would not prove his point.

We cannot believe that any man can actually believe as this man writes. If so, we can only have sympathy for Dunn. We rather suspect, though, that he writes as he does to satisfy a desire for publicity which he would not otherwise receive.

SHORT OF DIMES

It is hard to realize that a fund campaign with the appeal of the March of Dimes is running into serious difficulty in attaining its goal but that is exactly what is faced by the Princess Anne Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Their goal this year is $30,000 and with only two more events scheduled to benefit the 1955 drive, officials report they must make between seven and eight thousand dollars on these remaining events to reach the goal.

The next events for the benefit of the March of Dimes are a basketball game and boxing matches, the latter to be staged at the Oceana Naval Air Station. The basketball game is set for the Virginia Beach High School Friday night and will pit the Chesapeake Athletic Club against a motor company team from Portsmouth. In a preliminary game, our own Surf Queens will play the McGuire Hospital nurses from Richmond.

The boxing card is set for February 26 and will be one of the outstanding sporting events of the year. The University of Virginia ringmen will meet a crack Navy team of the Atlantic Fleet.

Officials of the March of Dimes are looking for these final two events to put them over the top this year. The money is needed more than ever and those who have not given this year should attend both of these sporting events to help swell the March of Dimes fund.

FREEDOM -- RESPONSIBILITY

By MARGUERITE C. PATTON

(The following is condensed from an article appearing in "Press Digest," a publication of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution. We think it well worth your reading time.)

February is a month synonymous with the names of great Americans. In honoring the memory of George Washington we feel we realize the course which Washington manifested at Valley Forge when he kept the army intact and lighted the flame which made victory possible.

Thomas Jefferson, a great American, once said: "The last hope of human liberty in the world rests with us." What a challenge! Let us strive to be not only the last hope but the best hope for human liberty.

Let us strive to emulate the precepts of these early patriots who gave us our country, a land where there is liberty and justice for all who live beneath our flag.

Freedom and Responsibility
 One day a highway patrolman stopped a man, who was going to drive in a hurry, and said: "You are in a hurry, but you are not in a hurry to stop. The driver's answer was, 'This is a free country—I can drive as fast as I want." Most Americans will agree that the driver was wrong. Where do we draw the line between freedom and abuse of freedom? The difference lies in the effect the two actions have on other people.

The man who drives 90 miles an hour around a curve abuses his freedom, for everyone has a right to life and this right is clearly placed in danger if automobiles are driven in a reckless fashion. Freedom does not mean the absolute right to do anything one pleases. There are restrictions which we accept as necessary and desirable. Let us consider a few of our freedoms and the restrictions placed on them.

Today we have freedom of speech—but we may not yell "Fire" in a crowded theatre. We have freedom of the press—but a newspaper may be used for libel if it prints stories which injure a person's reputation. We have freedom of religion—but a religion which insists on human sacrifices would not be allowed to practice its rites. We have freedom to assemble and to petition the Government—but we may not march on the White House with shotguns and throw a line of sentinels around the Capitol or the White House in order to back up our demands. Freedom gives power and can be used to hurt others. If freedom of speech, for example, were unlimited, and there would be nothing to stop irresponsible men from yelling "Fire" in crowded theatres. By abusing one freedom these men would in the end destroy them all and the liberty of the society would cease to exist. If you want freedom, YOU must take the responsibility for your own actions.

The function of the government is not to supply all our wants but to do its utmost to see that everyone has equal opportunity to satisfy them and that no man is unfairly treated in competition with his fellow citizens. Nor is it the job of the Government to hand us freedoms on a silver platter with the check already paid. Rather it must foster freedom by providing, in various ways, the means whereby the individual citizen can practice them. Freedom is opportunity. It is clear that the preservation of our American freedom depends on the ability of the INDIVIDUAL CITIZEN to think clearly about the way he exercises his rights. In every situation he must ask himself three questions: What are my freedoms? What are my responsibilities? How do the two balance out in this particular situation and what is the right action to take?

We have the freedom to say what we want, worship as we please, and do as we will. We have the responsibility to respect the liberty of others, further the welfare of the community, and protect the security of the United States. Freedom and responsibility go hand in hand. As we have said many times, "With every freedom there goes a very definite responsibility."

A TOUGH HOSS TO HARNESS

AROUND The Cracker Barrel

Many inquiries have been made recently of this column to find out just why Sheriff Malbon left a Norfolk hospital after being treated for a broken leg, but apparently was released before his leg had healed. It seems Malbon left the Norfolk hospital and then entered another hospital to continue his recovery. The broken leg resulted from an affair surrounding a football game trip to North Carolina. This column regrets not being able to give details of the hospital switch or the accident.

A report to this column this week, it is true, reveals that James E. "Batsie" Heath, boom gal of Willie Dunn's and a candidate on the "Dunn Machine" ticket for the office of commonwealth's attorney, returned last Saturday night to the days when he was known as "Gay Blade" Heath. In other words, he was "doing the town."

Last week Willie Dunn spoke of a bag man. If the boss of the "Dunn Machine" knows as much of what he writes it seems he would explain things. We don't know what he means by "bag man," but we do recognize an overused "wind bag." And, if the shoe fits, Willie should wear it.

This column assumes that Harry Sawyer, who announced as a candidate for the county board of supervisors last week-end, will not run on the "Dunn Machine" ticket. Sawyer said in his statement that he would not be a machine candidate.

Although, as a group of businessmen, they were maligned and attacked by Willie Dunn through his newspaper, it is understood the service station operators in Virginia Beach and in Princess Anne County, demonstrating intelligent thinking, are ignoring the remarks leveled at them and just considering the source.

Dr. Lippincott said in his statement last week when announcing for the board of supervisors that public officials should set a proper example for the youths of our county. We wonder if he was talking about Malbon and Heath and the example they set. If he said he can't possibly run on the Princess Anne ticket with Malbon and Heath.

A picture recently appeared in Willie Dunn's newspaper showing Roger Malbon pointing to a new hole in a club reportedly located in the county. It was good photography but it wasn't explained which side of the door Malbon was standing.

Strange rumblings among candidates on the Princess Anne ticket have been heard in recent days. It is reported that Malbon is going around saying "Heath is worse than me." Then, it is said Heath makes the same statement about Malbon, that is, "Malbon is worse than me." Frankly, we don't understand such utterances.

Candidates on the Princess Anne ticket, or "Dunn Machine" have stated that the county needs a purchasing agent and that work should be awarded on a competitive bid basis. We wonder how Malbon can justify his position with this crowd when it is a known fact that jail purchases are not on a bid basis and many times are bought at the retail level. The candidates on the "Dunn Machine" ticket should practice what they preach if they want to be heard.

Sluggish Oil Fields
 Put On The Water Wagon
 Water flooding problems can now be solved on the spot with the help of the newly completed portable water treatment study laboratory. The trailer, or "Labmobile," is completely equipped to analyze and test water to be used in forcing reluctant oil out of fields where underground pressure is low. Benefits from production research like this are ultimately passed on to consumers in the form of increasingly plentiful supplies of oil products.

"HOGWASH"
 14 February, 1955

The Editor
 Virginia Beach Sun-News
 Virginia Beach, Va.
 Dear Sir:

Two weeks ago I read with much interest a very intelligent editorial in your newspaper dealing with the forthcoming election in which the writer stated that the voters should be presented facts and that the candidates should deal in facts, not in hogwash.

Last week I read with much disgust an editorial in Willie Dunn's paper attributing certain statements to individuals in which no facts were presented and just a lot of "hogwash" was printed, to fill up space, I presume.

Dunn and his "Dunn Machine" won't or can't deal in facts because the facts would not be to their way of thinking. He criticizes the local administrations in the county, and Virginia Beach, but never deals in facts nor does he ever prove anything derogatory. Just recently the Governor of the State of Utah criticized the Eisenhower administration, but that doesn't mean that the present administration is wrong, nor does it prove it to be wrong. Honest criticism is fine, but false accusations, insinuations or innuendos without facts is something else again. Dunn never seems to deal in facts and I suspect that he never will print facts because they would show him up to be just what most people have realized him to be for a long, long time—a blowhard with utter disregard for anyone's point of view but his own.

The letter he wrote last week and signed with a pen name is so ridiculous to mention. He must think people are fools.

Sincerely,
 A Subscriber.

House Plants Subject To Various Ailments

The sheltered life isn't what it's cracked up to be when it comes to house plants. S. B. Fenne, plant pathologist at VPI Agricultural Extension Service, says house plants are not immune to injury from pests and diseases, and that the indoor environment which some people presume to be favorable is really the cause of much trouble.

For instance, light is distributed unevenly in the average room; for example, if you are interested enough to go to the trouble and expense. Place the pots in shallow saucers filled with water to get a more favorable humidity, or rest them on trays containing moist pebbles, vermiculite, or other clean water-retaining materials. Plants kept in a very dry room should be enclosed, if practical, in a cellophane or glass case with a moist filter.

Provide a good uniform light, supplementing this by artificial light if you are interested enough to go to the trouble and expense. Place the pots in shallow saucers filled with water to get a more favorable humidity, or rest them on trays containing moist pebbles, vermiculite, or other clean water-retaining materials. Plants kept in a very dry room should be enclosed, if practical, in a cellophane or glass case with a moist filter.

Avoid extreme changes in temperature. Most house plants generally flourish best at day temperatures not over 70 degrees, dropping 5 to 10 degrees at night. Water periodically with moderate wetness alternating with moderate dryness.

DALE CARNEGIE

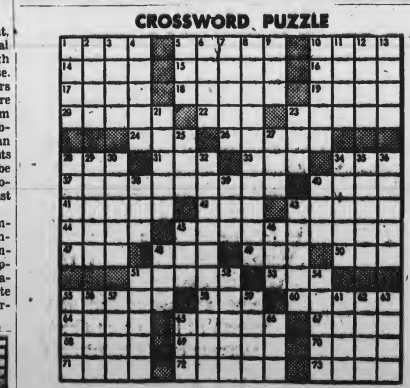

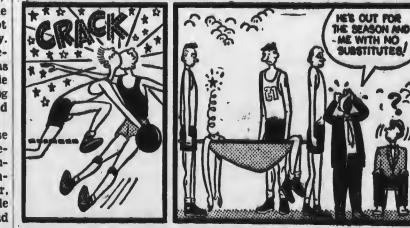

Mose H. Diehl, 405 Seaside Road, Tuckahoe, N. Y., in July of 1944 was, with his division, sent to France to go into combat. The ships were lying off Utah Beach and they were waiting for the barges to take them to the beach. They could hear the distant rumble of the artillery and could see the beach just ahead where so many thousands had given their lives but a short time before. Like the others on those ships, he found himself becoming nervous and depressed because he knew the only path ahead was one of hardship, casualties and, for many, death. He remembered a devotional booklet that had been given him several months before by his church. He dug it out of his pack, opened it and read these words: "Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid." These words over him a peace and calm he says he shall never forget. He realized those words were spoken centuries before to men who also feared the future; to men whose future was as uncertain as his was. He accepted those words as a Divine promise that whatever his lot was to be, whether it was to be life or death, he would be prepared for whatever might occur. His future was not a matter of chance—but was in the hands of an all-seeing and all-knowing God, a God who knew what was best. Ever since he has carried those words with him, and he says he has repeated them a thousand times, in the service and out, and they have always given him peace and courage. All Boy Scouts the world over have common ideals and similar activities and uniforms. There are 1,100,000 Cub Scouts. HELP THE HEART FUND

Surf Queens Whip Richmond

After a very slow moving first half, the local Surf Queens caught fire after the intermission and went on to their 12th victory of the season by turning back the Virginia Ladies team of Richmond, 26 - 20.

Tillie Malbon got three straight baskets to put the locals out in front comfortably and today Dahn registered 12 points for the night to lead both teams in scoring.

June McCarter was best for the visitors, with 10 points. The box score:

THE BIG ONE DIDN'T GET AWAY

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM Princess Anne Training School

Hi there.

We are planning a series of programs in accordance with Negro History Week, which starts on the 15th of February. We are planning two programs at present. There will be one on Tuesday, and one on Thursday. These two programs are sponsored by Mr. William J. Watson, one of our History instructors.

Miss Ruth Haynes came in third place in the Mardi Gras contest, she attended the ball on the 18th, held at the Smith Street Recreation Center. We are very proud of her.

Mr. J. V. Boykin, our principal, will fly up to Atlantic City to attend the Annual Convention of the National Association of Secondary School Principals February 19-23.

The officers of the Lower Tidewater Confederation N. F. A. are as follows:

President, Wardell Baker - Nansemond Co.; Vice-President, Ish Baker - East Suffolk; Secretary, Donald Blakely - Norfolk Co.; Treasurer, Louis Wilson - Isles of Wight; Reporter, Charles A. Brockett - Princess Anne Co.; Watchman, Joseph Bailey - Norfolk Co.; Parliamentarian, Abraham Gatliff - East Suffolk; Chaplain, Charlie Wilson - Isle of Wight Co.; Historian, James Harris - Princess Anne Co.

The next meeting will be held on March 10, 1955 at East Suffolk. A motion was made that George Washington Owens get the Chapter addition of the N. F. A.

The following students made an average of 88 or better for the first semester during this school term and are Honor Roll Students.

Farm Bureau Sponsors Dairy Club Second Year

At the directors meeting of the Princess Anne County Farm Bureau, the bureau elected to again sponsor the 4-H Dairy Club for 1955.

This program was first begun in 1954, with four 4-H members receiving registered dairy calves. Two boys and two girls were selected to receive calves, with the two girls coming from dairy families and two boys from general farm families.

In 1955 four calves will again be donated by the Farm Bureau. Club members who are to receive calves have not been selected at this time but will be announced in the very near future. The calves will be placed on the farm with the coming of warm weather.

Two-fold Purpose

The purpose of this program is two-fold. First of all, the Farm Bureau would like to improve the standards of the farm family cow through the efforts of these of the dairy. For those club members who live on dairy farms it will give them an animal of their own to get started in the dairy business. This project would give the club member something to work for in a monetary value since the milk can be sold along with the milk from the dairy.

CUB SCOUTS AID MARCH OF DIMES

Pack 60, Den 5, with Mrs. Julian Burke, den mother, has turned over $14.50 to the local March of Dimes. Members of this group of Scouts, being anxious to help in the polio drive, got out and worked hard to sell all of the remaining polio fighter balloons, and thus do their part toward raising money for the Princess Anne chapter.

Those working were Charles Ansell, Juddy Burke, Jackie Jones, and Michael Clark.

SPORTSMAN

Los Angeles, now coach of the Los Angeles Rams, was once an assistant to Earl "Red" Blaik at Army. Gillman's University of Cincinnati football teams lost but five games since 1951. Offense tackle Hal Mitchell, named the most valuable football player in the U. S. Army last season, has signed a 1955 contract with the New York Giants. Mitchell, one-time UCLA star, was a Giant regular in 1952, and has played for the Ft. Lee (Va.) Army team the past two seasons. The "long throw" record in baseball belongs to Don Orselle, who threw a baseball 443 feet 1-2 inches during field day exercises in Chattanooga (Southern Association) Tennessee during 1953. The record paid attendance for a baseball game, was established October 10, 1948, in the 15th game of the World Series when 85,288 paid their way into Municipal Stadium, Cleveland Ohio. Lou Gehrig won the American League "most valuable player" award in 1927 and again in 1936.

Father-Daughter Team Make Heart Surgery History Recently

Partners in a history-making heart operation with a father "lending" his heart and lungs to his daughter as surgeons repaired the gaping hole in the wall separating the pumping chambers of her heart, are Ronald Schmidt and 5-year-old Pamela Schmidt of Minneapolis.

Before the operation, Pamela seemed doomed to a life of infirmity on possible death at an early age. She had spent 10 months in an oxygen tent. Today, she is given as good a chance as any youngster for a normal, healthy life.

The story of little Pamela is the story of medical science's latest accomplishment — "controlled cross circulation" — a revolutionary procedure introduced in surgery at the University of Minnesota Medical School after several years of intensive research. This research was aided by the Heart Fund.

In the operation, the blood circulatory systems of Pamela and her father, who was anesthetized on a nearby operating table, became one circulatory system.

They were linked by thin plastic tubes passing through a mechanical pump. With Pamela's heart isolated and her lungs collapsed, the pump fed into her circulatory system bright red, oxygenated blood carried from her father's femoral artery while carrying back to the father an equal amount of dark, venous blood for purification and oxygenation in the father's lungs and other organs.

Although the operation required four and a half hours, Pamela's heart was isolated from the rest of her circulatory system for only 1 1/2 minutes. During this period surgeons opened the wall of her heart, sewed up the defect in the inner partition and then closed the outer heart wall.

They worked in a blood-free operating field under direct vision, and what is equally important, the worked unhurriedly and without fear that their patient might either bleed to death or that her brain might be damaged by impairment of the circulation. This and other great advances in heart surgery prove that heart research pays off. Your contribution to the Heart Fund supports research, and brings the benefits

"Mr. Gus" Gets A Job

A miracle of modern marine engineering, "Mr. Gus" is the first mobile drilling platform capable of operating in water as deep as 100 feet. The new unit was built at a "budget" cost of $3,500,000 and represents the very latest in offshore design. On location, the twin-hulled platform forces eight pilings into the ocean floor and then sinks its two lower hulls to the bottom for anchor, thus affording the mobility of a drilling barge and the stability of a fixed platform. The additional cost of a separate fixed installation at each site is eliminated. Starting its service by drilling a wildcat in the Texas tidelands about five miles off San Luis Pass between Galveston and Freeport, Texas, the mobile unit was designed to move from one offshore job to another. Keeping Americans supplied with oil is a costly business for the nation's oil producers.

Blues In The Night

Lonely whistling steam locomotives which carried nostalgic memories for so many people may soon be a thing of the past. One railroad, which used steam for more than 100 years, has become fully diesel-powered, and its last eight steam locomotives recently completed their final trip to the junk yard. Railroads are one of the oil industry's best customers. It takes a lot of oil to keep the powerful diesels working.

As part of its safe driving program, one oil company uses an eye laboratory on wheels to help those employees who drive company vehicles keep tabs on their eyesight. Known as the "Porto-Clinic," the equipment provides numerous tests for depth perception, color blindness, and field of vision. The exam helps the drivers recognize and make allowances for any visual difficulty they may have. Taking accident prevention measures like this one, oil industry drivers have established a safety record that is hard to beat.

A new "magic eye," which enables oil men to tell what is passing through a pipe line at any given moment has been developed. The instrument, called a capacitance recorder, gives a continuous and accurate check on pipe line contents. So sensitive it can differentiate between two batches of a grade of gasoline as they pass through the line, the device gives greater efficiency and economy in handling multiple products.

1/4 teaspoon almond extract
2 tablespoons Triangle butter
1 1/2 or 9-inch metal pie shell
Drain cherries thoroughly. (Use juice for gelatin salad or dessert sauce. Do not use it in this pie.) Mix sugar, flour and salt; save 1 tablespoon of this to sprinkle on bottom crust before putting in filling. Add cherries, coloring, oil, and butter in four mixtures. Let stand while crust is prepared. Make pie in shell according to your favorite recipe or package directions. Line an 8 or 9-inch pie plate with pastry. Sprinkle with the 1 tablespoon four mixtures. Pour in filling and cover with top crust. Bake in a hot oven, 425 degrees, 30 to 40 minutes. Makes 1 1/2 or 9-inch pie.

Birdneck Point Garden Club Hears Talk on Soil Conditioning

"Plants are like small children" was the comment made by Mr. Schuyler Kingland, a representative of the Monsanto Corporation when he spoke to the members of the Birdneck Point Garden Club Tuesday at their regular meeting held at the home of Mrs. Julius Schlain.

Mr. Paul Sturman and Mr. Kingland, both of Monsanto, had charge of the program which dealt with soil conditioning. They explained that a plant, like a child, needs fresh air, sunshine, liquids, and proper diet in order to grow and thrive properly. They presented a film narration of the growth of plants. Since this was a color as well as sound film and showed the bursting open of various buds their point was made quite dramatically.

The club voted Mrs. R. E. Doyal and Mrs. Ruth W. Lindsay as co-chairmen of the "Litterbox" committee. This a Statewide Campaign promoted by the State Federation of Garden Clubs to help keep Virginia more attractive by trying to make the public conscious of the part everyone can play if they refrain from throwing trash along the highways and in public places. The campaign is now being started throughout the schools of Virginia to help put the information into more homes.

Mrs. Spencer L. Lott, over-all chairman of the desert card party and fashion show, "Hearts and Fashions" which was held yesterday at the American Legion Club House, reported that her committee had attended to all details and that everything was "well in hand."

Mrs. R. B. Baldwin reported that actual work had begun on the first triangle after the main entrance to Birdneck Point and that several hundred daffodils and narcissus bulbs had been planted while arrangements had been made to plant asaleas next month.

The Ellsworth Garden Club of Norfolk had three of their members Mrs. W. M. Gresham, Mrs. J. W. Wiley and Mrs. Percy Burnett, present who acted as judges. They gave the blue award to Mrs. David Stormont for her Valentine arrangement of pink gladioli and rose begonia leaves.

Mrs. Rufus S. Kight, who was co-hostess with Mrs. Schlain also used the Valentine theme for the luncheon table by using red carnations in the centerpiece and having red and white heart shaped cakes as individual favors.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held March 15th at the home of Mrs. E. F. Harshbarger.

AT FORT JACKSON

Private Robert Midgett, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Midgett, 22 Pacific Avenue, Virginia Beach, has been assigned to Battery A of the 81st Field Artillery Battalion at Fort Jackson, S. C., for basic training. He will spend the next eight weeks learning the fundamentals of being a soldier, including classroom lectures in such subjects as military courtesy, first aid and combat field problems involving the use of the M-1 rifle.

Ocean Park Woman's Club Plans Future Events; Nominates Officers

The Ocean Park Woman's Club held its regular luncheon meeting on Wednesday of last week at 12:30 in the club room of the Fire House, with Mrs. R. G. Holloman, president, presiding. Hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. G. C. Lyons, chairman; Mrs. C. C. Nuckols and Mrs. W. J. Winn.

The club room was attractively decorated in a Valentine motif by the Garden Department, Mrs. C. J. Miller, chairman.

Mrs. C. C. Nuckols, chairman of the Ways and Means committee, announced a rummage sale would be held Saturday at Miller Corner.

Friendship card parties will be held in the members' homes for defraying club expense, it was announced.

The women are helping the Fire Department with an oyster roast to be held Saturday, February 19 from 1 to 6 p. m. at the Ocean Park Fire House for the benefit of the Ocean Park Volunteer Fire Department, Inc., to pay for the new fire engine. Tickets will be $1.25 for adults, and 75 cents for children under 12. The public is invited.

It was announced that $40.87 was realized from the sale of the green dragon.

Mrs. G. C. Lyon, Public Affairs chairman, announced that the Girl Scout troop sponsored by the club now has 19 members. She reported that the troop had recently gone to Richmond to visit the Governor and see the State capital.

Mrs. W. G. Holland, Public Welfare chairman, announced that club members would visit the two convalescent homes in the community and take magazines, cigarettes and fruit.

Mrs. C. J. Miller, Garden Department chairman, announced that $17.00 had been cleared from the recent soup sale.

A card party was held in place of the meeting on February 23, in the club room at 12:30 o'clock. A luncheon will be served. Hostesses will be Mrs. Holloman and Mrs. W. J. Winn. Reservations may be had by telephoning the hostesses.

A nominating committee comprising Mrs. I. D. Mapp, chairman; Mrs. E. F. Caldwell, Mrs. R. P. Alexander, Mrs. D. B. Hill and Mrs. Robert Morris, was appointed by the president. They will announce a slate of officers at the March meeting.

Mrs. Holloman announced that $87.50 had been turned in from the recent polio dance, $284.57 from the Mothers March and $28.64 from the polio test tubes.

A tea for the elders of the community was announced for last Monday, February 14, from 3 to 5 p. m. Mrs. C. J. Miller was in charge of refreshments and Mrs. D. B. Hill in charge of entertainment.

Mrs. Holloman announced that the annual Spring meeting of the Tidewater District of the G. F. A. C. will be held March 16 at the Cavalier Hotel, Virginia Beach. She gave a report on the mid-winter meeting of the Board of Directors of the V.W.O. held February 1 and 2, which she attended, and also from the Tidewater District Board meeting in Cape Charles last week Tuesday.

Mrs. L. D. Ledbetter, program chairman, presented the Craddock High School Sextette, comprising Misses Ann Stephens, Mickie Elder, Libby Cowart, Alice Henderson, Pat Thompson and Frances Whitehurst. The sextette was directed by F. S. Kingdom, and presented "Come Thou Almighty King," "Trees," "Tumbling Weeds," "Let It Snow," "Siboney," "By the Bend of the River" and "Pledge of Allegiance."

Ann Stephens, soloist, sang "Will You Remember" and "Make Believe." Mickie Elder, soloist, sang "Into the Night" and "My Lover's a Fisherman." Libby Cowart gave a reading, "The Waltz."

THE MIXING BOWL...

IT'S Fun TO COOK!

PANCAKE TIME

Pancake time is almost here again—Shrove Tuesday isn't far away... February 22nd, to be exact.

Pancakes are more than a breakfast dish... they are versatile and can be... for pancakes and waffles go to lunch, dinner and snack time, too!

It's fun to vary pancakes with different kinds of toppings, or by holding in various extra ingredients, such as fruit or fine cut bacon or other meats.

Buttermilk in pancakes makes them light and tender. Add fresh buttermilk to a pancake mix that does not have it as an ingredient.

BUTTERMILK PANCAKES
1-2 teaspoon soda
2 cups pancake mix
2 1/4 cups buttermilk
1 egg

2 tablespoons melted butter
Dissolve soda in buttermilk, add with unbeaten egg and butter to pancake mix, stirring lightly.

Do not worry about small lumps, they belong. Bake on medium hot, lightly-greased griddle, turning only once.

Try adding 1-4 cup more buttermilk and 1-2 cup cream style cottage cheese. It's simply amazing how cottage cheese gives extra lightness to pancakes.

Real butter whipped to a fluff is a favorite that's bound to please. Because of its lightness, whipped butter melts quickly on pancakes and doesn't allow them to become cold. You'll find a dish of whipped butter looks appealingly tempting. Here's a recipe for making it, which will yield 1 1/2 cups:

WHIPPED BUTTER
1 cup butter (at room temperature)
1-4 teaspoon plain gelatin
1 teaspoon cold water

Soak gelatin in cold water, then dissolve over hot water. Cool slightly, add to whipped butter (whip butter in electric mixer until fluffy—7 to 10 minutes).

Maple whipped butter is a tasty variation you'll want to try. Use the whipped butter recipe. While the butter is being whipped, slowly drizzle 1 1/4 cups pure maple syrup into it.

Another easy topping is made by adding butter to maple syrup and heating until the butter is melted. Serve the combination in a pitcher. It's a good idea to make up only as much as will be used at one time.

The syrup and butter don't necessarily have to be combined; they may be served in separate pitchers. The point is to serve them both warm.

Honey butter is another delicious topping. To make it, mix one cup warmed honey with 1-3 cup melted butter.

Honey and maple syrup may be combined in a topping like this: mix together one cup of strained honey, one-half cup maple syrup, and four tablespoons butter. Heat in a double boiler. Add one teaspoon cinnamon. This makes a flavorful combination with an exciting spicy touch.

FRUITED PANCAKES

Fruited pancakes are something different that it's fun to serve occasionally. Use the basic buttermilk pancake recipe I gave you. Fold into the batter one-half cup fruit, such as well-drained blueberries, fresh or frozen, drained crushed pineapple, chopped apples, or thinly sliced bananas.

Or the fruit — a heaping teaspoon of it — may be sprinkled on each pancake right after the batter is poured on the griddle.

In small size, fruited pancakes are an enjoyable dessert. When you're making them for dessert, add one or two tablespoons of sugar and the same amount of melted butter to the batter.

Waffles also are a pleasing change for dessert. I want to give you my recipe for buttermilk waffles before talking more on the subject of waffles.

For buttermilk pancakes, this waffle recipe calls for a pancake mix that does not contain buttermilk because you use fresh buttermilk in the batter.

Buttermilk waffles are surprisingly easy and quick to prepare. You can mix up the batter while the waffle iron is heating, because all that is required is the combining of five ingredients. It's not necessary to separate the eggs and fold the whites in separately as normally has to be done in making waffles.

Here's the recipe. It makes four servings of buttermilk waffles.

BUTTERMILK WAFFLES
1-4 teaspoon soda
1 3/4 cups buttermilk
1 3/4 cups pancake mix
1 egg

1-4 cup melted butter
Dissolve soda in buttermilk. Place with remaining ingredients in bowl. Beat with rotary egg beater until fairly smooth. Bake on hot waffle iron until steaming stops.

For dessert type waffles, use this buttermilk waffle recipe, but add one or two tablespoons sugar for more sweetness. Then spread tart currant jelly or fresh fruit over each waffle and crown with a special cottage cheese topping. I'll give you the recipe for the topping, which is a wonderful blend quilt around cottage cheese and whipped cream.

No doubt you'll be using this topping on other desserts, once you find out how delicious it is on buttermilk waffles. Here's the recipe. It makes about 2 cups.

COTTAGE CHEESE TOPPING
12-oz. carton cream style cottage cheese
1 cup whipping cream
1 egg white
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Whip cottage cheese with rotary or electric beater until it is smooth. Fold in stiffly whipped cream, beaten egg white, salt, sugar and vanilla.

DESIGNS FOR SPRING—

● Even though Jacques Path, famous Parisian designer, passed on last November, he is remembered in his Spring collection for an American firm — the New York house of Schindler-Lux. In his designing of stunning coats and suits with the real American flare. He visited this country several times a year, traveling across the nation and studying the fashion markets and learning just what the American woman preferred. He was a young man who adored America, and so it is appropriate enough that American women will have the benefit of his last personal creative gesture. (His beautiful wife Genevieve is now president of the couture establishment and will carry on in the Path tradition. She was formerly his top model.)

LAST CREATIVE SPURGE—

Executed by the corps of dressmakers whom he imbued with his gay point of view and his original techniques of sinuous cut and intricate drapery, the collection was sketched, supervised and finally approved by Jacques Path only ten days before his death; then the original models brought to America by Harry Lupia to be reproduced and distributed with the Jacques Path label. Path himself also named the collection theme the Anemone Line for the lovely wide-petaled flower with its warm colors and its false simplicity, to quote the Path resume. On a gently fitted body line is imposed a huge flower-curling collar and often a low flare at the hem. Hipline bands, buckled or belted, suggest the serious banded stem of the anemone. For coats and suits alike there is a "forward look," as of a flower bending under a gentle breeze. Beginning with the collars that are swept forward — sometimes draped and folded, sometimes over-lapped or crushed like petals, the whole body takes the movement and inclines prettily as soon as the hands are slipped into the pockets which open far back at the side seams.

SUIT JACKETS LONG—

● The suit-jackets are long, curved and supple around the body, and the sleeves, just spare enough to be crushed toward the elbow, are set into high armholes. For the tailors the collars, petalled or pointed wide, are usually rimmed or tabbed with white pique in ingenious detachable ways that completely change the appearance. An inner frame of white pique that throws a pale reflection of light on the throat and face appears frequently, even on the most formal afternoon suits with their voluminous anemone collars folded widely over the bosom. A newly shaped jacket is shown for a suit of grey and black tweed. In silhouette, this one is narrower at the hip than shoulders and the front is slightly hollowed away below the bosom.

tary or electric beater until it is smooth. Fold in stiffly whipped cream, beaten egg white, salt, sugar and vanilla.

Bye, now...

Another box-jacket suit, in anemone white worsted poplin, in effect drops the waist with a fabric strip circling the back. The front is straight and smartly tailored from very long and narrow notched revers.

FAVORITE SKIRT—

● Jacques Path's favorite skirt was his new walking skirt, which he designed especially for this collection. It will give American women the slimmest as well as the free movement they like in their clothes. Basically, it is a slim over-skirt part way up the front over an underpanel mounted on a crepe slip.

ET CETERA—

● Navy with black is introduced as Path's new Spring color duet. Path has a great feeling for American woollens which is shown in his use of wonderfully silky-haired lightweight French fleeces for coats in sky grey, aqua, and anemone pink. Fullness that falls close is the keynote of Path's coats... as Path expressed it, "The cloaks are slightly wide with necks always voluminous"... pockets are a point of interest and are frequently superimposed low over the hips of full coats with wide bands or straps curving to the back containing the fullness in deep side folds.

pleated patch pockets are shown on short-sleeved shorter coats that vary from knee-length to hip-length... an evening coat-dress of black silk barette has two part bows gayly perched at the neckline and the butterfly bow collar wings forward at the top of a full-skirted "coat-dress" designed for evening in an all black silk plaid glistened with jet cello-phone. Path was a brilliant designer touched with the spark of genius seldom found in designing. The couture groups, as well as the women all over the world, will miss his great inspiration.

Coffee Off 40c Since August

A&P Food Stores, the nation's largest coffee distributor, last week cut coffee prices up to 12 cents a pound on all four of its own brands. Coincidentally Colonial Stores likewise made the same deep cuts in their private label brands.

The price slashes, which went into effect all over the country, brought premium quality coffee prices to the lowest levels in almost two years, and represented reductions of as much as 40 cents a pound from the highs of August, 1954, an A&P official said.

The drastic reductions, first to be announced by a national distributor of premium coffees since the recent break in the South American green coffee market, brought Eight O'Clock coffee to 79 cents a pound, Red Circle to 83 cents and Bokar to 85 cents. Prices of the three-pound bags will be 2 cents a pound lower.

In addition, A&P vacuum packed coffee was reduced to a national low of 80 cents a pound.

AFPH Parley Is Set For August

Paul A. Strachan, national president, and Mildred Scott, national secretary-treasurer of the American Federation of the Physically Handicapped, have issued the official convention call for the 7th National Convention of AFPH, to be held in Johnstown, Pa., with headquarters there at the Fort Shaw Hotel, beginning Sunday, August 28, and continuing through Wednesday, August 31, 1955.

The American Federation of the Physically Handicapped, chartered as a non-profit, educational, benefit organization for nearly 15 years, is a national organization with headquarters at 1370 National Press Building, Washington 4, D. C., devoted to developing programs beneficial to the 38,000,000 handicapped men and women in America. AFPH has members in all states, and lodges in several states, and is now conducting a national membership campaign.

AFPH has a long list of achievements to its credit, but is best known for establishing "National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week," set aside by Congress as the first full week in October of each year as a period in which to arouse and enlist public support for employment of the handicapped. Thus far, with the "week" as spear-head, some three million handicapped have been employed as a result of the program.

GARDEN GUIDE

By J. WILTON ANDERSON

CAMELLIAS

Camellias are broadleaf evergreen trees and shrubs native to Asia and first introduced into the United States in 1797. Many of the original varieties are still used in modern plantings.

Camellias are widely grown from Norfolk to Florida and along the Gulf Coast in addition to their use on the Pacific Coast as far north as Seattle. The flowers are large, waxy, brilliantly colored, in singles, semi-doubles, and doubles ranging in color from pure whites to pinks and reds with speckled and variegated forms of these colors. Even when the flowers are not evident camellias make a good broadleaf evergreen shrub.

Camellia japonica is the most important in the group and surpasses all other species combined in number and variety of flowers. The plants normally bloom during the latter part of the winter or early spring. It is interesting to note that under favorable conditions the plants may attain a height of 40 feet.

The second largest species of camellia grown in this country is the sasanqua group. Their habit of flowering in the fall of the year, blooming white young with an abundance of blossoms, and their evergreen foliage place them among the best shrubs for garden use. One distinguishing characteristic of the sasanqua group is that the flowers are all scented.

Reticulata is a lesser known species than the two mentioned above. It does not have the typical glossy green leaves. However this disadvantage is overcome by the generous size of the flowers some of which reach seven inches in diameter! The flowers in appearance look more like a semi-double peony than a camellia.

Camellias prefer an acid type soil with a pH range of less than 6.5. They are normally slow growing plants. One will do well in peat, sand, or vermiculite.

Grafting is best carried on toward the late winter or early spring. Stocks may be either seedlings or rooted cuttings.

MOST DELICIOUS MEALS at COLONY RESTAURANT

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Long, of Petersburg, R. I., recently enjoyed a meal at Virginia Beach's Colony Restaurant in the Jefferson Hotel Building. Here is what they had to say:

"One of the most delicious meals we have ever eaten, anywhere. The Colony is certainly a credit and an asset to Virginia Beach. We expect to come back this way and will surely include a visit to the Colony in our plans." The Colony is famous all over the United States and this testimonial from Mr. and Mrs. Long is typical of its patrons. —adv.

FASHION FLOORS

The 5th wall can be a decorative asset, pleasant underfoot, and easy to maintain.

Is your floor a decorative asset to the room or is it just an inconspicuous base for your furniture? Johnson Tile & Linoleum Co. can help you make your "5th Wall" the most attractive and useful part of your home.

Today the floor has become so important, decoration-wise that many leading decorators are making it the key to the plan of the room. This may be done either with the floor itself or with the rug used on it.

New materials offer interesting possibilities, both as to color and design. Vinyl and rubber tiles can be installed by the homeowner. They take hard wear, making household maintenance simpler. Another reason for the popularity of such floorings is that they may be used in either traditional or contemporary rooms with equal success.

Rubber tile, along with extra-thick vinyl, represents a luxurious long-term investment. Colors of both are rich and bright; surfaces have a polished sheen. Quiet and cushioned underfoot, rubber comes in solid colors or marbleized designs and requires careful waxing. Vinyl appears in interesting terrazzo crystal patterns or dignified marbles.

You can now buy rubber tiles in colors specially selected for use in your home. Congoleum-Nairn's new Gold Seal Rubber Tile is the first chemically formulated for household installation and with striations scaled for smaller rooms. Soft underfoot and long-lasting, it comes in twenty colors from which you can make your own floor designs.

Plastic tile results in an attractive floor that means rugged durability and easy maintenance as well. Congoleum-Nairn's Gold Seal Vinyl Tile comes in soft, clear tones not previously available. These muted tones are well-suited to contemporary rooms.

"Bermuda Blues" VinylTile provides a casual background for this contemporary television room. The floor is turquoise and seashell white. Followed flooring, pre-finished and pre-assembled, which may be laid in large sections with a mastic, is used for this flooring. Vinyl plastic has outstanding durability and ease of upkeep. Perfect for kitchens, its non-porous surface sheds soil and doesn't stain with grease, vegetable acids, or cleansing alkalis. Plastic tiles without backing are expensive. Those with a felt backing cost a little more than inlaid linoleum. The alone is suitable for home installation projects; yard goods and complex arrangements are best left to the experts.

Rubber tile provides good color and design combinations — colors are bright and clear. Scuffing and dullness can be prevented by waxing. Decorators almost universally agree that the application of a good wax, preferably paste for the first time, also adds to the beauty of vinyl tile and softens the somewhat hard gloss.

Small area rugs are often used to complete a furniture group. The exposed floor, if well polished, then becomes an even more important decorative asset for the room.

February is a "settling down" kind of month . . . that doesn't expect you to make a fuss over it as the past three have. With no holidays to interrupt your personal schedule, it could well be profitable stay-at-home month.

It's a good month for making those long-range plans . . . to think about building or improving your present home, as well as a good time to undertake a project like installing new tile flooring or wall panels.

A visit to the Johnson showrooms located in their own building at 2800 Cromwell Road, at Argonne Ave., will furnish you with many ideas and helpful suggestions on making improvements. You are invited to pay a visit or if not convenient, to call MA 2-9629 and ask for information or have a representative inspect your premises and help you solve your needs.

BOND SALES IN STATE BEST SINCE WAR

Series E and H savings bonds sales in Virginia for the month of January totaled $8,082,004.69, exclusive of military credits. This is an increase of 45 per cent over the same month of 1952.

Sales of H bonds improve each month as the public becomes more aware of the advantages of this "income" bond. Sales rose 98 per cent this year over January, 1952.

Norfolk Shrine To Be Host At Ball Honoring Illustrious Potentate

J. Roy Rodman

Khedive Temple Shrine, Norfolk, will be host at a ball given in honor of Illustrious Potentate J. Roy Rodman on Friday, February 18, in the Mosque, Freemason and Duke Streets.

The Potentate, his family, his Divan, their families, past Potentates, and visiting heads of other temples will be presented to the nobility. A review of the uniform units will add much color to an occasion which is at the top of a list of many social gatherings of importance for Shriner's this year.

Noble Al Stone, chairman of the committee on arrangements, has scheduled a concert by the Khedive Temple band to precede the introduction of distinguished visitors by Past Potentate Herman S. Nowitzky, master of ceremonies. The remainder of the evening will be devoted to dancing to the music of Jack O'Neill's orchestra.

New York Giants Go By Capital

The New York Giants have just signed a contract with Capital Airlines to fly to all their league games, excluding Chicago-Milwaukee and Philadelphia-New York, during the 1953 season. The 34 trips will be flown on chartered DC-4 and Constellation aircraft. The Giants flew to the majority of games during 1952, including the series in Cleveland where they defeated the Indians in two in a row and flew back to New York and their victory dinner at the Biltmore Hotel that night.

Horace Stoneham, in choosing air travel, stated the players find it more convenient and less fatiguing. The entire team, together with all their equipment, travels together in one aircraft. After each game, the airplane awaits their arrival at the airport to whisk them to the next city.

The convenience of air travel is especially appreciated by the team on the homeward leg of the western swing, as they are always back in New York a few hours after the final pitch in a distant town.

Suggestion Box Sprouts Dollars

The suggestion box at the Ford Division's Norfolk plant was loaded with nearly $10,000 for plant employees during 1952.

G. L. Lemoine, plant manager, announces that 200 employees received a total of $9,544.41 for ideas which were accepted during the past year. The average award paid was $47.77.

The Norfolk figure was part of a record $749,421 collected by employees of the Ford plants throughout the nation last year for their helpful suggestions.

Leading award winner at the Norfolk plant was Elbert A. Bradberry, of Princess Anne, a chassis department employee. Mr. Bradberry received $150.00 during the year, and earned one award of $1,500, the highest ever paid locally.

Highest number of awards in one month went to Norman E. Vandever, of 705 Laurel Avenue, Norfolk. He had four suggestions accepted in November and collected $218.87.

Award payments are based on calculations of how much money their acceptance will reduce production costs locally or throughout the Ford plant system.

Representatives From Virginia To Attend Parley

Virginia would be allotted 20 representatives to the White House Conference on Education this year under the tentative plan announced by President Eisenhower's conference committee.

The state's quota, based on population, was disclosed when the committee for the White House conference published its "working plan" for the nation's first concerted study on educational requirements. The committee head is Neil H. McElroy of Cincinnati, president of the Proctor and Gamble Company.

More than 2,000 persons would take part in the White House conference November 28 through December 1 under the committee's tentative plans. Some 70 per cent of these would be selected by officials of the state and territorial conferences being held this year in conjunction with the White House conference. Others would be representatives of national organizations taking part in the conference program, members of Congress, foreign observers, and others named by the committee.

The state and White House conference program has been characterized by President Eisenhower as potentially the largest study of education ever made. It calls for meetings of lay citizens and educators in each state and territory their educational problems. Funds to discuss possible solutions to for defraying costs of state conferences were appropriated by the Congress last year in response to the President's request.

POCAHONTAS STRAWBERRY PLANTS
Available for Immediate Shipment

A new variety, particularly adapted for this region. Tested and developed by the Virginia Truck Experiment Station, Norfolk, and U.S.D.A., Beltsville, as US-3745. Ripens about a week later than Blakemore. In replicated plantings at Beltsville, Md., its yield averaged at the rate of 474 crates per acre during 1951 and 1952—a much heavier yielder than Blakemore. Berries maintain large size throughout the picking season, with a strong vivid red color—deeper red than Blakemore. They are glossy, have a tough skin, equally as firm, as Blakemore; the flavor is tart and good.

Attractively priced at $1.35 per 25; $2.25 per 50; $3.60 per 100; $7.20 per 250; $11.25 per 500; $18.00 per 1000; $85.00 per 5000—f.o.b. Selbyville, for shipment whenever desired between now and May 1st, 1955.

We guarantee the plants to arrive in good, fresh condition for planting. You can be assured of satisfaction when planting BUNTINGS' superior nursery-grown Pocahontas Strawberry plants. Order today.

Drawbacks In Chick Financing

Financing of broiler growers by dealers and hatcherymen has been a major factor in the development and growth of the broiler industry in Virginia, but it has its drawbacks, according to John T. Buck, associate agricultural economist, who recently concluded a study at the Virginia Experiment Station.

Buck points out that broiler production in Virginia has more than doubled in the last ten years—with nearly 59 million broilers produced in the state in 1953. Several arrangements for financing are offered by feed dealers in the different commercial areas. In many cases, financing has been extended to high-cost, inefficient growers because of the intense competition among feed dealers for volume of sales.

Since the poorest growers and the best growers receive the same share of the proceeds, better growers are penalized because of the inefficiency of the high cost growers. The efficient dealers are also penalized.

Chinese Student Studies In Va.

A young student of free China, Sung Yen Peng, registered recently as a graduate student at the College of William and Mary. Mr. Peng has elected to study under the guidance of Dr. J. D. Andrews of the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory at Gloucester Point. News of Dr. Andrews' outstanding work in oyster research has reached half way around the world to Formosa, the stronghold of Nationalist China. Traveling by air from Formosa to Japan, by ship from Japan to Vancouver, Canada, and by bus from Vancouver to Gloucester, the young man arrived at the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory during the first week of February.

This was the beginning of a new life for Peng. More than a year ago he began corresponding with Dr. Andrews at the laboratory and had originally planned to begin his studies in Virginia in September of last year.

Not until the end of July did he complete his military training in the Nationalist army in Formosa, and he was unable to finish all passport, visa and other related formalities in time to start his studies in September.

But Peng did not give up the idea of studying in America. Although obstacles arose in securing his visa, the Chinese Institute in America and officials of the U. S. State Department finally removed all difficulties.

Peng graduated from the National Taiwan University in Formosa in 1953. He received his BS degree in zoology with high honors and submitted a thesis on "Oyster Culture at Taiwan."

Swiftly Gets Slowed Down

Swiftly Fisher has a short temper and really hit the roof when he got a parking ticket last week. He wasn't near a hydrant or too far from the curb. There was a big sign saying "ONE HOUR PARKING" and he'd only been gone twenty minutes.

Running to Traffic Court, where Hack Miller was on duty, Swiftly bellowed how he hadn't done anything wrong...how he is the most law-abiding driver in town.

But Hack examined the ticket, and smiled. "Slow down, friend," he said. "You're not guilty—except of making a big fuss over nothing. This ticket came from some kid's policeman play outfit!"

From where I sit, jumping to conclusions can make anyone appear silly. Another way to look foolish is to make a quick decision on a question of personal preference. For instance, I like a glass of beer occasionally. You may be a buttermilk man. But neither of us ought to "lay down the law" about the other's choice.

AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT SEEKING TWIN CALVES

Identical twin beef calves are again being sought by researchers at the U. S. Department of Agriculture's research center at Beltsville, Md.

The calves are wanted for a new series of feeding experiments to begin at the Center this spring. They must be less than 5 months old, and available within 200 miles of Washington, D. C. The USDA will buy twin calves on an offer-and-acceptance basis, depending on their suitability and the price asked by the owner.

Now Good Time To Rout Garlic.

Late winter is a good time to kill wild garlic or wild onions with 2,4-D sprays, says John M. Amos, weed specialist at VPI. Regardless of where the weed is growing, any spray control program should be undertaken before new bulbets begin to form in the soil. Bulbets start forming in late March or early April. The temperature when spraying should be 60°F. or above for best results.

In most cases where the garlic is growing in lawns or grass pastures, 2,4-D ester at 2 to 2 1/2 pounds acid equivalent per acre will give good results. Lower dosages and certain precautions must be taken when 2,4-D is applied to clover-grass pastures.

A leaflet on the control of wild garlic in different situations and crops is available from county agents or from the VPI Agricultural Extension Service, Blacksburg.

New GI's Receive Smaller Benefits

Persons entering the armed forces for the first time since February 1, 1945, are peacetime veterans when they leave the service and, as such, are entitled only to peacetime benefits. Veterans Administration officials report.

Peacetime veterans, under present laws, will not be eligible for any of the benefits provided by the Korean GI Bill, nor for any wartime service benefits payable to veterans of the Korean conflict period.

Peacetime veterans may be entitled, under certain conditions, to medical and dental care, disability compensation, aid for the blind, "wheel chair" homes, servicemen's indemnity, guaranty of commercial life insurance premiums, burial expenses, burial flag, guardianship service and appeals. Their dependents may be entitled to death compensation, where the veterans die of service-connected causes.

Chevrolet's new High-Level ventilation system gives you cleaner, fresher air, and all you want of it.

Air enters here at hood-high level—away from road heat, fumes and dust!

Only Chevrolet and higher-priced cars give you a ventilation system like this! A special chamber under the ventilation louvers keeps rain out of the car and supplies you with a more even flow of air. And it also acts as a filter, making the car stronger. This is just one of the exciting discoveries you'll make when you drive the Motoramic Chevrolet! Come in and see.

Ideas for the Modern Homemaker

By Mrs. Elizabeth D. Deal
County Home Agent

WARM START—

Most people know that a cold motor starts hard. But not everyone knows that this slow difficult start may be a strain on the motor or cause wear on the mechanism.

Good cold weather care of any motor-driven household appliance calls for keeping the appliance where the temperature is not too low, or bringing it into a warm place to take the chill off the grease or oil before using. For the sake of the motor, the home freezer or refrigerator should not be placed where the temperature may go below 40 degrees F., unless it is especially equipped to operate at low temperatures. If the washing machine is kept on the back porch, it should be brought into a warm room a few hours before using.

Vacuum cleaners, sewing machines, electric mixers or any other motor-driven appliances, large or small, deserve a warm-up before using. If they are kept in a cold place, the lubricant—whether grease or oil—should be warmed enough to do its job before the motor is started.

ANNUAL SPRAY FOR RUGS—

Whether wool rugs or carpets get heavy or light wear, they will be safe from damage by carpet beetles or clothes moths for a year to 18 months if adequately treated with DDT spray, recent tests by entomologists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture show. Until these tests were made it was questioned as to how long DDT, because of its crystalline form, would hold on rugs under heavy wear. The invisible protective DDT residue, left after spraying, is in the form of tiny crystals. Would foot traffic and cleaning break off these crystals so that DDT protection would not last long? Another question was how long DDT spraying would protect rugs under furniture, in places they get little wear and cleaning and where insects are undisturbed and thus often do severe damage.

To learn the answers a medium-weight rug was treated uniformly with 5 per cent DDT oil spray at the rate of 1 1/2 quarts per 9 by 12 feet. The rug was placed in a busy office where one part was under heavy walking traffic and was vacuum-cleaned weekly, and the other part was under a large desk where it had little or no wear or cleaning. At intervals samples of both parts were given two kinds of tests. They were offered to the larvae of carpet beetles, the insects that do the most rug damage, and they were analyzed chemically to find out how much DDT remained. After 18 months the part exposed to heavy wear and frequent cleaning had lost considerable DDT, but enough remained to prevent all but very slight insect injury. The part that had little wear still held 50 per cent of the DDT so was well protected against damage.

The entomologists advise spraying rugs once a year for full protection. The amount of spray depends on the size and thickness of the rug, but the general rule is: Use 1 1/2 to 2 quarts of 5 per cent DDT oil spray for both sides of a 9 by 12 foot medium-weight rug. Clean the rug before spraying. Give special attention to spraying parts that will be under heavy furniture and to edges of wall-to-wall carpeting. Commercial rug cleaners or pest control operators offer moth-proofing services.

LINEN QUESTIONS—

This is the time of year when many homemakers inventory their household linens and then take advantage of seasonal white sales to replenish their supply. This brings a perennial question: Whether to buy heavy muslin sheets and pillowcases or the softer, smoother percales and finer muslins. Though most January sales are over, clip this and save when you buy sheets.

Both types of sheets have advantages, and the wise choice depends on the qualities that meet the special needs of the household, textile specialists say. Heavy muslin sheets of the 140 type are buys for durability. They are suited to sturdy wear such as the rough and tumble of children's beds, for example. Because the fabric is heavy, the sheets tend to wrinkle less in use than finer, softer sheets. But their weight may add to laundering cost if they are sent to laundries that charge by the pound.

In contrast, the so-called luxury sheets—percales of 200 type or finer muslins of 180 type—are the buys for smoothness and softness, but they can't take much hard wear as heavy muslins.

Whether to invest in new types of sheets, such as the popular fitted sheets, is another question often asked. Many homemakers find that a small purchase as a try-it is a good idea. Fitted sheets may save ironing and give greater comfort because their close fit makes them wrinkle less. But how well they fit the mattress on which they will be used is important. If the mattress is too thick, it may be hard to pull them on and that extra pull may cause extra wear—and even tear.

New Jersey Extension specialists recently suggested to white-male shoppers that they read the ads first, then read the labels and prices at stores, and compare offerings.

WATER FOR HOUSE PLANTS—

Watering house plants with rain water is suggested to homemakers, if there is sodium in the household water system from water softeners. Many commercial florists' establishments have cisterns for catching rain water to use in watering their stock. The U. S. Department of Agriculture says. In this way florists make sure that no substances that might injure plants will accumulate in the soil from tap water.

Water softening systems that make all washing jobs easier may be hard on house plants. New York State floriculturists recently explained that household water softeners often remove the calcium from water by replacing it with sodium. While sodium is good for stopping hard soap curd in washing and is necessary for human nutrition, it is poisonous to plants. As soil is watered, the plants take up the water and leave the sodium. Before long, enough sodium may accumulate to kill the plants. This may happen in a few days with potted plants. Calcium found in hard water before the softening process rarely hurts plants, regardless of its concentration.

To avoid this trouble with your house plants, the New York State scientists suggest using rain water, as many florists do, or changing the plumbing so that outside taps, or perhaps one basement tap, draw water straight from the well or main without going through the softener.

EASE IN SEPARATING

Separating colored and white clothes takes no extra time if you have a plywood divider for your laundry hamper.

HANDY PINCUSHION

Wrapped around the head of your sewing machine and stitched in place, a piece of heavy flannel provides a handy pincushion.

Notes from YOUR COUNTY AGENT

By JOHN O. HART
County Agricultural Agent

Spring Seeding Time Just Around the Corner—

Spring seeding time is just around the corner for pasture and forage crops—and it's a wise farmer who will take a few well-chosen questions beforehand.

You should be planning what mixtures are needed to round out a forage and pasture plan, where the mixtures should be seeded, and what should be done before the actual seeding to help make the new stand a productive one.

Do I have enough grazing for my animals? Are my permanent pastures adequate for my livestock? Do some areas of permanent pasture need re-seeding because of drought damage? Are my tall-growing pastures arranged so they can be grazed rotationally? What will there be to graze when permanent pasture goes into its mid-summer "dormant"?

Can I provide earlier spring grazing or later fall grazing than I do now? Am I growing enough winter forage—either hay or silage—for the livestock I feed over winter? What provisions have I made for drought insurance? Is my soil suited to the mixtures I am using or expect to seed? What about soil fertility—am I maintaining it by proper liming and fertilization?

These are important factors. In developing a year-round pasture and forage system that will furnish high quality grazing from early spring to late fall, and at the same time provide hay and silage for winter feeding and some reserve feed for drought emergencies.

An efficient forage system uses several mixtures which supplement each other to furnish grazing more uniformly throughout the season. For example, a bluegrass and white clover pasture may give enough grazing during the spring months, with ladino clover and orchard grass following to strengthen the grazing program in the summer. The first cutting of the ladino—orchard grass pasture could be used for silage or hay.

Perhaps a ladino—tall fescue mixture, on either a damp soil or a shallow or droughty soil, will be more workable on your farm. Winter pasture mixtures, and sweet sudan grass for summer grazing and for added drought insurance in the summer, should also be considered.

A mixture of alfalfa and orchard grass also will give some drought insurance. This mixture is used mainly for hay and silage. However, if you need grazing and have more than is needed for hay or silage, you can skip one cutting but graze the alfalfa rapidly—then give it enough time to recover.

Sawdust Mixtures

Sawdust mulch, generally speaking, has had beneficial results when used on vegetable crops at VPI Agricultural Experiment Station.

Horticulturists at the station say there has been an increased yield of certain vegetables (cucumbers, tomatoes, snap beans, and lettuce), a saving of soil moisture, and fewer soil temperature fluctuations, where sawdust mulches were used. The sawdust has caused no appreciable change in soil pH, or in the relative amounts of calcium, magnesium, phosphorus, and potash present in the soil.

Incorporation of sawdust into the soil may result in a nitrate deficiency. However, the deficiency can be corrected by using fertilizers containing nitrogen.

In the test, which was started in 1952, a one-inch layer of sawdust is applied as a soil cover each spring, and is turned under each fall. Eleven vegetable crops are grown and studied on clean cultivated plots and on sawdust mulched plots.

Order Baby Chicks Early—

Place your order for baby chicks early—and with a reliable hatchery or breeder. It takes from five to seven weeks to grow baby chicks to maturity. Therefore, to insure eggs in August or September, chicks must be hatched in March or early April—the heavy breeds in March and the Leghorn or other light breeds in April.

The two popular types of chicks in Virginia are the special egg breeds, such as Leghorns, and the dual-purpose (both meat and eggs) such as New Hampshire and Plymouth Rock.

Quality in chicks has received considerable attention in Virginia. Quality in chicks refers to the health and breeding traits of the chicks. Rapid feathering, early maturing, production, and to some extent, livability, are inherited characteristics. These factors should be considered when buying chicks.

Most Virginia hatcheries are carrying out a health—and hence—improvement program supervised by the State and U. S. Departments of Agriculture. Such hatcheries are known as "Virginia U. S. Supervised," or "certified." A list of these hatcheries is available here at the County Agent's office.

Beach 1st City to Vote TDC Appropriation

Funds Not Available Until Others
In Tidewater Area Meet Quotas

Virginia Beach became the first Tidewater city to vote its appropriation for the newly formed Tidewater Development Council when the city council voted $800.00 to the group which is designed to attract business to the area.

The city council voted the appropriation, but with the stipulation that the funds would be made available only if the Cities of Norfolk and Portsmouth voted their share of the necessary funds.

In other actions the council voted to raise the fee for the Police Court $2 each for cases involving violations of city ordinances. Proceeds would be applied to the police and firemen retirement funds.

Beginning March 1 and ending June 30, the firemen and policemen will have 5 per cent of their salaries deducted, while the city will contribute an amount equal to three per cent.

Council voted to delay for 90 days an application to operate a taxi in the Negro section by Donald Sanderlin. It was agreed that the present taxi operator in the city be requested to operate a stand in the area and if, after a review of Sanderlin's application would be in order.

Mayor Frank A. Dusch appointed a four-man committee to study long-range plans for recreation at the Virginia Beach High School. Named to this committee were Councilman D. Tarrall, Jr., Charles S. Elder, city engineer, James A. Johnson, Jr., school principal, and E. B. Bayne, fire chief.

A letter to the council from the Linkhorn Park Garden club complaining of plaques in the area creating a nuisance was referred to City Attorney Roy Smith, who was asked to determine what other cities, with a similar problem have done to solve it.

SCA Endorses HS Honor Club

On Tuesday, February 15th, the Student Council Association presented the assembly program to the student body in the high school auditorium. The main purpose of this program was to present the Honor Club to the school.

The meetings were called to order by President Myrtle Woodward after which the devotional services were rendered by Ted Wool. We then had the salute to the Flag. At this time the High School Chorus, under the direction of Mr. J. William Miller, presented Madame Jeannette along with the Lord Bless You and Keep You.

When the business session started the President brought before the student body, the delegates names that are proposed to attend the State S. C. A. Convention. (Continued on Page Seven)

Lutheran Church Will Hold Organizational Services Sunday Afternoon; 100 Members Will Be Received

PASTOR

REV. JOHN DAVID KEISTER

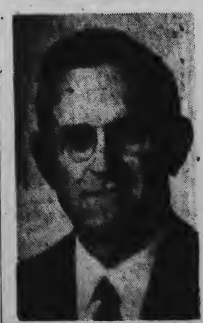

Approximately 100 adults will be received into the membership of the new Lutheran Church of Virginia Beach when it is formally organized at a service to be held Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, in the Community House. It was announced this week.

At this organizational service, the Virginia Beach Lutheran Church will be constituted as a member body of the United Lutheran Church in America, the largest Lutheran group in the United States, with a membership of over two million.

Dr. Luther W. Strickler, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, Norfolk, and chairman of the Home Missions Committee of the Virginia Synod, will deliver the sermon. Dr. Strickler is a well-known preacher in this area and is prominent in the activities of the church at large.

CHECK BOOSTS DIMES FUND

William J. Watson, left, chairman of the Negro division of the Princess Anne March of Dimes drive, is shown presenting a check for $1,415.45 to E. Ashley Haycox, the drive's general chairman. The record contribution from the Negro division has swelled the drive's grand total to $27,761.44 and with a basketball doubleheader scheduled for Friday night and boxing bouts at Ocean set for Saturday night, officials are confident of topping the goal of $30,000.

Negro Division Raises $1,415 In Polio Drive

The Negro Division of the March of Dimes Committee of Princess Anne County, headed by William J. Watson, Chairman, has turned over to E. Ashley Haycox, Mrs. J. D. W. Cassada, treasurer of the local chapter now reports a grand total to date of $27,761.44.

In releasing this figure, Mrs. Cassada reports that the swelling of the total since her last report is largely due to the collections turned in to the chapter from county schools: Smith Corner Elementary $23.84, Creeds $13.00, Black Water School $32.26, Pleasant Ridge School $9.00, Seaboard Elementary $112.10, Princess Anne County Training School $825.00.

Watson stated that of the $1,415.45, the following came from county schools: Smith Corner Elementary $23.84, Creeds $13.00, Black Water School $32.26, Pleasant Ridge School $9.00, Seaboard Elementary $112.10, Princess Anne County Training School $825.00.

Watson placed emphasis on his desire to thank the following persons and business organizations for their untiring efforts to make the drive a success: Whitehurst's Market, Pullers Lunch, Gallup's Store, Miles Grill, Hawkins Inn, Nick's Barber Shop, Donald's Barber Shop, The Sands Club, Nelson's Quick Lunch, Little Blue Boy's Domestic Service, Sal's Beauty Shop, Liver's Diner, James Williams Club, Sparrow's Grocery, Ellie Drive Inn, Cooke's Cafe, Town Club and Barnes Restaurant.

A resolution adopted by the Negro Division, thanking their committee, reads in part as follows: "We, the members of the committee wish to salute the following persons for their support: Mrs. Mildred Marner, Mrs. L. Williams, Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson, Mrs. Ellis Williams, Mrs. Velma Haynes, Mrs. Sarah Cason and son, Mrs. Melissa Reid, Rev. Williams, Mrs. Richetta Greene, Mr. Williams Russell, Mr. Gilchrist, Mr. Harris, Bobby Robinson and his Orchestra."

Youth Week Observed Here By Fellowships

An interesting Youth Week program was given by several of the local church fellowships last Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church.

A most interesting talk on the purposes and ideals of Youth Week was given by Bill Costenbader. Scripture was read by Miss Connie Musick and the invocation was by Miss Diane McCombs.

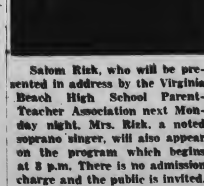

The principal address was given by Chaplain J. C. Miller of Fort Story, who gave a most interesting and inspirational talk on "Fellowship in Christ." Chaplain Miller also told of his many enjoyable trips he had made to different countries of the world.

The offering was received by Keith Porter, George Oullette, Henry Billey and Nicky Neims, after which a most impressive candlelight service was held, led by Donald Hartley.

Also participating in the program were Richard Cook of the Lutheran Church; Donald Batchelor, Presbyterian Church; Miss Greta Godwin, Methodist Church; Miss Ruth Beebe, Baptist Church; and Miss Becky Edwards, Episcopal Church.

The affair was attended by a large number of representatives from all the Youth Fellowships of the city.

Seahawks Take Nip-Tuck Game From Truckers

Previously Undeatable
Churchland Bows, 60-56

In a fine display of teamwork and determination, the Virginia Beach Seahawks upset the highly favored undeatable Churchland Truckers, 60 to 56, in a rousing basketball game played Tuesday night in the Virginia Beach High School gymnasium.

Coach Fred Isaacs' basketballers played the here-to-fore unbeaten Churchland lads to a standstill throughout most of the game, then pulled away to a comfortable margin with less than one minute to play. Churchland led at halftime by a 32 to 30 score.

The loss stopped Churchland's regular season record of 56 straight victories over a three-year period. The powerful Truckers had compiled an unbeaten string of 15 wins this season before being halted by the Seahawks.

The big scoring man of the Virginia Beach Club Tuesday night was Brian Zitttrain with 22 points. Horst Flora, who was closely guarded, dropped in 16 markers for the winners. Every member of the victorious Seahawks team tallied, except Ashley Haycox, who saw limited duty relieving James.

Led by Jim Cunningham with 21 points, Churchland held a one-point lead going into the final period, and then the Seahawks began finding the range. With Zitttrain, Flora and Moose hitting the basket the Seahawks moved ahead to stay.

The last defeat for Churchland was in early 1952 when they were beaten by St. Paul's High. of (Continued on Page Five)

Dr. Moreland Speaks Saturday On Brotherhood

Dr. J. E. Moreland, president of Randolph-Macon College, will be the speaker at special ceremonies honoring Brotherhood Week at the Virginia Beach High School Saturday night.

The Saturday night meeting will climax a week of events and special messages in observance of Brotherhood Week in Virginia Beach.

This year was the first year in which a group of citizens representing all religious faiths combined to observe Brotherhood Week.

The meeting has been arranged by the Virginia Beach Chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. Co-chairmen of the chapter are Harold B. Kellam, representing the Protestant faith; Peter Bernabini, the Catholic faith; and Dr. Howard D. Kahn, Jewish faith.

Members of the board of directors of the chapter are Rabbi A. Weissman, Dr. W. G. Bond, Rev. C. S. Lowell, Rev. N. J. Habel, J. D. Hubard, G. J. Tolstoi, J. A. Johnson, Jr., Justus White, Worth Petty, H. I. Jaffee, H. E. Halstead, Peter Scoppa, E. B. Bayne, W. Hampton, Mrs. G. Tibbcock, Mrs. L. R. Watson, Reeve Johnson, Mrs. R. H. Owens, C. Hall Snellings and Mrs. R. B. Tynes.

Birthday Sales Huge Success

The annual Washington Birthday Sale was a whopping success, according to a consensus of Virginia Beach merchants after the excitement and rush of the one day sale subsided.

Crowds of shoppers filled the business district of Virginia Beach early Tuesday morning waiting for the participating merchants to open their doors.

A group of merchants joined together to promote the one day sale after a lapse of two years. The public's response this year assures the future of the sale and it will be staged each year, a spokesman stated.

The public and the merchants were well pleased with the results.

Red Cross Drive Gets Underway March 1st

National Vice-President to Attend
Kick-off Luncheon Here Tomorrow

The 1955 annual Red Cross drive for Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County will officially start on Tuesday, March 1, but a kickoff luncheon for chapter officials and workers is scheduled to be held at the Normandie Restaurant Friday at 1 p. m. It has been announced by a Red Cross representative.

General chairman for this year's drive for funds is L. Floyd Patrick, manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company. The local goal this year has been set at $18,000, the same figure as in 1954. The national goal is $60,000,000.

General Chairman Patrick announced Wednesday that Rosemary S. Eaton, national vice-president of the American Red Cross, will attend the kickoff luncheon and will address the group.

Patrick pointed out that while the campaign for members and funds would not officially begin until March 1 there was much groundwork to be laid prior to that day. It was pointed out that the funds were necessary to carry on the work of the Red Cross and as an illustration of one phase of Red Cross work it was noted that to process one pint of blood in the blood program costs $4.00.

"I cannot see any reason why we will not make our quota," Patrick said. "I feel it is a very small figure for a community the size of ours and if we people could go out and see where and how their Red Cross dollars are converted to that greatest of all commodities — human service — there would be no question of their giving and giving generously in this campaign. It's our job as workers to bring that picture to them as clearly as we possibly can." Patrick stated.

No set time for report meetings has been announced but it is expected that meetings will be called from time to time during the campaign. However, Patrick and other officials are hopeful that the drive will be completed within the first ten days of March.

Area leaders were announced as follows: Business, James G. Kintopanos and Mrs. Joseph Cavell, co-chairmen; Kempville District, Mrs. Herman H. Eller, Lynnhaven District, Mrs. L. S. Hiteshaw; Pungo District, Mrs. George Wadsworth and Mrs. Ernest Land; Seaboard District, Mrs. Richard B. Kellam; Bay Colony area, Mrs. Albin R. Mattheis; Birdneck Point, Mrs. C. F. Meares; Colored Division, Mrs. Walter T. Russell.

With the proper attitude of sharing the road with others these discourteous unsafe practices would disappear, according to Chief Johnson.

"Remember that you seldom are alone on most roads, and remember that others, too, have a right to use these roads," he said.

"For safe driving," adopt as your guide the national slogan of the program, "Make Courtesy Your Code of the Road."

Creed Of Jefferson Being Forced On Castings For "Common Glory"

Thomas Jefferson's outspoken opposition to third terms in office — he repeatedly and forcefully declined to seek the Presidency after serving eight terms in office — has come home to roost in a theatrical way for Williamburg's Jamestown Corporation.

The corporation, producer of Paul Green's historical drama, "The Common Glory," staged annually at Matoeska Lake Amphitheatre at Williamsburg, announced this week with mixed emotions that its record for employing only two-term Jeffersons is unstained. Furthermore, it is in the market for another.

"The Common Glory's" Thomas Jefferson for the past two years in this case Layton Zimmer — has announced he will be absent when the curtain opens on the drama's ninth season next June 29. In a manner not too reminiscent of the free-thinking author of the Declaration of Independence, however, he will enter the Episcopal ministry this summer.

During the first eight years of "The Common Glory," six actors have played the Jefferson role, three of them for what is called two "terms." Two of them for one year each, and one for three weeks. The short-term was Howard Scammon, then associate director and now director of the spectacle, who stepped into the role when Walter Brooks, the drama's second "Jefferson," left the production to fill a Broadway commitment shortly before the end of his second season. The other two-year Jefferson, in addition to Zimmer, was Austin Hunt, now serving a hitch in the army.

The production's one term Jeffersons were William Sullivan, in 1947, and Laurence Hugo, in 1950, both of whom also have been seen in important Broadway and television dramas.

Florence Wilson To Open Shop at Virginia Beach

Florence Wilson, a resident of Virginia Beach and owner of one of Norfolk's finest fashion establishments, will open a shop at Virginia Beach March first. The shop will be located at 2109 Atlantic Avenue, former location of The Augusta Shop.

According to the owner, the new shop was prompted by Virginia Beach's growth as a city and her increasing number of customers from Virginia Beach, to whom a Virginia Beach shop will prove a great convenience.

The new shop will be a complete, up-to-date operation and buying will be done for it with the fashion needs of the smart women of this area in mind.

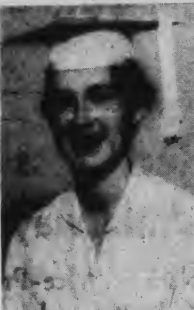

Informal Modeling

On the opening day there will be informal modeling of new spring fashions from 12:00 to 2:00 and from 5:00 to 7:00. Mrs. Gilmore Tibbott, Mrs. Alfred Etheridge, Mrs. R. H. Owens and Mrs. Sidney Kellum will be hostesses from 12:00 until 1:00 o'clock. Mrs. John Bell, Mrs. W. W. Connell, Mrs. Robert Tynes and Mrs. Cecil Reed will serve from 1:00 to 2:00 o'clock. Evening hostesses will be from 5:00 to 7:00 o'clock. Mrs. Fred Mayors, Mrs. Frank Dusch, Mrs. P. B. Allen, Mrs. William O. Thompson, Mrs. Alice Brewer White, Mrs. George Lee and Mrs. Star Cromwell.

Miss Wilson has been a resident of Virginia Beach for the past three years and lives with her husband, William Morrisette, in a California ranch type home opposite the sixth green of the Princess Anne golf course, 138 Pinewood Road. Here, on two acres of land, she has created a garden spot showplace at the resort, with over 200 pine trees and 1000 azalea plants. In the spring, she has a bloom of color, in unique patterns, worked out in the plantings of tulips, hyacinths and spring flowers which attracts many tourists.

Miss Wilson has been in the fashion and buying field in Norfolk for 36 years, catering to discriminating Virginia women who like the distinctive fashions for which she is known. She is proud

Alice B. White On WVEC-TV

Tomorrow, February 25, at 2:30 p. m., Alice Brewer White's last radio program will be presented over station WAVY. After greeting the women of Tidewater daily during the last nine years with her familiar "Good morning to you and to you and to you," Mrs. White will conclude her woman's directorship with the NBC radio affiliate in Tidewater to move to station WVEC-TV, the NBC television affiliate, with her first program next Monday afternoon, February 28.

The Alice Brewer White show will be seen on television Monday through Friday at 1:00 o'clock in the afternoon and each day a different theme will be featured. Monday will bring "Alice's Fashion Follies," with fashion illustrations, stories and live models; Tuesday "Madame President" will be conducted in the manner of a club woman's program, featuring ideas of interest to local club women and with the garden arrangement of the week on March 1 will be presented by Mrs. Louise Saunders, president of the Cavalier Garden Club of Virginia Beach.

"Merry Matrons Matinee," a beauty, charm and fashion clinic idea which Mrs. White has successfully presented at the Norfolk SVCA for the past four years, will be Wednesday's program each week. The cultural feature will be presented on Thursday's when "Look and Learn" will be televised. Friday's program will be keyed to "Alice's Homemakers' Clinic." All programs will be televised in the Norfolk studios of WVEC-TV, 512 West 21st Street, where Mrs. White will have her office.

Mrs. White was the first full-time paid woman's director of radio in Virginia when she became the director for WTAR in March, 1944, where she remained for seven and a half years.

She was one of the local radio personalities who appeared on Norfolk's first television show, WTAR-TV's debut on April 2, 1950, and continued to appear on television for three and a half years while presenting her daily radio program as well. She has been woman's director for WAVY for the past 18 months, presenting her daily program in the 2:30 p. m. time spot for the past six months.

Mrs. White is president of the Pilot Club of Norfolk, a member of the Business and Professional Woman's Club of Norfolk, the Woman's Auxiliary of the Norfolk Symphony Choral and Orchestra Association, a member of the St. Mary's Infant Home Woman's Auxiliary Board, a charter member of the International Association of Radio Women, a member at large of the Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs, an honorary member of the Old Dominion Toastmistress Club and the Cavalier Garden Club of Virginia Beach.

SOCIAL NOTES FOR THE LADIES

Fashion-Minded Women Attend "Hearts and Fashions" Show

Last Wednesday over 300 fashion-minded ladies from Norfolk and Virginia Beach attended the "Hearts and Fashions" style show and desert card party held at the American Legion Club on Laskin Road, the annual benefit held by the Birdneck Garden Club.

The very latest in spring fashions, which ranged from the new "H" line to cruise suits of pastel kid skin, were all supplied by the Paula Shop of Virginia Beach. The models made their entrance into the room through a large red heart frame outlined in Valentine nosegays. Mrs. Mildred Alexander, fashion director for WTAR, made her commentary very informally, explaining each costume in the minutest detail, while Mrs. Maurice W. Nordlinger, at the piano, furnished mood music throughout the entire presentation.

The models, Miss Diane Griffin, Mrs. Everett Martin, Mrs. Griffin Deal, Mrs. R. S. Wahab, Mrs. Edward Pollak, Mrs. Russell Chase and Mrs. Hunter Smith, are all Virginia Beach ladies, except Mrs. Smith, who is from Norfolk.

Large hearts, small hearts, cupid and arrows were used profusely in the decoration of the club. The dessert table was overlaid with medallion cutwork tablecloths from which Valentines dangled to the floor. The centerpiece was a footed silver bowl of red and white carnations, with styrene Valentine hearts on either side. At each end of the long table there were silver services, where Mrs. R. S. Creamer, president, and Mrs. Rufus S. Knight, vice-president, presided.

The table prizes were all plastic ware, including napkin holders, nut bowls, dampeners and salt and pepper sets. The door prizes included ice buckets, electric clocks, anoles, beauty work, planters, food stuffs and a dress from Paula's, which was won by Mrs. E. J. Queenberry of London Bridge. Some of the other lucky ladies winning were Mrs. George Lee, Mrs. Karl Wunder, Mrs. John Dickens, Mrs. Robert Pirie, Mrs. James Standing, Mrs. John Tucker, Mrs. M. F. Dempewolf and Mrs. David Stormont, III.

Engaged Couple Are Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Lathrop, Jr., and Mr. Lathrop's sister, Mrs. Eugene B. Clark, Jr., entertained at a luncheon on Sunday in honor of Miss Claire McGrath, of Greenwich, Conn., and Virginia Beach, and Jack Windham Sevel, of Savannah, Ga., whose marriage will take place in the spring.

The party was given at the Lathrop home on 35th Street and Holly Road, and guests numbered sixteen.

THERSA REESE BECOMES BRIDE OF RICHARD DAVIS

Mrs. Collyer Reese, of West Los Angeles, Cal., announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Thersa Reese, to Richard McGuire Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. Davis, Sr., of Gordonsville, formerly of Virginia Beach. The ceremony took place on Friday morning, February 11, at nine o'clock, with a nuptial mass at St. Monica's Catholic Church in West Los Angeles, with Monsignor O'Flaherty officiating.

The bride wore an original gown of ice blue and carried a misal crowned with white orchids.

Mrs. Veronica Wagner, of Norfolk and Virginia Beach, aunt of the bridegroom, was matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a Dior blue suit and a corsage of white orchids.

Wagon Eskelund of Roanoke and West Los Angeles, was best man. The mother of the bride wore a dress of two shades of coffee and sand, hatching hat, and a white orchid corsage. The mother of the bridegroom wore an Eisenhower jacket suit embroidered in seed pearls and a corsage of orchids.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast for the immediate members of the families and bridal party was given at the Tallyho Club, and after a wedding trip the couple will be at home at "The Hedges," Gordonsville, Va. The bride attended the Academy of the Holy Name, Mr. Davis is a graduate of Greenbrier Military School, attended the University of Virginia and was graduated from Spartan Aeronautical College.

Virginia Diaries Upset By Queens

After trailing all the way in a low scoring contest in Richmond's basketball gym Saturday afternoon, the Virginia Beach Surf Queens edged the Virginia Diaries team for the second time this season in the last minute of play on a goal by Topsy Dahn. The score was 23 - 22.

The local girls were behind at the half 7 - 12, and at the third quarter 14 - 17. Geraldine Midgett hit two set shots to bring the score to 21 - 22 and then Dahn hit a hook from the free throw line to gain victory for the Beach ladies.

"Queens" Lose Close Contest

In a game played in Richmond Saturday night the Virginia Beach Surf Queens dropped their second tilt of the season to a more experienced Richmond sextette, but only after forging ahead in the last few minutes of the game. The score was 38 - 36.

The local girls were behind 23 - 18 at half time, and 22 - 28 at the end of the third quarter. Then with two and one-half minutes to go they pulled ahead 35-23 and seemed headed for their 14th victory. At this stage of the game Beverly Malbon, the Surf Queens' ace guard and playmaker collapsed with foot cramps and had to be removed from the floor. Shirley Southerland, the smallest girl on the floor, was fouled twice in the last minute and a half and made good on all her free throws to pull out the victory for the Pearl Laundry girls. Southerland also led the Richmond lassies with 17 points. Topsy Dahn, with 19 points, and Charlotte Marshall, with 10, led the Beach girls.

SPORTS CORNER

This an' That

Red Marion, new manager of the Louisville Colonels, is a brother of baseball shortstop Marty Marion. Sugar Ray Robinson crossed more than $3,000,000 as a fighter, now is virtually broke. He once drove flamingo-pink Cadillac, even took nine friends to Europe "just for company". "Goal tending" in basketball is the act of touching the ball on its downward flight into the basket or touching the hoop or net in any way that affects the flight of the ball into the basket. While illegal in basketball, goal tending is allowed in such games as hockey, where the goal tender is allowed a free hand and may deflect the puck into or away from the goal. England recently retained the Ashes, symbol of the world cricket championship, by defeating Australia. Referee Max Schafer was a marked man while officiating a basketball game between Western Michigan and Marshall. Schafer forgot to bring along his black and white striped shirt. Western Michigan lent him one, boldly marked: "Property of Western Michigan."

An Explanation To The Public and The TV Trade

(This is in no sense to be construed as an apology to certain of our competitors' criticisms of our previous ads. We think you the public should have a complete explanation...).

It has come to our attention that inadvertently our previous ads claimed that we are able to rebuild old picture tubes. This is not so. If it were we would not have said that only 75 per cent but that All could be rebuilt. The Ads Should have said "We are in most cases able to repair 75 per cent of Picture tube defects that heretofore would have meant that the Customer Must buy a New Picture tube." In striving to give our Customers better service at realistic repair prices, we have obtained the latest electronic equipment enabling us to do just that. We have never knowingly misled the public and we pledge that we never will.

We have also been informed that our guarantee on a repaired picture tube has been misinterpreted in the trade. Just to make it clear: If your picture tube is repairable we will do so for the nominal sum of $9.00. Eventually, however, a defect will occur that cannot be repaired.

To charge $7.50, $5.00, $4.00 or even $2.00 for a house call, that's their business. It only becomes our business when a competitor is able to perform house calls satisfactorily for less than we do and at the same time realizes the proper remuneration on his investment. Then we must look to our own Service Structure to determine where we are at fault and devise a remedy. This, happily, is not the case. Our Policy of service calls being paid for when they are performed enables us to put our investment immediately back into the business. Other savings realized on book-keeping, stationery, postage, etc., have already shown us that our firm can render Satisfactory Service to the public in this Area for only $3.50. We feel sure that You, the Public, will heartily endorse the policy of Lower TV Repair Charges and request that you lend us your cooperation in this matter by permitting us to render you our services when you need them in the future.

PUGH - ETHERIDGE VOWS WILL BE SPOKEN AT OAK GROVE CHURCH

The wedding of Miss Georgia Louise Etheridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon A. Etheridge, of Beach Bay, and William Lyle Pugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weston W. Pugh, of Hickory, will be solemnized Saturday, February 26, at four o'clock in the afternoon at the Oak Grove Baptist Church. The ceremony will be followed by a reception in the social hall of the church.

CREEDS BOY SCOUTS HOLD ANNUAL DINNER; PARENTS ATTEND

The ladies of the Knotts Island Methodist Church prepared the annual dinner for the Creeds Boy Scouts, Troop 63, last Monday night. Each Scout was accompanied by his parents. The invocation was by the Rev. W. E. Barker. Visitors were recognized by Scoutmaster Peter Van Ness. Judge Floyd E. Kellam gave an inspiring talk on "Success." Boy Lovitt of the troop committee, assisted by Mark Bridge and Melvin Kitch, presented merit badges to Gene Bright, Tommy Ackles, Jimmy Dudley, Darwin Lovitt and Herman Flora, Jr. Attendance numbered 83.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION MEETING TODAY

The third annual Norfolk Baptist Association meeting will be held today at the First Baptist Church in Norfolk. Delegates to the meeting from the Oak Grove church are: J. W. C. Dudley, E. L. Whitehurst, Mrs. Lloyd Stutzman, Mrs. Amos Whitehurst and Mrs. Ernest Corprew.

DISCUSS YOUTH FELLOWSHIP AFFAIRS

Revival Begins At Baptist Church

The Oak Grove Baptist Church is preparing for a revival beginning Sunday, February 27, at the 11 o'clock service. The Rev. John T. Dearing will preach. Cottage prayer meetings are being held this week in preparation for the services.

Meetings tonight will be at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Spence and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reams. Friday night meetings will be at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bratten, Mr. and Mrs. Harlie Rowe and Mrs. Eva Batten.

"Proclaim Liberty Throughout all the Lands" is inscribed on the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia.

PARK GETTING SPRING CLEANING

Ocean View Park is getting ready for another season. Workers are already beginning work on cleaning and remodeling. The biggest addition will be the Kiddie Park, where rides are being fixed, but other rides are being refurbished and added to.

The park will be opened to the public on Saturday, April 2. One of the biggest jobs facing the workmen is the removal of sand put up by the storms and hurricanes of the past season.

BEACH CIRCLE SPONSORING DANCE

The Beach Circle is sponsoring a square dance on Friday night, February 25, to be held from 8 to 12 o'clock at the Ocean View Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall. The music will be furnished by the Smoky Owens string band. The dance is open to the public and a silver offering will be received.

The first South American railroad was constructed in Chile in 1852.

Girls Circle Organized by Presbyterians

The East Ocean View Presbyterian Church has organized a Youth Circle for girls fourteen years of age and over. The new group will meet the second Sunday of each month at 5 o'clock.

Sponsor of the new circle is Mrs. Chester Wells. At the first meeting officers were elected as follows:

Jackie Rose, president; Diane Gillis, vice president; Connie Seeley, secretary; Martha Vogel, treasurer.

Girls interested in joining the new circle should consult any of the above officers, or any member.

FIREMAN'S BANQUET TOMORROW NIGHT

Friday, February 25, the East Ocean View and Little Creek Volunteer Fire Departments will sponsor a banquet at Holiday Inn, located at 21st Street, East Ocean View. The dinner will last from 7 to 9 o'clock and will be followed by dancing until 1 a. m. Admission is $5 per couple, with a choice of seafood or chicken dinners.

Proceeds from the affair will go towards paying off the debts of the departments. Tickets can be had from any member of the fire department, or at the door.

PEANUT HULLS GOOD SUBSTITUTE FOR HAY

Peanut hulls seem to have a place as a satisfactory substitute for hay in the rations of both fattening and growing cattle. Reporting on two years of work at the Holland Experiment Station, the experts say fattening rations containing 40 per cent peanut hulls produced about the same average daily gains and carcass grades as did rations containing 40 per cent hay, when fed to yearling heifers 126 days the first year and 84 days the second year.

For growing cattle, rations with as much as 60 per cent of the tanned satisfactory gains with both total feed from peanut hulls proster calves and yearling heifers.

TRUCK DRIVERS FIND THEY'RE NOT IMMUNE

Those who intimate or state the State Police give immunity to trucks, might well look at the following statistics:

During 1953, members of the department made 11,719 cases against commercial drivers for size and weight violations, 14,126 for moving hazardous violations and 5,183 for other offenses. These represent 31.29 per cent of the department's total arrests although commercial vehicles constitute but 21.19 per cent of Virginia's total traffic volume.

The control system of a new guided missile has approximately 1,500,000 parts.

COURT MAKES MOCKERY OF TRAFFIC LAWS

A Richmond man, who killed a pedestrian and fled the scene of the accident, was let go on probation. Another case, near Richmond, discloses that a youth who ran down and killed a schoolboy patrol, admitting he passed a stopped school bus, received no penalty whatsoever.

Virginia's worst traffic crash occurred December 22, 1936, when a bus crashed through the drawbridge crossing the Appomattox River at Hopewell and drowned 14 people. The worst in history was in Illinois when a truck and streetcar crash took 34 lives in May of 1936.

UNDERWATER SHUTTER-BUG

Tom Vaughan, USN, Works Below Surface — Without A Submarine

With the exception of submarine sailors, most men who follow the sea would prefer to do it above water, not below. But Thomas H. Vaughan, Jr., photographer's mate second class, USN, of Penna Grove, N. J., has done more work under the sea than on top of it — without benefit of a submarine.

In fact, he would prefer to have as little to do with a submarine as possible, since he is probably the only person nearly torpedoed by one.

It happened while Vaughan was stationed with the Navy's Underwater Photographic Team in Key West, Fla. Approximately thirty miles out of Key West, he dropped over the side of a boat to photograph a submarine making torpedo firing runs. As the submarine passed by, one of the "fin-fish" took a wrong turn and came at Vaughan. It missed by inches.

The Underwater Photographic Team was loaned to Walt Disney Productions to give technical advice in filming underwater scenes for "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea," near Nassau in the Bahamas Islands.

They also operated with the National Geographic Society, photographing marine life in the Chesapeake Bay area while testing underwater equipment for the Navy.

Honor Club

tion on the west-end of March 19th 1955. The students going to this convention will be David Watts, Frank Tarrall and Bill Culverhouse with the sponsor Mr. Walt Parker. After this Mr. Parker explained the convention to the student body as to its purpose and its accomplishments.

At this, the program was started by Mr. Parker, who presided as moderator, and presented a panel discussion "On what the Honor Club meant to us." The students participating on this panel were: Ted Wool, Charles Meschum, Anita Sawyer, Virginia Humphries, Buddy Greene, and Jo Ann Perrell. All of the pros and cons were given of the Honor Club and what we hoped to accomplish.

At the end of this program, President Myrnie Woodward asked Lena Hutsenpiller to read the poem "I Would Be True." It was explained that if we would live by this poem—our honor club would be one of the best in the state of Virginia.

At this point Myrnie gave out the honor club cards to the members of the S. C. A. who in turn, presented the cards to every member of the high school. Every student is considered a member of the Honor Club until, he or she, proves himself otherwise.

In conclusion, Mr. Johnson spoke briefly to the assembly on the true meaning of the club. It is hoped by all of the S. C. A. members, the teachers and all concerned that we shall continue to improve our school by such means as this—The Honor Club. It is up to you, as students, as parents, and as friends to our school. Let's strive to continue to do better and it is the S. C. A.'s desire to do all it can to make V. B. H. S. the best school in the state.

The following people are members of the S. C. A. Council. They are: Eddie Bonney, P. B. White, Alyce Savage, Joan Stephan, Tommy Moore, Gary Rudman, Billy Culverhouse, Charles Meschum, Kenny Jarr, David Watts, Frank Tarrall, Ted Wool, Kermil Scarborough, Rose Marie Price, George Sandelin, Nita Myers, Buddy Green, Ashley Haycox, JoAnn Perrell, and Officers: Myrnie Woodward, Lena Hutsenpiller, Anita Cruser, and Virginia Humphries.

With the GIRL SCOUTS

Tuesday night, February 22, at the Pine Tree Inn, a group of 90 Princess Anne Girl Scout adult volunteers and their husbands gathered for their 6th annual dinner meeting. Both the month and the day hold significance in that February is designated as International month on the Girl Scout calendar, and the 22nd as Thinking Day.

The theme of the meeting, "International Friendship and Understanding," was brought to life through the decorations and through the speaker, Lt. Comdr. R. M. Ebers, Royal Netherlands Navy, stationed here in the plans and operations division of SACANTY. Comdr. Ebers told the assembled guests of his years spent as a Boy Scout in Indonesia and of meeting Lord Baden-Powell, Comdr. Ebers spoke earnestly of his need to teach our children the values of the simple ways of life, even though we live in a world of "gadgets" to-day, the boy or girl who has learned the magic of camping under the stars, of seeing the sun rise, and set, hearing a bird's first morning song, will never forget that in those experiences lie the true meaning of life.

The meaning of the World Emblem of the Girl Scouts, a large replica of which hung behind Comdr. Ebers as he spoke, became clear to all of us. Through learning together, understanding and friendship, the world can become a better place.

The tables were decorated with Dutch shoes filled with Spring flowers and dolls in the costumes of other countries. A world globe was placed in the center of each table, and in front of each guest a small candle set in a gumdrop. These were lighted simultaneously by everyone, honoring the three birthdays of George Washington, Lord Baden-Powell and Lady Baden-Powell. The program, again carried out the meeting theme, with the Girl Scout World Emblem as the cover.

There were many exhibits of craft work done by adult troops in the county during the past year. Of special interest was a large poster with a plate drawing of Camp Linkhorn, showing present and future development of the camp. Of interest also, was the Scrapbook assembled in the District Committee. News items began in 1947 when Princess Anne District first became a part of the Virginia Tidewater Area Council.

Service pins were presented by Mrs. Harmon L. Jones, Area Commissioner, to the following: Mrs. George Boush—35 years; Mrs. W. E. Kyle—26 years; Mrs. Lyman Clarke—5 years; Mrs. W. R. Payne Jr.—5 years; Mrs. John Lippincott—5 years; Mrs. John Tucker—5 years; Mrs. W. A. Warren—5 years.

A skit was presented by Troops 211 and 250, Mrs. Lewis Smith and Mrs. W. M. Ray, leaders. 12 girls under the direction of Mrs. Ray and Mrs. E. W. Smith participated. They were: Gayle Clark, Ruth Ann Lash, Claude Tucker, Mary Ray, Ann Stell, Stephanie Sykes, Betty Grace Smith, Ina Miller, Emily Bonney, Cathy Demkowicz, Jo Ann Garrison, Beverly Kennett.

Mrs. Cathery Gladin, the new Princess Anne Director, whom we are all getting to know and love, lead some group singing and read a special poem for the fathers and long suffering husbands of Girl Scouts volunteers.

Mrs. Lyman Clarke, District Chairman, presided, and after a short welcome, presented the new slate of officers for 1955. Mrs. Clarke then introduced special guests and recognized adult volunteers in the county. Special guests in addition to Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. Ebers included the following: Mr. and Mrs. Harmon L. Jones, Mrs. Iva Lee Hobden, Region III Community Advisor, Mrs. T. R. Elberidge, Mrs. F. B. Dowling, Mrs. Ralph Blackman, Mrs. A. Brinkley Trammell, Mrs. W. A. Reeves, Miss Georgia Harris and Rev. C. Stanley Lowell, pastor of the Virginia Beach Methodist Church who gave the invocation.

Princess Anne District Officers for 1955: Chairman—Mrs. Lyman Clarke—Vice Chairmen—Mrs. Henry Hedley, Mrs. Geo. Boush; Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. Glenn Dill; General Chairmen of Dinner—Mrs. G. C. Addington, Mrs. J. Cameron Brady; Decorations—Mrs. Leonard A. Carter, Mrs. J. W. Bachelor; Programs—Mrs. M. B. Mellor; Favors—Mrs. R. A. Donaldson; Entertainment—Mrs. Lewis Smith; Reservations—Mrs. Glenn Dill; Exhibits—Mrs. Henry Hedley, Camp Linkhorn Poster—Mrs. John Tucker.

Fashion Show in March Planned By Violet Society

Much enthusiasm was shown by the members of the Princess Anne African Violet Society as they made final plans for a card party, fashion show and violet exhibit, to be held March 23rd at 1 P. M. in the American Legion Club, Laskin Road.

The President, Mrs. A. J. Ket-sules welcomed the 18 members and guests. Mrs. C. L. Hershberger and Mrs. Paul Michaels of Lynnhaven were welcomed as new members and Mrs. Cherry and Mrs. Paulson as guests.

In the absence of Mrs. Paul Karl, General Chairman, Mrs. W. R. Jordan Co-Chairman appointed the following committee: Chairmen tables, Mrs. H. E. Halstead; Hostess, Mrs. L. J. Albano; Decorations, Mrs. D. Y. Malbon; Prizes, Mrs. Frank Klepper; Tickets, Mrs. Mangus; Refreshments, Mrs. Harry Ames.

Those desiring tickets please call Mrs. Paul Karl, Virginia Beach 973 or Mrs. W. R. Jordan Virginia Beach 2953, for table reservations. Phone Mrs. H. E. Halstead, Virginia Beach 1364 and Mrs. Harry Billups Norfolk LO-53202. The tickets will sell for $1.00 each and there will be door prizes, table prizes and refreshments.

The fashion show will be staged by "Paula", Mrs. Harry Ames, Chairman of models. The Violet exhibit, committees are as follows: Staging, Mrs. Mildred Lachman, Chairman; Mrs. Harry Billups, Mrs. L. C. Mallory, Mrs. Florence Hunter and Mrs. Lawrence Lockwood. The Chairman of judges, Mrs. D. Y. Malbon; Schedule, Mrs. Mae Asteris and Mrs. Lockwood; Clerks, Miss Mildred McClannan. The schedule is as follows: Class I—Single Violets any color. Class II Double Violets any color. Class III Arrangements or compositions with violets predominating. Class IV—Three named, registered varieties.

For violets displayed at this meeting and ribbons won were as follows: Blue ribbon, Mrs. L. C. Mallory, for Double III; Blue ribbon, Mrs. Harry F. Ames, for Rainbow Double Delight; Red ribbon, Mrs. Lawrence Lockwood, for Blue-King; Green ribbon, Mrs. Billups for Sailor girl and Green ribbon, Mrs. Mildred Lachman, for Blue Pringette.

The Valentine theme was carried out in refreshments and decorations and the social hour was enjoyed by all present.

Wins Tickets

Last week's winner of the safety slogan contest being sponsored by the Princess Anne Woman's Club was Mrs. S. C. Mallory, of Oceana.

Entries in the contest should be mailed to Safety Slogan Contest, PO Box 214, Virginia Beach, Va. The weekly winner will receive two tickets to the Beach Theatre.

GARDEN CLUB MEETS MONDAY

The Kempsville Garden Club will meet Monday, February 28, at eight o'clock, with Mrs. N. T. Heath, at 207 Ansterly Road.

Mrs. S. W. Hastings, president of the Federation of Garden Clubs of Norfolk and vicinity, Inc., will be the speaker for the occasion.

Members are asked to bring exhibits of arrangements of foliage, using one flower as focal point.

RUTH BIBLE CLASS MEETS ON 27th

The Ruth Bible Class of the Kempsville Baptist Church will meet February 27 at the church, at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Frank Nichols, Sr., will be hostess for the meeting.

5th GRADE TO PRESENT PROGRAM FOR FTA

The Kempsville Parent-Teacher Association will meet Wednesday night, March 2, in the school auditorium. Time for the meeting will be eight o'clock.

The program will be presented by Mrs. Marshall's fifth grade pupils and will be an original opera.

Mrs. W. E. Wood is president of the Kempsville PTA, and Mrs. Peter Bush is program chairman.

Women's Club Votes Funds For Several Gifts

The Kempsville Women's Club has voted to give a movie projector (costing approximately $400) to the area school for retarded children, at their meeting Tuesday, February 14, at the Kempsville Community House.

The club also voted a $200 scholarship for a deserving Princess Anne High School senior from the Kempsville district planning to teach.

Ten dollars was voted to the Artmobile, and five dollars each to the Fannie Stern and Dorothea Buck scholarships.

Mrs. Woodrow Pick, Red Cross chairman, reported that 47 pints of blood were donated when the Bloodmobile visited Kempsville School on February 7.

Mrs. R. J. Allen's committee collected $625 from the school, cantaloupes and the Mothers March during the polo drive.

The clothing bank maintained by the Women's Club at the Kempsville Fire Station is always available for outfitting needy families. Mrs. William F. Hudgins, Sr., announced. Anyone needing clothing may call Mrs. Hudgins at LO 5-0984.

Mrs. C. S. Deaton, Fine Arts chairman, announced that classes in oil painting and tray painting are beginning.

A committee was named to nominate officers for the coming year. Members are: Mrs. R. F. Humphries, Mrs. H. M. Meers, Mrs. W. F. Rodgers, Jr., Mrs. Fred Carlisle and Mrs. Rea Walker.

Mrs. E. B. Tankersley, district chairman of Youth Conservation for the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke on "Youth Conservation." She commented on the vastly changed character of American home life, and suggested that new techniques are needed to guide teen-age children when the community must supplement or replace guidance formerly given at home.

She suggested clubs and supervised recreational centers. At home she felt a family council around a family altar would promote family fellowship.

Dolls Are Shown

Mrs. C. S. McCallum, member of the Norfolk Doll Club, showed varied and beautiful dolls. "Dolls are almost as old as the human race," she commented. "They have been made of many materials. Some are of rawhide, rubber, clay, wax, canvas, coconut fibers, paper mache, china, corn husks, ivory, wood, stone and bisque."

Miss Doris Horne sang a solo, and presented some of her pupils. They were Sandra Simpson, Sandra Wiseman and Wanda Steele, a local trio; and Nonie Lee and Shirley Jones, who played piano solos.

Mrs. Lyman Clarke, president of the club, presided, and Mrs. J. D. Gregory.

ACREDALE GARDEN CLUB
The Acredale Garden Club is sponsoring a game party at the Kempsville Community Center on Monday night, March 1, at eight o'clock.

Proceeds from the party will go towards the building fund for the Garden Center of the Federation of Garden Clubs of Norfolk and vicinity, Inc.

Mrs. Brock Scott is general chairman for the event.

PROGRAM ON CUBA
The Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist Church met last night at the church. Mrs. B. W. Hastings was in charge of the program, which featured Cuba. Various committee and circle reports were heard. The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. R. R. Garriott.

BIBLE STUDY HOUR
There is now a Monday night Bible Study Hour at the Community Methodist Church. The study hour began last Monday, and is studying the book of Romans. The time is 7:30 o'clock and the group meets in the Fellowship room of the church.

FT. STORY TELLINGS

Companies Redesignated

Redesignations of three Dux companies, all units of the 5th Transportation Battalion, is effective this week as the 195th, 205th and 405th T Companies (Amphibious Truck), are relieved of active duty and revert to the control of their respective military districts. Three other companies, all with World War II histories, have been reactivated to replace these units. Members of the 195th will transfer to the 344th T Company; under the same plan the 205th becomes the 347th and the 405th becomes the 458th, all effective February 24.

Captains Get New Duties

Reassignment within the command gives two captains at Story new duties with the 54th T Battalion. Capt. Homer J. Stivilla, the able and popular CO of the 451st "Barracudas" Dux Company, goes to battalion headquarters as Assistant S-3. He will be replaced by Capt. Thomas M. Lawler, Jr., formerly Assistant Movements Control Officer of the 5th T Terminal Command B.

New Catholic Chaplain

New Catholic chaplain at Story is Chaplain (Capt.) Edward F. Spaine of the Archdiocese of Boston. Father Spaine, who attended Boston College and later St. John's Seminary in Brighton, Mass., comes here from Salisbury Military Post and the Vienna Command.

Pvt. Beberich Honor Student

Another class in the 8-week course in operation and maintenance of the Dux, conducted by the 605th T Company, graduated this week and received certificates of the course completion from Lt. Col. Harold P. Baker, Story's S-3. Honor student of the 671-man class, the 44th of its type to take the course, was Pvt. Arthur S. Rebovich, 21, of Jefferson, Ohio.

Lt. Bauer Promoted

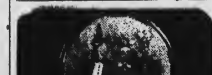

Story's assistant adjutant, 2nd Lt. Ernest T. Bauer, swapped his gold bars for silver this week. Lieutenant Bauer, whose home is in St. Albans, N. Y., joined the command in January after almost a year's service at Goose Bay, Labrador. A graduate of Fordham University, he also attended the Transportation School at Fort Rucker in 1953.

Non-Coms Fill Command Posts

Senior non-commissioned officers of Post Headquarters and the 5th and 54th T Battalions again filled all command and staff positions in Story's latest garrison review. The Post Sergeant Major, M/Sgt. Eltee Babcock, Jr., was reviewing officer with a staff made up of M/Sgt. Harry W. Griffith, Capt. E. Wilson and Levin M. Marshall. Commander of troops was M/Sgt. Joseph X. Kelly with a staff of SFC's Rowland A. Allen, August T. Savory and Keith E. Young. M/Sgt. Cecil D. Ralston and Jesus R. Saens commanded the 5th and 54th Battalions respectively.

Col. Deagle Presents Award

The same review, although no Story officers participated, was occasion for Col. Edwin A. Deagle, post commander, to present the "best marching unit" streamer to the 570th T Terminal Company.

Teen-Age Club Plans Dance

A teen-age dance will be held on Saturday from 8 to 11 p. m. at the Oceana Fire Station. It was announced at a meeting of the Oceana Teen-Age Club held Sunday afternoon. James Perry and his "Knights of Rhythm" will furnish the music for dancing. A silver donation will be made to the March of Dimes. Refreshments will be served. All teen-agers in the vicinity are invited to attend.

Highlight of Sunday's meeting was a talk by Ray Coffert of the State Highway Patrol. He discussed the Hot Rod Club which the local group is planning to form. He stated that it would be impossible for the State Patrol to sponsor such an organization. He suggested, however, that the teen-agers set up the rules for the proposed club and that he would be glad to look them over and advise them.

Elmer Meeks, president of the Oceana Civic League, sponsors of the club, stated that he would look into the use of the Pungo air strip as a possible location for use by the Hot Rod Club.

Vernon Cherry, president, presided at the meeting. Approximately 25 teen-agers attended.

Squadron Wives HAVE LUNCHEON

BOOK BY DR. MURPHY JUST PUBLISHED

Dr. W. L. Murphy of Oceana is the author of a book just published by Burke and Gregory of Norfolk. Entitled "Joyful Living," the book is an autobiography and tells the story of the 17 charges which Dr. Murphy has served in the Methodist Church. He also writes of a Mediterranean cruise during which he visited 17 countries and of the Chapel at Ocean Park where he is now pastor. He closes with a Thanksgiving sermon. The book is endorsed by Bishop Paul N. Carter and has been off the press about 30 days.

The nation is celebrating National Canned Salmon Week. It begins Thursday and will continue through March 1. The story of canned salmon is a "fish story" to top them all.

You all know how salmon fights its way up the great rivers and treacherous falls to lay its eggs, but what you probably don't know is that salmon, the king of the canned fish, is one of the most potent foods on the market today for it contains many valuable food elements which most ordinarily are obtained from several DIFFERENT foods.

I certainly didn't know it. First of all, canned salmon is a high protein food, it builds and replenishes the body's tissues and, in addition, the salmon is rich in calcium, iodine, vitamins A and D, and the B vitamins.

Canned salmon has a distinctive flavor, which makes it tasty with a variety of different types of bread, fruit, nutmeat, etc. It is not heavy or oily, does not "stay with you" hours after it is eaten.

One of the most satisfying and tasty ways to serve the food is as a salmon salad sandwich, made on whole wheat bread.

It is delicious in many tempting hot dishes and is just especially good for a salad. Salmon is economical. Isn't it wonderful to find something so good and yet so kind to the budget? A pound can of salmon serves four or five. Keep several cans on your pantry shelf for you can be sure canned salmon is one of the most economical and versatile foods on the market today. Don't just celebrate this... the National Salmon Week... but many times all through the year.

Just a little bit about the industry that began way back in 1864. The first salmon cannery was established on the Columbia River at Eagle Cliff, Washington, in 1864, another at Everett on Puget Sound in 1877. A year later, in 1878, the first salmon cannery in Alaska was erected at Klavick.

Long before this, a trade in salmon was carried on in the Northwest at the beginning of the 19th century by the Northwest Company, and was continued by the Hudson Bay Company. The first American to engage in commercial fishing in the Northwest was Capt. Wythe of Boston, who operated from 1812 to 1858, selling salmon on the Columbia River.

Interesting, too, is the story of the tribes of Coastal Indians who would gather at the Columbia River narrows during the spring months, where the salmon ascending the stream in great numbers to the spawning beds could be easily taken by spears and nets. The Indians then dried the salmon in the sun and then pulverized them by pounding with stones. The salmon was then molded into loaves and packed in grass matting in packages weighing from 5 to 10 pounds. This method of preparing salmon caused it to keep a long time, the oil acting as a preservative. The finished product was then offered for sale or barter to the Indians of the Plains east of the Rocky Mountains, who brought buffalo hides and other commodities for trade.

Canned salmon is one of our good sources of food nutrients. Always a favorite in the Salmon Loaf, it is a colorful and tasty item packed full of nutrition. Here is a recipe:

SALMON LOAF

1 lb. can of salmon, flaked
1-2 cups fine bread crumbs
1-2 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper, celery salt and paprika
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 egg
3-4 cup milk
Flake salmon; beat egg, add milk; pour over bread crumbs. Combine with seasonings and salmon. Pack in well greased loaf pan or dish. Bake at 325°F. for 35 or 40 minutes. Serve with the sauce you like best. How about egg sauce, or tomato sauce? The recipe serves 4 to 6.

Here's another tasty salmon recipe:
CURRIED SALMON AND RICE
Combine the following:
1-2 lb. can salmon, flaked
2 cups cooked rice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon curry powder
1-4 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 tablespoon parsley flakes
2-3 cup evaporated milk
1-2 stick butter or margarine, melted

Bake in greased shallow baking dish for 20 minutes at 375°F. Garnish with quarters of hard-cooked eggs.

GARDEN GUIDE

By BARTOW H. BRIDGES, JR.

ROOT PRUNING AND TRANSPLANTING

As we discussed two weeks ago in the "Garden Guide" this is a favorable season to transplant trees and shrubs. Now let us consider some of the factors that enter into the actual digging of a plant.

If it has been in one location for several years or more, then it is definitely best to root prune the plant at least a year before transplanting. Root pruning is just what it says: cutting off the long roots. It is accomplished by pushing a sharp shovel into the ground the depth of the shovel blade the plant. Thus we have left the soil and most of the roots undisturbed but have severed the long roots that are within reach of the blade. Cutting these large roots causes the remaining stubs to initiate a mass of fibrous roots. This compact root system will remain with the plant when it is later dug and less of the root system will be lost. Root pruning is an insurance measure.

Even if professional help is to be called in to do the actual transplanting, the plant has been root pruned a year before. It will be more certain to live and almost any gardener can do the root pruning without too much physical exertion.

Distance From Plant

The distance of the pruning from the plant is determined by the size ball that will be dug with the plant. There is no rule to be given for the size ball required for different plants — there are too many variables. In general, a 30" - 36" shrub should have a ball of soil with about an 18" diameter. A 4' - 5' tree or shrub should have a 24" ball.

In root pruning a large plant, it is best to dig a trench around the plant so that the shovel blade will penetrate deeper and thus cut more of the long roots. After the cutting is completed, re-fill the trenches with good garden soil so the small fibrous roots will have a good medium in which to grow. If the plant to be moved has not been growing in its current location for more than three years, then root pruning is not called for, because the root system has not had time to spread out over a large area. It will still be relatively compact.

Feed your family well — with canned salmon all during Lent. Salmon is sure to win compliments everytime it is served. Bye, now...

To Dig a Plant

To dig a plant, cut around it with a sharp shovel as in root pruning, but then start throwing aside soil so as to form a narrow trench around the plant. Continue digging deeper and toward the center so that finally the ball of soil that contains the roots is free. The depth of the ball should be about two-thirds of its diameter. Slide the shovel blade under the ball and with one hand pulling on the stem of the plant and the other on the shovel handle, slide the ball out of the hole, using the shovel as a skid. The sign of a job well done is to get the ball of earth out of the hole without its cracking open. Do not be discouraged if your first few attempts do not pass the test. A kneel for the job has to be developed and practice is the only way to achieve it.

If the ball has become cracked or if the plant is not going to be re-planted immediately, then secure the ball firmly with a piece of material such as a burlap square. Wrap the material around the soil and pin it tightly with nails.

A deciduous tree or shrub when its leaves are off can be transplanted bare root. That is, a ball of soil is not required around the roots. To dig a plant bare root, follow the procedure as above but when the ball of earth has been cut loose, then knock away most or all of the soil. Use care not to injure any more roots than necessary, and plant as soon as possible to prevent drying of the roots.

If you have gardening problems, let our experts know of them. Write "Garden Guide," care of the Sun-News, and the questions will be answered in these columns.

Beautician Gives Hair Style Tips

By Peggy Felle

It seems these days that absolutely everybody is talking about hair styles. Perhaps you're wondering whether to clip your hair short or let it grow to a softer length. Of course, new styles are fashionable only if they look well on YOU, but let's see what beauty experts have to say about it.

Hair has definitely gone feminine again—not long, but smoother and better groomed, its one length all over, neatly trimmed to fall into gentle waves just above the collar line. The top hair is worn sleek, with side or center parts marking the very latest "high fashion" stylings.

This new trend toward elegance means that your hair must be always at its gleaming best. Frequent washings with your favorite shampoo can work wonders for tired, wispy hair. Most shampoos are delicate mixtures of petroleum white oils and vegetable oils skillfully blended to make your hair soft and manageable. After you've set your hair, a touch of brilliantine, another petroleum product, will keep it in place for hours without a suggestion of greasiness. Your hair now may be at the difficult in-between length. If it is, a special tonic will help it grow faster, and at the same time condition any brittle ends. Hair tonics, too, are made up almost entirely of the purest white oils.

Virginia Anti - Litterbug Council Will Mark Second Anniversary

The Virginia Anti - Litterbug Council will mark its second anniversary in March, marking two years of effort to beautify Virginia's roadways through the prevention of trash-throwing on the highways.

Starting with nothing more than hope, the Council was formed in March, 1953, with some 20 agencies - civic, industrial and State - cooperating in the venture.

The organization's avowed purpose was the eradication of the litterbugs - persons who throw trash and debris along the road-sides.

From its beginning, the Council realized the tremendous expense required of state and local agencies for cleaning up after the litterbugs. The State Highway Department, for instance, estimates that it spends between $400,000 and $500,000 annually, cleaning the roadways of trash. The City of Richmond estimates its street cleaning work brought on by litterbugs is around $10,000 a year.

With that information in one hand, however, and its principles in the other, the Council started to work. At first, the group bombed the litterbugs with poetry and posters. "Take part in highway pride," said one poster. "Don't dump trash along its side."

A litterbug poster showing a multi-listed insect throwing paper and debris in all directions was circulated throughout the state, some 15,000 posters in all.

When the General Assembly met in 1954, the Council was successful in its attempt to have legislation passed against litterbugs and the legislature passed a bill providing for a fine up to $500 and a jail sentence up to 12 months for a conviction on the

WHAT THE LAW NEEDS IS RIGID ENFORCEMENT

In Northern Virginia, a driver reported by State Police as passing a car on the wrong side and crashing into the back of a third vehicle to cause the death of two people and deprive 11 children of a parent, was charged with driving while intoxicated, reckless driving, driving without an operator's permit and manslaughter. He was further reported as cursing one of the dead men as he lay in the road and producing a photo of a semi-nude woman when asked to show his permit. Penalties: Drunken driving, $100 fine the bare minimum allowed by law. No operator's license; $5 fine (at most the minimum). Reckless driving: combined with manslaughter charge. Manslaughter: 12 months' suspended sentence.

charge, or both.

Later in the year, the Highway Department installed signs along the highways warning motorists to show their permit. Penalties: Unlawful to throw trash on highway - Fine up to $500.

Greenwich Hardware & Appliances Sponsors Contest To Aid Bands For Vet Benefits

The Greenwich Hardware and Appliance Company located on Kempsville Road at Greenwich, have announced a contest for prizes for boys and girls and money awards for their school bands. The winners will be awarded prizes as follows: 1st, a $50 savings bond. 2nd and 3rd are two beautiful portable radios with clock on the front. 4th and 5th prizes, 125 savings bonds. With every winner the store will give a $10 bill for their school band.

The rules are simple. The entrants will furnish names, address and telephone number of some person they know needs the appliance listed. For every appliance sold, the band designated will receive a ten dollar bill and the contestant will receive one point for every dollar of value towards one of the prizes listed. Prizes will be considered on points apportioned. To be eligible entry must have 150 points or more. As an example, an appliance sold for $100 means 160 points for the contestant, a $269 sale means 269 points, and so on.

General Electric refrigerators, electric washers, electric ranges, electric dryers, electric deep freezers, dishwashers, food disposals, water heaters.

Republ Steel: Kitchens, kitchen sinks, kitchen cabinets. Television: Sylvania, General Electric, RCA, Hoffman. Gas Ranges: RCA Estate, Chef's Pride and Modern Maid.

Trade-ins will be accepted as part of the down payment. Prospect cards may be obtained at the store or from any of the employees. The contest ends May 15, 1955.

Firm members of Greenwich Hardware are "Bill" Kirby and Raymond "Mickey" Kirby, both local boys and graduates of the Kempsville High School. Raymond Kirby, for several years in the appliance field, is sales manager. The company has a staff of five outside salesmen, and maintains a capable service department.

The company has its own building and ample parking space for patrons. You are invited to visit their showroom, just one mile off Virginia Beach Boulevard midway between Thomas Corner and Kempsville, or telephone LO 5-3739 for any information, or to have one of their representatives stop at your home. The company stocks a complete line of nationally known hardware and is open every night.

Deadline Dates For Vet Benefits Are Summarized

Veterans Administration officials have issued a checklist of certain deadline dates which eligible veterans of the Korean conflict must act if they wish to take advantage of certain benefits.

Most of the deadlines required from the President's proclamation setting January 31, 1955, as the end of the Korean conflict period governing eligibility for the benefits. The conflict period began on June 27, 1950.

One of the most important of the deadlines not affected by the President's proclamation requires that eligible veterans who wish to go to school or train under the Korean GI Bill must start training within three years after they leave the service or forfeit all further rights to the benefits. This requirement is contained in the law itself and, therefore, was not affected by the President's proclamation.

Those who start their training or education within the required three-year period must complete their Korean GI Bill training by January 31, 1963, or eight years after discharge, whichever is earlier. The terminating date of January 31, 1963, resulted from the President's proclamation.

Home Loans

For GI loans on homes, farms or businesses, eligible veterans of the Korean conflict period now have until January 31, 1965, to receive a VA guaranty or insurance as a result of the proclamation. No further guaranties or insurance may be issued after that date on loans made to veterans under the present law.

Vocational Rehabilitation

For vocational rehabilitation under Public Law 894, eligible disabled veterans of the Korean conflict period must start in time to finish their rehabilitation by the 31st of January, 1964, or nine years after separation, whichever is earlier. These termination dates apply to all eligible veterans except those in certain "handicap" categories. For the latter, an additional four years is granted by law in which to complete their rehabilitation.

Pulp-Paper Industry In Virginia Disclose "More Trees" Project

Millions of additional trees for Virginia's future generations are assured under a planting program announced by pulp and paper industries of the state. Already engaged in forest management activities which include assistance to other landowners, the pulp-paper group threw its full support behind Governor Stanley's "More Trees for Virginia" movement by announcing it would finance and carry out a demonstration project to encourage tree planting by hundreds of small landowners in all parts of the state.

The project calls for the planting next season of at least a million trees in each of three counties to be selected from the state's three geological areas - Piedmont, Coastal Plain, and Mountain.

For every thousand trees the individual landowners in these counties may plant, the pulp-paper industry will give an additional thousand seedlings, plus technical assistance and advice already available through many trained foresters employed by the industries in the state.

While some details of the project are yet to be worked out by an industry committee, the program is sure to provide great impetus to reforestation efforts in the state, said C. R. Chamberlain, "Sound forest management takes into account natural regeneration, fire protection and proper harvesting, as well as planting."

Paper Company, Covington, Va., spokesman for the group.

He said the project can be carried out above and beyond the well established programs which the pulp and paper industries already brought to forest management on thousands of acres of Virginia timberland.

"A demonstration of this kind, carried out in distinct geographical areas, will enable land owners throughout the state to see for themselves that trees can be planted and grown profitably as a crop on a sustained yield basis," said Mr. Chamberlain. "Sound forest management takes into account natural regeneration, fire protection and proper harvesting, as well as planting."

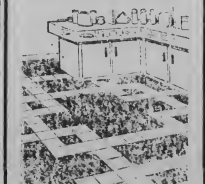

19th Century Museum Exhibits

Fifty-one American paintings representing 50 years of life in all parts of early 19th century America, and a small supplementary and localized collection of pictures dealing exclusively with the same period in Virginia, are on exhibition at the Virginia Museum, Richmond.

The principal section of the exhibition is part of the large collection formed by Maxim Karolik of Newport, Rhode Island. All the paintings are truly representative of the variety and social interests of the first half of the 19th century. Most of the canvases are devoted to landscape views. Some are frankly romantic, in tune with the literature of the day, others plainly factual, reflecting a continuing American trait. The Karolik collection has been called "one of the most courageous and imaginative in this country."

There are only 44 states in the United States, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Virginia are "commonwealths."

Naval Hospital May Employ Civilian Doctors

The Portsmouth Naval Hospital is conducting a survey to determine the number of civilian physicians who would accept employment at the facility.

Employment would only encompass out-patient treatment; however, any or all categories of patients would be treated.

Civilian physicians would be employed as regular Civil Service appointees to classified positions on a full-time, part-time, or intermittent basis. It is considered that most positions for civilian physicians for this purpose would be classified under the standard as GS-11, unless the position is described as requiring a specialist in the field of pediatrics, obstetrics and gynecology, or internal medicine, for example, to whom cases would be referred for consultation.

Civilian physicians in the Tidewater area who may be interested in employment of this type are

MORAL SENSE NEEDED ON HIGHWAYS

The Rev. Robert E. Royster of Indiana, had this to say about traffic behavior: "It is not enough to advertise and propagandize against dangerous practices; sin has seldom been noticeably affected this way. The best answer to the problem is to recover our moral sense on the highway. For when we begin to see such modern motor vehicle operation as moral degradation, we can restore safety to our highways as a by-product of restoring morality to our drivers."

THE CHURCH IN THE WILDOOD

When the building of a church inspires the writing of a hymn, that isn't news; but when the writing of a song inspires the building of a church, that's another story.

The Congregational Church in the agricultural hamlet of Bradford, Iowa, was organized November 4, 1855. For a meeting place the small congregation had used successively a store, several homes, an abandoned school house and even a lawyer's office. The financial panic that swept the country the following year made their situation even worse. Many of the faithful gave up their dreams of a church-building and resigned themselves to meeting here and there, wherever a large room was made available.

Then one June afternoon, William Savage Pitts, a 27 year old student from Rush Medical School, made the 80-mile trip from McGregor, Iowa, to Bradford by stagecoach. During his brief stay he met the preacher of the local church and learned of the people's desperate need for a new building all their own.

One afternoon he walked with a group of friends to the summit of a hill beyond the village. From the heights he could see much of surrounding Chickasaw County and the beauty of the Cedar River Valley. As they were visiting, the young student pointed to a grove of trees in the valley below and said, "If I were building a church, I would build it down here in that lovely little vale, and I'd call it the Church in the Vale."

"What color would you paint it?" someone asked.

Pitts replied, "School houses are painted red, and dream cottages for young lovers are always white. But since the folks don't have much money, and brown paint is the cheapest, I'd paint it brown."

To which his friend quickly added, "And call it The Little Brown Church in the Vale."

Pitts answered, "Yes, and we'll even write a song about it to popularize the new church."

Keeps Vision

When the young medical student resumed his studies in the fall, he could not forget his vision of a "little brown church in the vale." It haunted him until he studied the hymnals to discover what others had written about the church. Most of the hymns were majestic and inspiring, while the song he wanted to write about his "dream church" needed the lilt of a Stephen Foster melody, and the simplicity of the popular folk songs.

"The song should fit the church," he thought. One night the inspiration came, and Pitts wrote his lines down as he hummed the music which is now familiar to millions. His song began:

There's a church in the valley by the wildwood,
No lovelier place in the dale;
No spot is so dear to my childhood
As the little brown church in the vale.

Two years after Pitts visited Bradford and selected "the ideal spot for a new church," the Rev. John K. Nutting was called to be pastor of the Bradford Congregational Church. He heard of the young physician who had envisioned a church in the vale and inspired his congregation to make Pitts' dream a reality. Members volunteered to do most of the work themselves. Friends back east sent enough money to have the rough lumber dressed and finished. The people of Bradford, in New England, sent a new bell to the children of their neighbors who had gone out west years before to name their mid-western town after their distant home community.

Meanwhile, Dr. Pitts had fallen in love with that section of Iowa, and following the completion of his medical studies, had settled in Fredericksburg, just 20 miles from Bradford. In addition to his work as a doctor, he conducted singing schools as his hobby. Soon he introduced his sons in one of the local singing schools, the "Little Brown Church in the Vale" was completed and dedicated on December 29, 1864.

As the fame of the song grew, people came from miles around to worship in the church that had been inspired by the song. Dr. Pitts lived and labored in Iowa for 44 years. When railroads came through that section of the state, the trains for Chickasaw County ran through the town of Nashua, two miles from Bradford. Soon most of the townspeople moved to Nashua to be near the railroad

THE SOUL OF A TOWN

Is it possible for a community to have a soul? We know, or believe, that individuals have souls - a kind of inner life, a kind of spiritual life, that can survive the dissolution of the body. But is such a thing possible for a community?

We do know that certain communities take on a kind of spiritual quality that determines their outward form and practice. All the people who live there become bound together in a matrix of obligation. There are certain things that are done and certain things that are not done. And the things that are done are to be done in a particular way. They become rooted in a oneness of community.

This does not mean there are no differences. The people in such a community may divide sharply along political lines and battle it out in the American way. Yet no matter how hard they may fight each other, they are together. They understand that the community belongs to them all and that they all belong to it.

What To Do

If our community is to have a soul we shall have to develop the sources of home, church and school. These are the three sources of spiritual nourishment. Of the three, only the school does anything like an adequate job in our community. Indeed, the school has become predominant in areas

There are souls in this community that do not.

What To Do

Virginia Beach is mid-way between the two. It has the beginnings or makings of a soul but has not yet become one. Virginia Beach has a soul striving to be born.

and Bradford became almost a "deserted village."

But, through the years, thousands have visited the little brown church in the vale, remembering the talented young physician who immortalized the church in his popular gospel song.

veted attainment is the impermanence of our community. It is a vacation area, for one thing. This is basic to our economy, but adds little to our culture. There is the large transient group of military personnel. As soon as you get to know and love them, they are gone and another group has come in. You have to start all over again. Even the "permanent" people are impermanent. Practically everybody I meet is either engaged in the process of arriving or departing.

You hear interminably the remark: "We're going home this week-end." No: this is home. Why not call this home? This is where we live. This is where we put in our time and effort. Why do we not put down roots? Why do we not make this community where we live our home?

Ours is a new community. We can build it as we will. We can make it strong and beautiful, undergirded by the loyalty of thousands who love it and call it home.

What To Do

If our community is to have a soul we shall have to develop the sources of home, church and school. These are the three sources of spiritual nourishment. Of the three, only the school does anything like an adequate job in our community. Indeed, the school has become predominant in areas

10% OF CATTLE IN STATE

WERE TESTED IN 1954

A total of 42,854 dairy cattle, about 10% of the total population in Virginia, completed dairy herd improvement association testing in 1954, according to a report released by M. F. Elmore, associate dairy husbandman at VPI.

There were 316 herds that averaged above either an enviable 10,000 pounds of milk or 370 pounds of butterfat per cow.

The average 1954 cow produced 8,385 pounds of milk and 341 pounds of butterfat.

COSTS CAN BE CUT IN BUILDING HOUSES

Building or remodeling a house? Then you'll be interested in these tips on cutting costs.

First, work up a set of complete plans and specifications. Choose a plan which meets your needs, but has no wasted space. Plan so stock sizes can be used. Use stock sizes in doors and windows if possible. Use expendable plans to cut initial costs.

Use good quality materials, but avoid fancy materials. Cut down on size and number of porches, and have a minimum of hallways of reasonable size. Avoid high ceilings and keep roof slopes low, except in story-and-a-half houses.

Keep corners, gables, bay windows, etc., to a minimum, and use picture windows only when appropriate. Use as much local or native material as possible. If any room must be left out, let it be the dining room. Fireplaces are luxuries and may be omitted. A basement may cost more, but may be justified.

Do as much of the work as possible yourself, including the painting, finishing floors, insulating walls, and some rough carpentry work.

Don't try to save by making rooms too small, leaving out storage spaces, making foundations too small, supporting brick flues at ceiling, not providing space for bathroom, leaving out insulation, making joists too small, using steep winding stairs, using cheap materials, not painting woodwork, or having insufficient light and ventilation.

GARDENERS' TIPS

Spring is not far off — and don't let it slip up on YOU. The wise home owner will take advantage of the winter months to prepare for spring and summer gardening jobs.

Now is a good time to check all garden equipment and make sure it is ready for the gardening season. Do not wait until the last minute to overhaul the power lawn mower or garden tractor. Sharpen such tools as hoes, shovels, trowels and pruning equipment.

How about the outdoor garden furniture? Does it need a coat of paint? Or if your yard lacks garden furniture, why not make a picnic table or some garden chairs this winter? Furniture makes your outdoor living area more comfortable, more livable.

Paint your garden stakes. Don't wait until next summer. Now is an ideal time to make an inven-

What's the NEW news in the '55 cars?

Is it V-8 Power?
Ford has had it since 1932

Ford was first to offer a V-8 engine in a low-price car. And since the original Ford V-8 was introduced in 1932, more than 14,000,000 Ford V-8's have been built. This is more V-8's than all other manufacturers.

Is it Ball-Joint Suspension?
Ford had it in 1954

Ford introduced Ball-Joint Front Suspension to the low-price field in 1954. This superior type of suspension design in 20 years.

Is it oil and battery signal lights, curved instrument panel, rotary door latches, push-button door handles, power-lifts for all windows, Overdrive, Hotchkiss Drive?
Ford has had all of them, too!

Is it suspended pedals?
Ford introduced them in 1952

Introduced in the 1952 model, Ford was first in the low-price field with suspended pedals. This advanced type of pedals provides extra space for the driver's feet and eliminates dusty, drafty holes in the floorboard. Suspended pedals are extremely easy to

Is it hood-high fenders?
Ford introduced them in 1952

The 1952 Ford brought a new look to the American car. The long, low look of the car. This innovation

The NEWS is Thunderbird Styling

It's not the look you saw in any of last year's cars. It's the new look inspired by the Thunderbird. And it set the styling for Ford's '55 lines.

The NEWS is Trigger-Torque Power

It's trigger-quick "GO" which can obey your commands in 7/100 of a second—four times faster than you can wink.

The NEWS is Angle-Poised Ride

An advanced form of Ball-Joint Suspension which swallows the big bumps... makes even smooth roads ride smoother.

Frogmen Aid Oyster Studies

Frogmen Jack Bullard and Walter Rust, of Richmond, descended into the icy-cold waters of the York River recently to recover oysters for Dr. J. D. Andrews of the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory at Gloucester Point. The men were equipped for cold water diving and volunteered their services to the scientists to assist them in a project they began a year and a half ago.

"We have been examining oysters in trays at the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory for years," Dr. Andrews stated, "but we would like to know how the death rate of oysters lying on the bottom differs from that of tray oysters."

To solve this riddle, in July of 1953, Dr. Andrews planted a large number of seed oysters marked with red paint. The problem was how to recover all these oysters and to observe how they appeared on the bottom after several months. Unfortunately at the time the divers descended into the water of the York River it was too turbid to see how the oysters were lying.

F. H. A. Regulations Prove Most Valuable Guide For Home Owner

Sometimes it seems that today's home owner must be a combination — of carpenter, architect and financier in order to operate his household efficiently.

The truth is that many home owners do practice a combination of these professions. It isn't unusual to find a man who designs his own home, builds at least part of it and negotiates expertly for the financing.

But like any amateur, he may overlook important details. How many home owners, for example, know the minimum property requirements set up by F.H.A. for its home mortgage plan?

Two Good Reasons Even the home owner who does not depend on F.H.A. financing is wise to be familiar with the regulations governing its program, for at least two good reasons. First, he may some day want to sell his home to a buyer who needs F.H.A. financing. Then the F.H.A. requirements will be considered in making the appraisal. Second, F.H.A. requirements are set up to protect the home owner.

So they make a good guide for making sure you get maximum value in the home you build, regardless of your method of financing.

F.H.A. is continually changing its regulations to provide greater protection for the home owner. For example, recent changes in insulation requirements contain provision for labeling insulating products so that F.H.A. inspectors can determine whether they comply with specifications.

Insulating Siding Accepted Another fairly recent change was the acceptance by F.H.A. of insulating siding for new construction. It was first accepted when installed over wood sheathing. Then when a method of nailing insulating siding panels to gypsum and insulating board sheathing was developed, F.H.A. also accepted these combinations for new construction.

F.H.A. even considers such features as architecture in insuring home loans. It recognizes the advances made in contemporary design, but the design must be practical as well as modern to pass inspection.

Details of construction also are considered carefully. The inspector looks to see whether the windows of the basement are caulked. He also checks the amount of cupboard space in the kitchen against the volume of the room. The water heater must meet definite standards.

Check Fireplace Design Building and architectural magazines are filled with new fireplace designs. Most of them meet F.H.A. requirements. But it is well to compare the style you choose with the regulations. For example, F.H.A. specifies that a masonry fireplace must have a hearth extending 16 inches beyond the front and be 16 inches wider than the fireplace opening.

All these points may seem like unimportant details, but they become extremely important when they block a home sale or mean the difference between a happy home ownership and a series of saddening experiences.

Weather Tips Freezer Owners To Set Controls

By MRS. ELIZABETH D. DEAL
County Home Agent

The weather forecast may be your cue to set the temperature control of your home freezer down to its coldest possible position, the U. S. Department of Agriculture advises. If a heavy storm is on the way — blizzard, sleet, high winds or other conditions that may affect power lines and cause temporary shut-off of electricity, it's wise to set the contents of your freezer as cold as possible. The colder the food, the longer it will stay frozen without electricity.

Another wise precaution is to locate the nearest place that sells dry ice — a local dairy or cold storage warehouse, for example — in case you need to buy some to put in the freezer to keep food frozen. Also locate your nearest locker plant and learn whether you can rush your frozen food there if necessary for safe keeping.

Then, if the power does fail, try to find out how long the shut-off will last. If it's only a few hours, don't worry about the food in the freezer. But don't open the freezer and let in the warmth while the power is off. Last fall during shut-offs following hurricanes, many homemakers made the mistake of opening freezers frequently to see if food was getting soft. With the freezer closed, food usually will stay frozen in a fully loaded cabinet two days. In a cabinet with less than half a load, not more than a day. But spoilage will not start for at least three days.

The only reasons for opening the freezer during a power shut-off are: To put in dry ice, to remove frozen food to a locker plant, or to take out food needed in the emergency.

"What To Do When Your Home Freezer Stops" (leaflet 321) is a guide for this emergency, and is handy to have near the freezer or in some other convenient place. Order copies from: Princess Anne, Virginia, County Agent's Office.

Plan Now For Spring Gardens

Spring is not far off — and don't let it slip up on you.

That's the advice to gardeners from Albert S. Beecher, associate horticulturist at VPI. He says the wise home owner will take advantage of the winter months to prepare for spring and summer gardening jobs.

Now is a good time to check all garden equipment and make sure it is ready for the gardening season. Do not wait until the last minute to overhaul the power lawn mower or garden tractor. Sharpen such tools as hoes, shovels, trowels, and pruning equipment.

How about the outdoor garden furniture? Does it need a coat of paint? Or if your yard lacks garden furniture, why not make a picnic table or some garden chairs this winter? Furniture helps to make your outdoor living area more livable.

Paint your garden stakes. Don't wait until next summer. Now is an ideal time to make an inventory of your home grounds to see what needs to be done to complete the landscaping. Decide what trees, shrubs, and flowers you want to buy for the coming year, and place your order with your nurseryman or seedsmen early. An early visit to the nursery will give you first choice of the available stock. Your nurseryman also can give you more attention now than he will be able to give you during the rush opening business.

Check bulbs in storage. Inspect tubers of dahlias to see if the moisture conditions are right. Sprinkle if too dry. Check all bulbs, corms, etc., and cut off portions which show decay and dust with sulphur.

JAFFE BACK AFTER BROTHERHOOD MEETING Henry I. Jaffe has returned after a visit to Randolph-Macon College, where he and Peter Mellette represented the State Chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. They were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Moreland, the occasion being an address by Mr. Mellette to the students at assembly in observance of National Brotherhood Week.

Virginia Artists Invited To Exhibit

More than 1,000 Virginia artists have been invited to participate in the "16th Exhibition of Virginia Artists" to be held at the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts in Richmond beginning April 29 and continuing through May 29. Leslie Cheek, Jr., director, has announced.

The competition is open to all artists born in Virginia, now living in Virginia (including the armed forces), or who have formerly resided in Virginia for a period of at least five years. Entry forms are available from the museum for all artists in these categories whether or not they are new included on the museum mailing list. It was pointed out that eligible entries are original paintings, sculpture in any medium, all types of graphic art, personally designed crafts in metal, textile, wood and pottery which have been completed since March, 1953, and not previously exhibited at the Virginia Museum, according to museum officials.

No more than three entries may be made by any one artist. The jury, composed of Bartlett H. Hayes, Jr., director, Addison Gallery of American Art; William Reinbach, painter; and William Zorach, sculptor, will have complete discretion as to which work and the number of those submitted which may be properly included in the exhibition. The decisions of the jury will be final in all cases.

Entry blanks should be mailed not later than March 1, and March 11 is the last day that art works may be presented. It was noted. Members of the Virginia Museum may enter their works free of charge.
